Required Text & Other Resources:

There is no new textbook for this course that you must purchase, but you will need to read chapters from the ACSM textbook used in PT 6406:

- American College of Sports Medicine. ACSM's Resource Manual for Guidelines for Exercise Testing and Prescription. 7th ed. Baltimore, MD: Lippincott, Williams, & Wilkins; 2014. ISBN-13:9781609139568

Additionally, you will need to read chapters in 2 books. Several of these are available for 24-hour loan in Beverly Scarborough's office (Campbell Room 309) – but plan ahead so there is a book available when you need it:

- Mattlin B. Miracle Boy Grows Up: How the Disability Rights Revolution Saved my Sanity. New York, NY: Skyhorse Publishing; 2012.
- Groopman J. How People Prevail in the Face of Illness: The Anatomy of Hope. New York, NY: Random House; 2005.

Also, other required readings (articles or Websites) have been placed on Blackboard.

Every effort will also be made to post any new class materials one week in advance, but that is dependent upon guest lecturers providing them to me in a timely manner. Please remember that they voluntarily speak to our class despite their already very busy schedules.

Finally, as graduate students, you are also expected to identify and use dependable supplemental resources to address course content and assignments as needed. This practice will prepare you for clinical work, where our patients do not arrive with the most recent peer-reviewed articles in their hands to guide your treatment. Constant exploration of resources is an important habit to develop.

Supplementary Resources:

A Physician's Practical Guide to Culturally Competent Care <https://ccm.thinkculturalhealth.hhs.gov/>

Purnell LD. Guide to Culturally Competent Health Care. Philadelphia, PA: FA Davis; 2009. – Available for loan in Beverly Scarborough's office (Room 309).

Failure to attend the entire session and to actively participate in the training will result in loss of the points

NOTE: Overall Course Structure: Given that the content of this course, typical written exams are not a clear indicator of what you have learned and integrated. Therefore, except for a single written exam, you will be evaluated through various assignments. Many assignments will require written products in order to demonstrate your application of the material, and to help you to continue to develop your written communication skills. You will also continue to participate in a community engagement (service-learning) project and observe how course concepts apply in these settings.

Exam and assignments: There are no make-up opportunities for the exam or assignments or attendance at Graduate Student Research EXPO and/or the Rehabilitation Sciences Interpreter-Use Training, except for documented emergency situations. Students should do all required readings prior to each class. Each assignment is due at the start of class on the day that it is due. See Blackboard for instructions/expectations for written assignments.

NO CREDIT WILL BE GIVEN FOR LATE WORK (with the exception of documented emergency situations).

If you get a grade below an 80% on any assignment or exam, you are required to arrange a meeting with me to discuss revised study or writing strategies to improve your performance.

Community Engagement Project: Each person will participate in a community engagement project in during this semester for a total of 10 hours' commitment (not including any orientation, volunteer related paperwork, or the paper you will write about the project) that are spread over 5 or more separate days. Students will participate in the same project that they started in PT 6202.

Community Engagement Project Written Reflection: Instructions are on Blackboard to provide guidance on expectations for the written reflection.

Extra credit option:

You may earn 2 extra credit points on the EXAM if you watch "Murderball" & participate in a verbal reflection session immediately following the movie. This optional session (~2 to 2.5 hours) will likely be scheduled on a Wednesday afternoon, or a Friday afternoon after one of our regularly scheduled classes once the Spanish course is done (but only IF some or all students are interested in this option). Note that this is an excellent movie, but it does include foul language and some sexual references. If a group of students is interested in scheduling a viewing of Murderball for extra credit purposes, please notify Dr. Pechak by November 1 & provide a few times and dates that all students in your cohort are available to participate. We will choose ONE.

Other extra credit options MAY or MAY NOT be offered during the semester.

UTEP DOCTOR OF PHYSICAL THERAPY PROGRAM GRADING SCALE

The following letter grade scale is used for the UTEP DPT Program:

Letter Grade Scale	Numerical Grade Scale
A	90-100
B	80-89
C	75-79
F	Below 75

Course Content: Please see topical outline below

Attendance, Tardiness, Class Participation, and Professional Behaviors Policy:

(this is in addition to what is found in DPT Program Student Handbook, and is specific to Dr Pechak's courses)

ATTENDANCE:

As all program faculty does, I believe that students should demonstrate their commitment to the profession and respect for faculty, guest speakers, and colleagues by attending all classes/labs, and arriving to class on time. I am expected to be at class/labs as scheduled and to be on time; I expect the same from you. I work hard to prepare for classes/labs, and to make them productive active-learning opportunities; I expect you to do your part by being prepared and regularly participating. I do NOT give credit for this...I expect it. Failure to arrive to class prepared and on time, and to not participate actively, and to fail to demonstrate professional behaviors may result in deductions to your final semester grade.

