Course Description:
This class will examine sociological perspectives on gender by discussing the intersections of race, nationality, class, sexuality, and gender. We will begin by exploring gender as a socially constructed form of identity, in particular looking at the social forces at work to produce gender identities in individuals. We will discuss the social structural aspects of gender and examine the concepts of oppression and patriarchy in relation to gender. We will look at how raced, classed, and gendered identities and structures interact with social institutions such as the family, work and the economy. Finally, we will examine contemporary global politics and gender, concluding with a discussion of social protest and social change.

Objectives:
1. Examine the impact of gender on individuals’ historical and contemporary agency, and how the ability to express agency has shaped people’s lives in various settings.
2. Analyze and critique ideological assumptions underlying social institutions and systems of representation, including but not limited to assumptions regarding gender, race/ethnicity, nationality, disability, age, and sexual orientation.
3. Assess the strengths and weaknesses of various gendered positions, methods of research and gendered beliefs.

Required Course Materials:

Additional readings relevant to topics under discussion may be assigned throughout the semester and will be available on Bb, via email, or distributed in-class.

Assignments:  Grading Scale:
Discussion Questions (45%)  A  90-100%
In-class assignments (25%)  B  80-89%
Research Assignment: Gender Interview (10%)  C  70-79%
Midterm (10%)  D  60-69%
Final Reflection paper (10%)  F  59% and below

Discussion Question(s): 45%
This semester you will write one substantive discussion question for that day’s assigned reading. You will ALSO provide context for your substantive question by writing at least two paragraphs that help your reader (and classmates) understand the origin of your question. For instance, inform your reader why you asked this particular question. What was it about the reading for that day that helped you generate it? Please make your question and explanation focused and concise. Your submission should be between 350-400 words (1 page, single-spaced). (Assignment based on idea from Patricia Hill Collins’ syllabus on Intersectionality)

Please include the following on this assignment: Date of assignment along with number and title of reading.

In-class assignments: 25%
This semester you’ll be completing a series of in-class assignments. Each in-class assignment is worth up to 10 points. A total of 9 in-class assignments will be submitted for credit this semester. The average of these will be your total in-class assignment grade for the semester. This work will usually be completed in a small group setting during our regular class time. Assignments may be: responses to short clips/films and current events/news, larger questions addressing the topics for that week. Although the assignments may be discussed/completed within a small group setting students will be graded/given credit for assignments on an individual basis. Students need to present in class for credit to be received for the day.

Research assignment: Gender Interview: 10%
This semester you will be conducting a gender interview with someone who is 18 years of age or older. You will be involved in choosing a topic and in creating an interview guide that you will use for your interview. You will record responses from your interview and submit those along with a 2-3 page reflection paper from that experience. I will provide you with a detailed format of the assignment in class at a later date.

Midterm Exam: 10%
There will be one exam this semester. The exam will cover assigned readings, and additional information covered during class lectures, etc. The exam will be administered in-class and may consist of 2 short answer questions and one long essay question. The exam will be worth up to 100 points.

Make-Up Exam Policy:  Make-up exams are strongly discouraged, and WILL ONLY BE ADMINISTERED WITH THE SUBMISSION OF A UNIVERSITY EXCUSED ABSENCE (i.e. written excuse and signed by a medical doctor or a UTEP official).

Final Reflection Paper: 10%
A final 3-page reflection paper is assigned for this course. I will provide you with a detailed format of the assignment in class at a later date. The final reflection paper will be worth up to 100 points.

Assigned Readings:
There is a significant amount of reading assigned for this course and you are required to complete all assigned readings as well as participate in class discussion. You are encouraged to attend every class if you expect to do well in this course. If you miss a class you should ask a classmate for the information. Please DO NOT ask me for this information. It is your responsibility to see me in reference to absences. I will NOT drop students from the course. If a student chooses to drop the course, it is the student's responsibility to do so. Failure to do so will result in an "F" for the course.

Classroom Behavior:
You are expected to complete the reading assignments for each class, be prepared for class, and not engage with electronic devices (unless it’s your laptop and your taking notes for class). Please note that throughout the academic semester we will be discussing a number of social issues that impact our lives. With that said, I encourage you to voice your ideas/perspectives in an open and respectful manner. Likewise, I ask that you remain respectful and considerate of other people’s ideas/perspectives.

Copying & Plagiarism:
The materials used in this course are copyrighted. Course materials include and are not limited to: syllabi, quizzes, exams, course assignments, review sheets, outlines, lecture notes, and power points. Since these materials are copyrighted you do not have permission to copy them, unless I expressly grant you permission.
Plagiarism is commonly defined as passing off as one’s own the ideas, words, writings, etc., that belong to another. Therefore, you are committing plagiarism if you copy someone’s work without attributing it to the original author, and turn it in as your own, even if you should have the permission of that person. Plagiarism is one of the most serious academic sins, because it destroys the trust among colleagues without which research cannot be safely communicated.

Exceptional Circumstances:
Please inform me of any medical conditions you believe I should be aware of (if you feel it is appropriate/or feel comfortable doing so), so that proper measures can be taken in the unlikely event that an in-class emergency may occur.

ADA Policy:
The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you have a disability and need classroom accommodations, please contact The Center for Accommodations and Support Services (CASS) at 747-5148, or by email to cass@utep.edu, or visit their office located in UTEP Union East, Room 106. For additional information, please visit the CASS website at www.sa.utep.edu/cass. CASS’ Staff are the only individuals who can validate and if need be, authorize accommodations for students with disabilities.
