Course Goals

To study and comprehend the scene design problems of a play production through the standard classroom and lab work. Areas of focus include: drafting, design and painting techniques of scenery and properties; model building, rendering, chronologic book and communication of ideas.

Text book:

- The Dramatic Imagination: Jones. ISBN: 9780878305926 (suggested not required)
- Design and Drawing for the Theatre, Pecktal (suggested not required)

Other reading:

- The importance to be Ernest: Oscar Wilde (required)
- Euridice: Sarah Rulh (Required)

Course Policies

1.Attendance: Regular attendance is expected. You cannot learn/participate if you are not here and your fellow students are deprived of your insights and contributions. You are responsible for material communicated while you are absent. When, in the judgment of the instructor, a student has been absent to such a degree as to impair his or her status relative to credit for the course, the instructor can drop the student from the class with a grade of W before the course drop deadline and with a grade of F after the course drop deadline. In accordance with the university policy this course will excuse a student from attending classes or other required activities, including examinations, for the observance of a religious holy day. The student shall also be excused for time necessary to travel to said Holy day. An institution may not penalize the student for the absence and allows for the student to take an exam or complete an assignment from which the student is excused.

Participation in official university business must be documented by a written notice from the sponsoring faculty or staff member prior to the event. Such students must present their related plans to the instructor in writing by the end of the second week of class.

2. Student Conduct and Discipline: The University of Texas at El Paso expects its students to maintain complete honesty and integrity academic pursuits. I expect all our discussions, including any that may occur outside of class, to be conducted in a respectful and professional manner.

Any student who commits an act of academic dishonesty is subject to discipline. Academic dishonesty includes, and is not limited to cheating, plagiarism, collusion, the submission for credit of any work or materials that are attributable in whole or in part to another person, taking an examination for another person, and any act designed to give unfair advantage to a student or the attempt to commit such acts.

Proven violations of the detailed regulations, as printed in the Handbook of Operating Procedures (HOP) can result in sanctions ranging from disciplinary probation, to a failing grade on the work in question, to a failing grade in the course, to suspension or dismissal, among others.

Grade breakdown and scale:

Grading:

Grades are based on overall achievement, understanding, improvement, and your level of engagement in class. You will be exploring and discovering the various areas of the Scenic design process throughout the semester, and will be required to present your discoveries. It is important that you have your work completed on time in a presentable manner.

Final grades will be calculated using the following scale:

A 100% - 90% Exceptional

Provides imaginative and thorough solutions to problems. Produces work that transcends the expected and shows continuous and exceptional growth. Exhibits timely preparation and submission of classwork, and regular constructive participation in critiques and discussions.

B 89.9% - 80% Above Average

Provides good workable solutions to problems showing some insight into problem-solving. Shows continuous above-average growth. Exhibits timely preparation and submission of classwork, and regular constructive participation in critiques and discussions.

C 79.9% - 70%. Average

Provides appropriate solutions to problems showing some growth and understanding of basic ideas and methods. Most classwork is prepared and submitted in a timely manner. Participates in some critiques and/or discussions.

D 69.9% - 60% Below Average Work

Provides inconsistent solutions to problems, shows little growth, does not show a consistent understanding of basic ideas and methods. Classwork often not prepared or submitted in a time manner. Rarely participates in critiques and/or discussions.

F < 60%. Unacceptable Work

Will not meet requirements for degree fulfillment. Shows little or no growth. Shows little or no understanding of the basic ideas and methods taught in class. Work is not prepared and presented on time or at all. Rarely participates in discussion.

Deadlines:

I understand that sometimes life makes it difficult for you to complete all of your assignments on time, but learning to manage your time so that you can meet deadlines is an important skill for any theatre practitioner. No late work will be accepted without prior authorization. Arrangements must be made 48 hours in advance when possible.* If you encounter an emergency which prevents you from completing your work, please notify me promptly.

