Course Description and Objectives:

This introductory course will guide students in an exploration of the diverse social institutions around the world classified as “religions”. Major World Religions courses and textbooks are often limited to learning about only the most salient religious traditions. This course strives to include various new religious movements and indigenous religious traditions in an attempt to fill the gap in the traditional ‘World Religions’ course.

(3) You must use the Society of Biblical Literature Style Guide; I have provided the Society of Biblical Literature Style Guide Student Supplement in the Research Essay folder. In the classroom and in all other academic activities, students are expected to uphold the highest standards of academic integrity. Proven violations of the detailed regulations, as printed in the Handbook of Operating Procedures \(HOP\) (available through the Dean of Students Office) may result in sanctions ranging from disciplinary probation, to failing a grade on the work in question, to a failing grade in the course, to suspension or dismissal, among others.” (“Academic Standing,” for more information, please visit <http://academics.utep.edu/Default.aspx?tabid=61879&submenuheader=1>)
