

English 1313: Introduction to Writing about Literature Fall 2019

ENGL: 1313 CRN: 17086

Location: Hudspeth 300

Instructor: Aarin K. Walston

Office: Hudspeth room 215

Phone: Number provided on Black Board on Home Page

Email: akwalston@utep.edu

Office Hours: Monday 2-5, Wednesday 2-4, and by appointment.

Texts

Literature the Human Experience (MANDATORY)

The Shorter 12th Edition

Richard Abcarian, Marvin Klotz, Samuel Cohen

978-1-319-05471-7

Course Overview

The purpose of this course is to introduce students to the genres of poetry and the short story.

Some of the questions we will be asking and answering throughout the semester are:

- How does the literary discourse community use conventions and genre to create arguments that are debatable, productive, and valuable to the discourse community's conversation?
- Through literary and critical analysis, how does literature influence the way we approach conflict and create a resolution?
- How can writing about literature make us better thinkers and writers?
- How do we enter into conversation with the text while forming a cohesive and solid argument?

Course Objectives

- Students will leave the course with an understanding of poetic terms and how they function in the analytical process. Students will recognize rhetorical choices made by authors and how these choices persuade and inform the audience through use of tone and language structure.

English 1313: Writing About Literature Syllabus

- Students will be able to explicate a poem by using both formalist techniques and analysis of imaginary language.
- Students will be able to pinpoint arguments from secondary sources through close reading and deconstruction.
- Students will improve their writing skills in organization and structuring of their argument and thus strengthening logos in their writing.
- Students will learn how to introduce textual evidence and explicate why their chosen textual evidence advances the scholarly conversation.
- Students will learn how to use secondary sources to help their ethos in creating a substantive argument.
- Students will learn how to use and recognize rhetorical devices used by scholars in literary discourse communities to understand and strengthen their own arguments.

Please note that some of the texts we will be reading in this course contain violence, derogatory language, and imagery that may be upsetting. Literature is a reflection of society, a mirror of humanity, and many of these issues are still with us today. This is a college course and we are all adults, if you do not wish to read these texts-then please consider dropping the class.*

Course Requirements

- In order to answer the above questions, Students are required to submit weekly reading responses due every week at the start of class (Weeks 2-6). These weekly reading responses will address writing prompts or interpretations the student may have about a particular reading. The reading responses must have a word count of 300 words or more. These responses should be thoughtful and display academic professionalism. Reading Responses cannot be turned in after due date. 100 points
- Each Student is required to participate in daily class discussions; our learning process for this course is a group effort and each of you brings a unique perspective to the texts.

English 1313: Writing About Literature Syllabus

Class attendance is required. After each class missed, the student loses 10 points from their participation grade. Participation/Attendance 150 points

- Students will write one 4 to 6-page Literary Analysis paper in the first half of the semester. The student will provide a solid thesis (argument) while using textual evidence to substantiate the argument. Each Student will be allowed to revise the paper for a higher grade. For this revision process, the Student must attach the original paper with my comments to the second draft in order to receive credit. Revisions must be turned in with in the following week. 150 points
- Students will complete an annotated bibliography consisting of six secondary sources which will be used in their Research Paper. 150 points
- Students will write a presentation proposal outlining their presentation which will include format and medium before presentation is approved. 75 points
- Students will present their research finding to their peers. 75 points
- Students will complete a Research Paper using the sources from their annotated bibliography along with one primary text. The Paper must be between 7 to 8 pages and follow MLA formatting. 200 points
- Extra Credit-I will offer a value of only 40 extra credit points throughout the semester. These will be offered throughout the semester at particular times.