Course Requirements

1. All quizzes and selected additional course material will be in class or expected as home work.
2. Students are required to attend two University Theatre Productions (I Am Not Your Perfect Mexican Daughter and The River Bride)

FALL 2025 PRODUCTION DETAILS

"I Am Not Your Perfect Mexican Daughter"

Julia Reyes isn't your perfect Mexican daughter, she's a brave, sharp Chicago teen torn between her immigrant parents' expectations and her dream to write. After her sister's tragic death, Julia's world unravels as she faces grief, mental health struggles, and the pressure of tradition. Navigating high school and poverty, she turns to her journal to share her truth and survive, it reminds us our dreams are real—and they matter. Raw and powerful, I Am Not Your Perfect Mexican Daughter challenges us to speak up, seek help, and keep going even when it feels impossible.

“The River Bride”

Set in a Brazilian fishing village along the Amazon, The River Bride unfolds like a haunting fairytale—two sisters, Helena and Belmira, who struggle to be true to each other and themselves, are thrown when a mysterious man is drawn from the water’s depths, pulling them into a dance of risk, hope, and long-held secrets. Exploring themes of regret, missed opportunities, and love, The River Bride offers no promises - it demands a silent surrender, a leap into the unseen, where trust may falter. But what if the ever-changing current hides more than it reveals? What is left behind?

Course Communication:

In addition to utilizing the instructor's office hours and appointments, students are encouraged to ask questions by email.

In accordance with FERPA, we will only use your UTEP email address for electronic communication. You are expected to check your email and BlackBoard at least once a day and will be held responsible for all emails or announcements through BlackBoard posted by 9 pm the day before a project is due.

Most assignments in this course will be due at 11:55 on Mondays, giving students an opportunity to ask last minute questions by email or during office hours. For the most part, I will not be answering class related emails on the weekends. Detailed feedback on assignments can be expected within a week of the due date.

Chosen Names and Personal Pronouns:

Everyone has the right to be addressed by the name and pronouns that correspond to their gender identity, including non-binary pronouns, for example: they/them/theirs, ze/zir/zirs, etc. Rosters do not list gender or pronouns so you may be asked to indicate your pronouns and chosen name. Chosen names and pronouns are to be respected at all times in the classroom. Mistakes in addressing one another may happen, so I encourage an environment of openness to correction and learning. I will not, however, tolerate repeated comments which disrespect or antagonize students who have indicated pronouns or a chosen name. If at any point during the semester you would like to be addressed differently, please let me know.

Accommodations:

The University is committed to providing reasonable accommodations and auxiliary services to students, staff, faculty, job applicants, applicants for admissions, and other beneficiaries of University programs, services and activities with documented disabilities in order to provide them with equal opportunities to participate in programs, services, and activities in compliance with sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, and the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990 and the Americans with Disabilities Act Amendments Act (ADAAA) of 2008. Reasonable accommodations will be made unless it is determined that doing so would cause undue hardship on the University. Students requesting accommodation based on a disability must register with the UTEP Center for Accommodations and Support Services (CASS). Contact the Center for Accommodations and Support Services at 915-747-5148, or email them at cass@utep.edu, or apply for accommodations online via the CASS portal.

Course Resources:

UTEP Technology Support Center: The Technology Support Center (TSC) offers UTEP students access to state of the art computing equipment and specialized software for academic needs.

The TSC is also home to the PC Clinic, which offers computer software repair services to students at no cost. The center is located in the library, room 300 (747-5257).

Student Health Center: UTEP Student Health Center is here to meet the health care needs of all students so they can focus on their studies. As a student you have paid a medical service fee that allows you to be seen at the clinic as often as needed. Office visits are low cost as well as medications, supplies and any needed lab tests (747-5624).

University Counseling Center: The UTEP University Counseling Center located at 202 Union West can assist you to decide on a career or work through personal concerns. They provide confidential counseling services, assist with stress management, and offer an after-hours crisis support line (747-5302).
