Attendance Policy

Students will be given daily grades for participation in class. If a student is not in class (including excessive tardiness), s/he will not receive a grade for that class period. Students with three or more unexcused absences will not receive a grade higher than a B. Of course, students will be excused for university-related events as long as they are approved by me at least two weeks in advance via email correspondence.

Course Description

A playing experience focusing on development of skills needed by professional commercial musicians.

Course Objectives

1. Developing music performance skills within a collaborative environment.
2. Develop music skills through listening, analysis and performance.
3. Develop an understanding of music in an historical and cultural context.

Grading

You will be graded on your preparedness and conduct at performances and rehearsals. There may be other assignments given throughout the semester.
