INSTRUCTOR INTRODUCTION
Clive Cochran has practiced graphic design since 1965. His experience covers a wide range of design projects for a broad spectrum of local, regional, and national clients. Over four decades his work has included advertising design in all media, identity design, package design, corporate communications, annual reports, trade show exhibit design, and more. During this time his work has been recognized with numerous awards and has been published in many trade journals, books, and textbooks, including Print Magazine, Graphis Posters, Dynamic Graphics, and among others. He is an American Advertising Federation Silver Medalist. He was previously Associate Creative Director at MithoffBurton Partners, a marketing and communications firm. Since 1985, he has lectured in Graphic Design at UTEP. He received a BA from UTEP in 1976.

COURSE DESCRIPTION
ARTG 4306 Graphic Design 5
This advanced communication course emphasizes individual direction and achievement. Student will develop solutions to challenging and complex problems in graphic design. Projects are chosen to realistically reflect the range of assignments designers encounter in a studio environment, agency or corporate design situation (concepts will need to communicate to a specific audience).

Course style can be described as a “hands on” studio/lab with demonstrations, lectures, and in-class work. Lecture will consist of discussion, demonstration, case studies, and appropriate examples. Critique evaluations are an important part of the delivery process. Selected readings, where appropriate, will be provided. In-class work is structured to provide individualized instruction and assistance with the design process.

This course will require significant additional work outside of class. Students should anticipate spending five hours and 40 minutes in class per week and an average of six or more additional hours outside of class per week to satisfactorily complete the assigned project requirements.

COURSE PREREQUISITE INFORMATION
Prerequisite for ARTG 4306 Graphic Design 5 is ARTG 3326 Graphic Design 4 (Typography) with a grade of C or better. Students taking ARTG 4306 Graphic Design 5 are required to have a foundation understanding of typography as a design element, identity design (to include logo design), an understanding of how to apply and combine text and headlines within an organized (grid) format, the elements of design, including principals of composition, style, and content. Additionally, students must have developed fundamental drawing skills and a basic survey knowledge of art history. These skills and knowledge sets are provided through the Department of Art's foundation course sequence including: required prerequisites ARTG 3316, ARTG 3326, ART 1301, ART 1302, ART 1303, and suggested completion of ART 1304, ARTH 1305 and ARTH 1306. Student's seeking a prerequisite waiver must contact the instructor.
COURSE GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

Goals and objectives targeted in ARTG 4306 Graphic Design 5 include:

• A practical and “real world” introductory experience in the development, (including research, planning, and conceptualizing), and execution of a graphic design assignment within a specific context. This context must consider the needs and goals of either actual or hypothetical “clients”, and a specific audience, (actual or hypothetical).

• Development of improved self-expression, creative thinking, and planning skills.

• Improved competence in the concept and execution of assigned projects.

  Note: Competence is defined, for this course, as a developed understanding and mastery of skills and knowledge needed to complete a task to a successful beginning level. Competency can be demonstrated while designing a project, researching, etc. Competency is a measure of how well you understand and use a process or skill.

  Confidence is defined as a student’s willingness and self-trust in their own abilities to use the skills and processes learned during this course. Confidence is the element of each student’s progress that allows the student to know when help is needed and when it is not. Confidence is built throughout the semester and is demonstrated by the way that a student develops skills or competencies and their willingness to utilize these new skills. Once the student has worked with the process and starts to understand its abilities and procedures uncertainty is replaced with a sense of control and excitement for the potential of the process as a path for creation.

ASSIGNMENTS

Assignments in Graphic Design 5 are designed to replicate, as much as possible, the type of projects encountered by a working designer in a typical graphic design practice. You will be assigned specific client work for one or more clients. These may be hypothetical clients or actual clients, such as on-campus organizations, undertaken on a pro-bono basis. There will be approximately four to five assignments, each presenting a different graphic design “problem”. Complexity of each assignment may vary. Assignments may include but are not limited to: identity design, mixed media print advertising or promotional campaign, package design, collateral design, exhibit design, way-finding, and more. Assignment briefs containing specific information and client details will be provided.

IDENTIFY YOUR WORK

All work must be clearly identified with the name of the designer, (your name), and the course description, (Graphic Design 5, Special Problems), semester, (Spring, 2015), the date, and a brief description of the project. If a project requires several elements, each must be individually identified.

The proper format is a label attached to the back of the work. When a label is not practical, such as on a package design, then the information should be set discretely as a part of the work. Specific examples will be discussed.

If work is not identified, it cannot be evaluated and may be discarded: No name, no credit.

RETRIEVAL

Work must be retrieved on the day it is returned in class. If you are absent when work is returned, the work will be left in the classroom. If the work is not retrieved in a timely manner, it will be discarded. If you cannot be present when work is returned, please contact me to make arrangements to retrieve your work. Work cannot be released to someone other than the designer without written consent.