However, congruent with one's ability to request excused time off in the work setting, I permit ONE excused absence of a single class or lab period per course per semester for any reason (single class = 2 hours for PT 5233). In order for your first absence to be excused, you must meet the expectation described further down. HOWEVER (with very rare exceptions [eg, documented serious illness or emergency] that will be considered on a case by case basis) there will be NO accommodations offered for missed class/lab time. Specifically I will NOT offer the opportunity to make up written examinations or offer replacement activities for missed learning activities (eg, Graduate Research EXPO), either in advance or after the scheduled class, or provide individual tutoring for missed content. Additionally, late work caused by your absence will not be accepted. You should make prior arrangements with a classmate to find out what you missed, turn in any work, and/or pick up any hand-outs.

NOTE: If you choose to miss the Sign Language Training and/or the Rehabilitation Sciences Interpreter-Use Training activity and/or the Graduate Student Research EXPO, you WILL lose the points associated with each activity. In the case of a documented emergency or illness, alternate assignments will be substituted for the missed activity or you will receive an Incomplete for the course until you can complete the activity.

In order to be excused from your first missed class or lab, you must do the following:

- Email me at cmpechak@utep.edu at least 2 hours in advance if you will not be attending class or lab. I do not require you to give me a reason, but I expect notice in WRITING by email. A phone call from you or message from one of your classmates is not acceptable.

If you miss a second (or more) class or lab for any reason, it will be considered unexcused unless it is due to documented illness or emergency. In these cases, you should email me and then arrange a meeting with me upon your return to school to discuss why you missed class. Documentation will be required for any additional absence (eg, doctor's note documenting illness or treatment). I will notify you after our meeting and review of your documentation whether or not the absence will be considered excused or unexcused.

Missing 50% or more of a class or lab will be considered an absence.

For each incident of an unexcused absence, 5% will be deducted from your final semester grade.

TARDINESS &/or Early Departure:

I use the clock on the computer to determine when class or lab should start and end. If you expect to arrive late (eg, doctor's appointment), you should notify me in writing by email at least 2 hours in advance. Similarly, if you need to leave class or lab early, I should be notified in writing at least 2 hours prior to the start of class. The advanced notice requirement will be waived for urgent reasons. Each unexcused incidence of tardiness or early departure may result in 1% deduction from your final course grade.

PARTICIPATION and PROFESSIONAL BEHAVIORS:

I expect you to arrive to class and lab prepared and to actively participate while not being disruptive. If you are consistently ill-prepared, not actively participating, and/or being disruptive, I will contact you to meet with me to discuss the problem. Each subsequent incidence of poor preparation, poor participation, and/or disruption may result in 1% deduction from your final semester grade. If I have already given you a formal warning related to poor preparation, poor participation, and/or disruption in a previous course of mine, then there will be no additional warnings; any subsequent incidence may result in 1% deduction from your final semester grade.

NOTE: Modified clinical attire is expected whenever there is a guest speaker scheduled – meaning that nice jeans are allowed with a DPT polo.

Course and Program Policy: Each student is responsible for reviewing and understanding all policies and procedures documented in the most current DPT Student Handbook for his/her cohort. Course policies found in the DPT Student Handbook apply to all courses in the DPT curriculum. The current DPT Student Handbook for each cohort may be found on the DPT Student Resources site on Blackboard. The course policies include very important information about: Written/Computer-based examinations, practical examinations, attendance and participation, professional behavior, academic integrity, accumulated knowledge, and use of electronic devices.

Special Accommodations (ADA): If you have or suspect a disability and need accommodations, you should contact the Center for Accommodations and Support Services (CASS) at 747-5148. You can also e-mail the office at cass@utep.edu or go by their office in Union Building East. For additional information, visit the CASS website at <http://sa.utep.edu/cass/>
