About this Class

This course is designed to provide students with a basic overview and understanding of the discipline of sociology, which is the scientific study of human behavior in society. Throughout the semester we will focus on a number of sociological concepts, theories, and research. We will also be discussing a broad range of social issues and the different sociological theories used to examine these. The overall objective of the course is for you to gain a general knowledge base that allows you to critically examine and understand the social issues that impact our lives.

Learning Objectives

Upon successful completion of Sociology 1301, students should be able to:

- Examine the influence of group membership on the individual.
- Explain the research process(es) used in sociology.
- Assess the dimensions of social stratification in U.S. society.
- Produce sociological explanations for social problems.

Attendance and Participation

You are highly encouraged to attend every class if you expect to do well in this course. It is your responsibility to see me in reference to concerns regarding this course. I will NOT drop students from the course. If you choose to drop the course, it is your responsibility to do so. Failure to do so will result in a grade of "F" for the course.

Grading

Midterm Exam 35%

Your midterm exam will be made up of a series of short-response questions. The exam will cover assigned readings, and additional information covered during class lectures, etc. and will be worth up to 100 points.

Final Exam 35%

There will be two parts to your final exam. Part A will examine your Sociological Imagination. You will be provided the opportunity to complete this assignment prior to your final exam during Week 13. I will provide further instructions for this assignment in class at a later date. You will submit Part A during your scheduled final exam. Part B will be completed during your scheduled final exam period. Your final exam will be worth up to 100 points.

Participation 30%

Your participation grade will be comprised of unannounced quizzes/ in-class assignments administered on any given class day. The average of your quizzes/in-class assignments will comprise your participation grade for the semester. These assignments will facilitate your participation during class discussions, which are also fundamental to your success during the semester.

Make-Up Assignment Policy: Make-up assignments/in-class quizzes and exams are strongly discouraged, and WILL ONLY BE ADMINISTERED WITH THE SUBMISSION OF A UNIVERSITY EXCUSED ABSENCE.

Classroom Behavior

You are expected to complete the reading assignments for each class, be prepared for class, and turn off electronic devices, such as i-pods, computers. You may place cell phones on silent mode, but I discourage you from texting/messaging during class.

Copying and Plagiarism

The materials used in this course are copyrighted. Course materials include and are not limited to: syllabi, quizzes, exams, course assignments, review sheets, outlines, lecture notes, and power points. Since these materials are copyrighted you do not have permission to copy them, unless I expressly grant you permission.

Plagiarism is commonly defined as passing off as one's own the ideas, words, writings, etc., that belong to another. Therefore, you are committing plagiarism if you copy someone's work without attributing it to the original author, and turn it in as your own, even if you should have the permission of that person. Plagiarism is one of the most serious academic sins, because it destroys the trust among colleagues without which research cannot be safely communicated.

Exceptional Circumstances

Please inform me of any medical conditions you believe I should be aware of (if you feel it is appropriate/ feel comfortable doing so), so that proper measures can be taken in the unlikely event that an in-class emergency may occur.

ADA Policy

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you have a disability and need classroom accommodations, please contact The Center for Accommodations and Support Services (CASS) at 747-5148, or by email to cass@utep.edu, or visit their office located in UTEP Union East, Room 106. For additional information, please visit the CASS website at www.sa.utep.edu/cass. CASS' Staff are the only individuals who can validate and if need be authorize accommodations for students with disabilities.

Fall 2018 Semester Schedule

Assigned readings should be completed prior to class meetings. Please note: Instructor reserves the right to modify the schedule/syllabus at any time during the course of the semester—any modifications will be announced during class and/or through Bb.