GRADING STANDARDS AND CRITERIA

Grades are based on a four point system, where A = 4 points, B = 3 points, C = 2 points, D = 1 point, and F = no points. The final course grade is based on the combined average grade of all assignments, according to the percentage weight of each. Also, see the criteria listed below under Punctuality, attendance, and other criteria.
A Outstanding work and is reflective of works and performance of exceptional ability and absolute quality.

B Above average performance, going beyond expectation.

C Average and adequate work that fulfills requirements and expectations (the majority of students start at this level). This is the minimum grade required to continue on to the next graphic design level.

D Represents less than average performance and is considered underachieved. Credit given.

E Unacceptable performance. The student will receive no credit.

F Will be considered for students completing satisfactory or better work and having serious legitimate situations beyond their control requiring additional time to complete the course requirements. All “I” grades are at the discretion of the instructor and the approval of the department chair and the office of the Dean.

W The withdrawal option must be completed on or before the final drop date (April 6, 2015). Students hold the full responsibility for withdrawing from this course if that procedure is elected. The instructor may recommend a student to withdraw but is not responsible to withdraw a student from the class.

Graphic Design 5 is a grade-based course and is not available for audit or pass/fail options. The final grade in this course will be determined by the total value of assignments and the finished portfolio combined, based on the percentages provided on the attached assignment sheet. Evaluation criteria:

1. Assignments are evaluated according to both concept and execution. In general, except where noted, both have equal weight in determining the grade for that assignment. Good ideas cannot overcome poor execution, and strong execution will not save a weak idea. Concept is determined by four related criteria: originality, clarity, relevance, and memorability. Execution is determined by overall craft, layout, typographic treatment, color treatment, thoroughness, and presentation. When several pieces or a series are assigned, consistency and coordination are also considered. Note that presentation plays a significant role. The care and concern shown in preparing work for presentation can determine the success or failure of the project.

2. Anticipate work-in-progress critiques, when appropriate, on projects outlined above. Note that work presented during in-progress critiques will be factored into the final grade for those projects. Therefore the final grade for each project includes not only the final, formal critique, but also work leading up to that critique.

3. In addition to the above criteria, class participation, attendance, and performance improvement will be considered in the final evaluation. When the overall grade is on the cusp, these factors can play a positive or negative role.

Critiques are an essential part of the evaluation process. Everyone is expected to participate in critique of their own work and the work of others.

PUNCTUALITY, ATTENDANCE, AND OTHER CRITERIA

1. Students are expected to finish projects by the deadlines set. Work turned in after class critiques is considered late and will be graded accordingly. A letter grade will be deducted for each day that an assignment is overdue. One half a grade point will be deducted for work that is tardy for critique. See the note below regarding punctuality.

Participation in critiques is mandatory. A letter grade will be deducted for failing to attend in the critique. Even if the work is not ready, it is to your benefit to attend the critique. A major part of a studio class is participation with energy, intellectual curiosity and enthusiasm. Non-participation in critique and discussion is considered poor classroom performance.

2. The 4th absence in the course of a semester will lower final grade by one letter. Five unexcused absences will result in a failing grade for the course. Fifteen minutes late to class constitutes one half of an absence. The student is responsible for any information missed while away from class. Attending class but not working in class, and early withdrawal from a class are all regarded as being absent. Participation in all brainstorming, group discussions, and critiques is the nature of a studio class. It cannot be made up or substituted.
3. Individual consultation with the instructor is always welcome. Students are encouraged to discuss with the instructor progress of their projects. When the instructor is unavailable, please correspond via e-mail.

Where possible, accommodations will be made for students who wish to work beyond class time.

A FURTHER NOTE ABOUT PUNCTUALITY

The tardiness policy is clear. Two unexcused late arrivals equals one unexcused absence. Four unexcused absences results in the loss of one letter grade for the semester. This policy applies during critiques as well as throughout the normal class schedule. However, be aware that during a critique, an additional lateness penalty applies. Any work introduced after the critique has begun will be regarded as late. One half-letter grade (1/2 a grade point) will be deducted from the grade earned for that assignment.

A few minutes is always allowed at the beginning of the critique period for last minute adjustments, etc. It is a time to catch your breath, gather your thoughts. However, once the critique has begun, it should not be interrupted. Tardiness at any time is disruptive, unprofessional, and discourteous. This is even more pertinent during critique. Late work is unfair to those whose work is ready on time, and late work disrupts the critique process, as the entire class must now consider work that it has not had the opportunity to review.