Assignments and Grade Values

Reading Responses 5 X 20 points = 100 points

Literary Analysis Paper = 150 points

Class Participation / Attendance = 150 points

Annotated Bibliography = 150 points

Research Paper = 200 points

Presentation Proposal = 75 points

Presentation = 75 points

Total Points Possible 900

English 1313: Writing About Literature Syllabus

Grade Break Down

814-900 = A

725-813 = B

634-724 = C

545-633 = D

544 and Below = F

Accommodations:

Your success in this class is important to me. We will all need accommodations because we all learn differently. If there are aspects of this course that prevent you from learning or exclude you, please let me know as soon as possible. Together we'll develop strategies to meet both your needs and the requirements of the course. I also encourage you to visit the Center for Accommodations and Support Services (CASS) in room 106, Union East Building or contact them at 747-5148 or cass@utep.edu. If you need official accommodations, you have a right to have these met. There are also a range of resources on campus, including the Writing Center, Counseling Center, Military Student Success Center and Academic Advising Center.

Academic Integrity:

The University of Texas at El Paso prides itself on its standards of academic excellence. In the classroom and in all other academic activities, students are expected to uphold the highest standards of academic integrity. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, collusion, the submission for credit of any work or materials that are attributable in whole or in part to another person, taking an examination for another person, and any act designed to give unfair advantage to a student or the attempt to commit such acts. Visit the Office of Dean of Students Instructors are required to report the suspected academic dishonesty to the Office of Student Affairs.

Military Students:

If you are a military student (veteran, dependent, active) please visit the Military Student Success Center. I also recognize the complexities of being a student veteran. If you are a student veteran, please inform me if you need special accommodations. Drill schedules, calls to active duty, complications with GI Bill disbursement, and other unforeseen military and veteran-related developments can complicate your academic life. If you make me aware of a complication, I will do everything I can to assist you or put you in contact with university staff who are trained to assist you.

English 1313: Writing About Literature Syllabus

Course Policies

- Deadlines – Assignment due dates are well marked on the syllabus and, unless a scheduling adjustment is made by me prior to the deadline, they are firm. I do not accept late work.
- Reading Responses are due at the beginning of Class. They cannot be turned in after class.
- All work for the course must be completed in good order and on time in order to pass the course. In other words, you cannot simply skip an assignment, take the F, and expect to pass. Students must make every effort to submit each assignment.
- Papers must be typed and double-spaced, with 1" margins. The font must be 12 pts and in Times New Roman. Papers should have your name, the course number, and the date in the upper left hand corner. The title should be centered below this and the first paragraph should begin, indented, below the title. All written work should be in MLA format.
- All major assignments are due by 11 p.m. on Saturdays. You will need to submit your paper through Black board under the Assignment's turn in Section.
- Please turn off cell phones for the duration of class. Students are required to remain in the classroom once the class has begun, except in a real emergency. I reserve the right to count you absent if you cannot comply with this policy.
- Attendance to class is necessary to passing any class. Since we meet twice a week, I will allow students 4 unexcused absences. At the fifth unexcused absence, the student will lose all 150 participation points. I also expect you to be here on time. Each time you are late to class you will lose 5 points from your participation points total. Please do not do outside class work during our class sessions. I will count you doing this as a missed class session.

English 1313: Writing About Literature Syllabus

- I do not drop students-that is your decision. If you feel you need to drop the class, the process will be entirely up to you. But please keep in mind, I am here to help you succeed, if you are having problems please come and see me before you take this action.
- Please use your UTEP email to contact me. I do not open emails from students using an email outside of the UTEP system. If you have never used your UTEP email, please contact the technology department and have them set you up with one.
- When sending an email, please include a subject matter and use professionalism in the language and tone.

Please note the Syllabus is Subject to change.

Aug 26th Classes Begin

Sept 2nd Labor Day No Classes

Sept 11th Fall Census

Oct 4th Graduation Application Deadline

Nov 1st Drop/Withdraw Deadline

Nov 28th and 29th Thanksgiving Holiday-no classes

Dec 6th Dead Day

Dec 18th Grades Due

Dec 19th Grades Posted

English 1313: Writing About Literature Syllabus