Note that this policy applies to unexcused absence or tardiness. As a rule, only personal or family emergencies constitute a valid excuse for absence or tardiness. Things happen. Everyone has had the experience of getting stuck in an unanticipated traffic jam, or car trouble, illness, etc. Remember that excuses should be documented.

CLASS CONDUCT

A successful career in graphic design requires more than talent, skill, and knowledge. By definition, a professional designer observes professional standards. Among other things, these standards demand a commitment to the work and respectful, courteous behavior towards one’s colleagues, clients, competitors, service providers, and audience — in other words, everyone. Professional standards should always prevail in the workplace, the studio, and the classroom. Without an understanding of professional standards, no designer, no matter how skilled, is likely to succeed.

• Students enrolled in this course are expected to behave in a professional manner. Your classmates are your colleagues; treat them with the respect they, and you, deserve. Disruptive and/or inattentive behavior is inappropriate; as a rule, such behavior will be treated as an absence.

• Class time is devoted to the development and execution of class projects, to lecture, class discussion, demonstrations, and critiques. Projects executed solely out of class will not be accepted. Participation in the collaborative group environment of the studio is essential to the successful completion of this course.

• Class time, including both studio and lab time, is provided for work on projects assigned in this course. Work on projects assigned in other courses, without permission, will be treated as an absence.

• When using the lab, always observe the posted lab rules. Never enter a studio or a lab when another class is in session without the instructor’s permission, (as a rule, it is best to get that permission ahead of time.

• Students must act in a safe and reasonable way at all times in the studio and computer lab.

• Talking on a cell phone, texting, instant messaging, tweeting, etc. are disruptive and disrespectful and will be treated as an absence.

• Surfing, unless it is related to research for a class project, is inappropriate.

• I-pods, MP3 players, and other personal entertainment devices are allowed during work periods, so long as the volume is adjusted so that it doesn’t disturb your colleagues. In other words, if your neighbor can hear your music, it’s too loud. Turn it down or turn it off.
• I-pods, MP3 players, and other personal entertainment devices are not allowed during lecture, demonstrations, class discussion, or critique. Remove the ear buds and pay attention. Remember that inattentive behavior will be treated as an absence.

• The class meets for two hours and 50 minutes. Breaks will be provided. Leaving early, without permission, will be treated as an absence. Failure to return promptly from a break will be treated as an absence.

• Cell phones should be silenced, turned off, or put on the vibrate or silent mode. If you absolutely need a cell phone for an emergency, please alert the instructor.

• Plagiarism in any form will not be tolerated. Work completed in another class may not be substituted for work assigned in this class, and will be treated as plagiarism. See the note concerning University policy below.

• Any questions regarding safe and reasonable behavior and practices should be directed to the instructor and only the instructor.

Cheating/Plagiarism: Cheating is unethical and illegal. Plagiarism is using information or images in a project without giving credit to the source of that information or image. Do not submit work under your name that you did not do yourself. You may not submit work for this class that you did for another class. If you are found to be cheating or plagiarizing, you will be subject to disciplinary action, per UTEP catalog policy. Refer to http://www.utep.edu/dos/acadintg.htm for further information.

Instructor’s note: Plagiarism occurs when someone attempts to pass off someone else’s work as one’s own. This includes tracing or copying images and/or ideas from other sources. While accidental duplication of ideas may be unavoidable, intentional copying is unethical, unprofessional, and unacceptable. Under certain circumstances, plagiarism may have legal consequences. For the purpose of this course, anyone caught plagiarizing will receive a failing grade for the course.

MATERIALS AND PERSONAL EQUIPMENT

Students taking ARTG 4306 Graphic Design 5 will need to purchase materials and some basic equipment in order to successfully complete this course.

External drive to store your digital files. Example: USB keys, i-pods, etc.

100 sheet box of Epson photo quality ink jet paper, 13”x19”, 3-star. Do not use glossy photo paper.

Appropriate drawing, assembly, and presentation materials, including pencils, pens, sketch and layout pads for thumbnails, T-square, triangles, cork-backed ruler, self-sealing cutting surface, matte knife, utility knife, spare blades, adhesives, and mounting boards, etc. Note the preferred format for mounting boards is black, 15” by 20” board. Occasionally, neutral colors other than black are appropriate, depending on context, project, etc.

Additional materials may be required to complete packaging or other assignments, depending upon the designer’s specific needs.

DISABILITIES:

I will make any reasonable accommodations for students with limitations due to disabilities, including learning disabilities. Please see me personally before or after class in the first two weeks or make an appointment, to discuss any special needs you might have. If you have a documented disability and require specific accommodations, you will need to contact the Disabled Student Services Office in the East Union Bldg., Room 106 within the first two weeks of classes. The Disabled Student Services Office can also be reached in the following ways:
