COURSE OVERVIEW

This course is a general overview of the study of international relations. The primary goals of the course are to cover key concepts and theories within the scientific method of studying world politics, increase your familiarity with global issues and problems, and help you develop a better understanding of major foreign policy affairs. We will discuss topics such as international conflict and terrorism, international law, and international political economy. Moreover, through participation in the Statecraft simulation, students take on the roles of foreign policy decision-makers and grapple first-hand with the sorts of tradeoffs and responsibilities that characterize world politics. In doing so, you will increase your ability to think more critically and systematically about international relations.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

I believe, with adequate effort and willingness, all of you are capable of doing well in this course. By the end of this course, you can expect to accomplish the following learning outcomes:

- To recognize major perspectives, levels of analysis, and analytical methods used for the scientific study of international relations.
- To define, understand, and apply major concepts, principles, and practices of international politics.
- To apply and critique a body of factual knowledge and theories relevant to understanding different international political factors and structures.
- To comprehend and evaluate major foreign policy events and issues.
- To recognize and evaluate alternative points of view on historical and contemporary problems in global politics.

Targeted UTEP Edge advantages: Communication, critical thinking, problem solving, social responsibility, and global awareness.

LEARNING MODULES

This course is designed using a modular format—that is, all the materials, lecture notes, submission areas, discussion posts are in one area for a given module.

OBJECTIVES FOR PROFESSIONALISM

It is essential that utmost respect and professionalism be adhered in all exchanges between class members. This is a political science course and we will be at times discussing sensitive and controversial topics. In our discussions, avoid any unnecessary arguments with other class members, such as political polemical arguments (e.g., negative partisan talking points targeting those of opposing ideological perspectives and/or particular political figures) or, even worse, personal attacks on others for having different views. No inappropriate behavior will be tolerated. Unprofessional conduct will be dealt with swiftly through the university and it is at the professor's full discretion to have a student dropped from the course for any inappropriate behavior.

GRADING POLICY

SUGGESTIONS FOR SUCCESS

Keep in mind that this online course is very labor-intensive, particularly since the course covers 16 weeks of course material in a relatively short 8-week period. On the bright side, the 8-week course will be completed in half the time as the full term course and will earn you the same number of credit hours towards graduation. Also keep in mind that although completing a course online might seem easier than attending face-to-face classes on the surface, it actually takes a considerable amount of effort and time to (a) read and comprehend all the course material and (b) type out and turn in the class discussion posts, assignments, and other online class activities. The key to success is to log into our Blackboard course page on a regular basis. As mentioned above, the course is designed in a modular format so each module provides new lecture materials, instructional simulations and games, practice quizzes, discussion posts (posted not only by me but also your peers on a rolling basis), and many other supplementary materials (such as videos, documentaries, and relevant web sources). The course page also includes important announcements and instructions to guide you throughout the semester. Signing into our Blackboard course page only once in a while will not be sufficient for you to effectively review the posted material and fulfill all the course requirements. In other words, trying to do everything in a single day each week is simply not feasible to fully understand the course material, effectively engage in the course activities, and produce high-quality work. In short, I urge you to access the course on a regular basis and I am sure you will feel much more in synch with the course flow that way.

REQUIRED TEXTBOOK

Henry E. Nau. Perspectives on International Relations: Power, Institutions, and Ideas. CQ Press. ISBN: 9781544374390.

The newest edition is the seventh edition but earlier editions are fine. This book is available at the UTEP Bookstore (for purchase and rent). Each module, you will have assigned readings from your textbook. A chapter summary and lecture notes will be provided for each module's readings but simply reading the chapter summary and lecture notes will not be sufficient for effectively completing the course tasks. It is important that you begin each module by first carefully doing the required readings. The list of readings per module is provided in the last section of the syllabus.

Among other Edge Advantages, the required readings in this course align particularly well with the Edge Advantage "Global Awareness" that promotes a mindset in which students understand and appreciate people, cultures, and ideas from around the world that impact our community.

EXAMS

There are two exams for the course. Each exam constitutes 25 percent of your final grade point average. Questions are primarily based on the readings, lectures, and online discussions. The exams will be "open book" so that you are allowed to review all the support materials you think are necessary to answer the exam questions. The exams will be administered via Blackboard. You will have 4.5 days to complete each exam upon activation. The exams are to be taken individually—it is not allowed to discuss the exam questions with the classmates or anyone else.

Please refer to the section on “Academic Integrity” below to review the university and instructor policies on cheating, collusion, and plagiarism.

Among other Edge Advantages, the exams and quizzes in this course are primarily designed to trigger the Edge Advantage “Problem Solving” where students find solutions to difficult or complex issues.

DISCUSSION POSTS/CLASS PARTICIPATION

Each module, you will submit (1) a discussion post in response to a guided question (minimum of 250 words and maximum of 500 words) and (2) respond to at least one of your classmates’ post (minimum of 100 words and maximum of 500 words). Class participation via discussion posts will count for 20 percent of your final grade.

Among other Edge Advantages, this activity is particularly in line with the Edge Advantage “Communication” that encourages UTEP students to reach mutual understanding through the effective exchange of information, ideas, and feelings.

I expect everyone to actively participate in class and do so in a positive and appropriate way (see the “Online Etiquette and Effective Communication” section below). Keep in mind that class participation is more than just completing the scheduled assignments and taking exams—you should be willing to ask and answer questions, and contribute intellectually to class debates via online discussion posts.

Before posting a discussion, you should complete the assigned readings and go over the lecture notes. Exams will cover material from the readings, lectures, and our online discussions, so doing just one or the other will leave you at a disadvantage. Full credit for a discussion post is reserved only for those that follow the online etiquette and effective communication rules below.

MAP GAMES

There will be seven map games during the semester, which constitute in total 10 percent of your final grade point average. Each game will include a map on which you will locate a selection of countries from a certain region (i.e., The Middle East, Asia, Africa, Central and South America, Caribbean Countries, and Oceania). You will not need to know capitals or topography. Submission instructions are provided on the course website.

PRACTICE QUIZZES

After you do the assigned readings for a given module, you can take the practice quiz (which will have a total of 25 questions per module). These practice quizzes are not only useful for preparing for the exams but also for earning bonus points toward your final grade point average. At the end of the semester, those who achieve an average score that ranges from 70 to 79 for their practice quizzes will receive 1 bonus point to be added to their final grade point average. If your average practice quiz score ranges from 80 to 89, 2 bonus points will be added to your final grade point average and if your average score is 90 and over, you will earn 3 bonus points. No bonus points will be earned for a score less than 70.

COURSE/INSTRUCTOR POLICIES

E-Mail Protocol

The best way to contact me is via UTEP e-mail. I will make every attempt to respond to your e-mail within 24 hours of receipt during weekdays. I will respond to weekend messages by Monday at the latest. When e-mailing me, please put the course number in the subject line. In the body of your e-mail clearly state your question. At the end of your e-mail, be sure to put your first and last name, and your university identification number.

Excused Absences and Excuse for Late Work

I will excuse absences and late work when a student participates in an official university-recognized activity, observes a recognized religious holiday of their faith that happens to coincide with a class session, is called to and participates in active military service for a reasonably brief period, or confronts a medical emergency. To be excused, please notify me in writing prior to the date of absence if possible. That said, in cases where advance notification is not feasible (e.g. a medical emergency or lack of childcare), please provide notification as soon as possible following your absence. If available, please also provide satisfactory documentation verifying the reason for the absence (such as a doctor's note) for my records.

According to UTEP Curriculum and Classroom Policies, "When, in the judgment of the instructor, a student has been absent to such a degree as to impair his or her status relative to credit for the course, the instructor may drop the student from the class with a grade of "W" before the course drop deadline and with a grade of "F" after the course drop deadline."

Incomplete Grade Policy

Incomplete grades may be requested only in exceptional circumstances after you have completed at least half of the course requirements. Talk to me immediately if you believe an incomplete is warranted. If granted, we will establish a contract of work to be completed with deadlines.

Online Etiquette and Effective Communication

Please carefully read the following rules for online etiquette and effective communication:

Language: Given the absence of face-to-face clues, written text can easily be misinterpreted. Avoid the use of strong and/or offensive language, all capital letters, and the excessive use of exclamation points. If you feel particularly strongly about a point, it may be best to write it first as a draft and then to review it, before posting it, in order to remove any offensive language.

Respect: An online classroom is still a classroom, and comments that would be inappropriate in a regular classroom would also be inappropriate in an online course. Treat your professor and your classmates with respect.

Be Forgiving: If someone states something that you find offensive, mention this directly to your professor. Remember that the person contributing to the online discussion may be new to this form of communication. What you find offensive may have been unintended and can best be cleared up by the professor.

This is Permanent: Think carefully about the content of your message before contributing it. Once sent to the group, there is no taking it back once it is viewed (even if you can later delete or edit your message). When reacting to someone else's message, address the ideas—not the person. Post only what anyone would comfortably state in a face-to-face situation.

Edit Your Work: The grammar, spelling, and punctuation of a message are part of the grading criteria – you should not expect your professor and peers to decode misspelled words or poorly constructed sentences. It is good practice to compose and check your comments in a word-processor, and proofread before posting them.

Test for Clarity: Messages may often appear perfectly clear to you as you compose them, but turn out to be unclear to your reader. One way to test for clarity is to read your message aloud to see if it flows smoothly.

Read First, Write Later: Make sure to do all the readings, activities, and individual research before crafting your discussion post. Follow the posting requirements and parameters set up by your professor. Posts should justify positions and provide specific examples. You need to stick to the subject—avoid going off on irrelevant tangents. An informed, well-researched discussion point will enhance the quality of everyone's learning experience and exchange of ideas.

Make sure to also contribute to and review our community agreement available in Module 1.

Academic Integrity

Academic misconduct and dishonesty is prohibited and is considered a violation of the UTEP Handbook of Operating Procedures. This includes, but is not limited to cheating, collusion, and plagiarism. Cheating may involve copying from or providing information to another student and possessing unauthorized materials during a test. Collusion involves collaborating with another person to commit any academically dishonest act. Plagiarism is commonly defined as passing off the ideas, works, writing, etc., of another person as your own. Accordingly, you are committing plagiarism if you copy the work of another person and turn it in as your own work, even if you have the permission of that person. If you are unsure whether a citation is required, err on the side of caution and provide one. A document detailing different forms of plagiarism is provided on Blackboard. Just as the Internet has made it easier to find material, it has also made it easier to trace the source of any written work. All written work submitted for this course will be checked by the instructor for originality via SafeAssign—an online originality checking service made available by UTEP.

Any act of academic misconduct and dishonesty attempted by a UTEP student is unacceptable and will not be tolerated. Violations will be taken seriously and will be referred to the Dean of Students Office for possible disciplinary action. Students may be suspended or expelled from UTEP for such actions. Refer to <http://studentaffairs.utep.edu/Default.aspx?tabid=4386> for further information.

Copyright Statement for Course Materials

All materials used in this course are protected by copyright law. The course materials are only for the use of students currently enrolled in this course and only for the purpose of this course.

Diversity

It is my intent that students from all diverse backgrounds and perspectives be well served by this course, that students' learning needs be addressed both in and out of class, and that the diversity that students bring to this class be viewed as a resource, strength, and benefit. It is my intent to present materials and activities that are respectful of diversity: gender, sexuality, disability, age, socio-economic status, race/ethnicity, religion, and culture. Your suggestions are encouraged and appreciated. Please let me know ways to improve the effectiveness of the course for you personally and/or for other students.

Accessibility

It is my goal to create a learning experience that is as accessible as possible. If you anticipate any issues related to the format, materials, or requirements of this course, please meet with me outside of class so we can explore potential options. Students with disabilities may also wish to work with the Center for Accommodations and Support Services (CASS) to discuss a range of options to removing barriers in this course, including official accommodations. Please visit their website for contact and additional information: <http://sa.utep.edu/cass/>. If you have already been approved for accommodations through the CASS, please meet with me so we can develop an implementation plan together.

Land Acknowledgement Statement

As members of the University of Texas at El Paso community, we acknowledge that we are meeting on unceded Indigenous land. We would like to recognize and pay our respects to the Indigenous people with long ties to the immediate region: Lipan Apache, Mescalero Apache, Piro, Manso, Suma, Jumano, Ysleta del Sur Pueblo, Piro/Manso/Tiwa Indian Tribe of the Pueblo of San Juan de Guadalupe, and Tortugas Pueblo. We also acknowledge the nations whose territories include present day Texas: the Carrizo & Comecrudo, Coahuiltecan, Caddo, Tonkawa, Comanche, Alabama-Coushatta, Kickapoo, and the peoples of Chihuahua and northern Mexico from whom most/many of our students descend, such as the Rarámuri, Tepehuan, Wixarika and Nahuatlaca peoples. Finally, we recognize all of the American Indian and Indigenous Peoples and communities who have been or have become a part of these lands and territories here in Paso del Norte, on Turtle Island. The University of Texas at El Paso honors your history and cultures and we seek greater awareness of the myriad ways in which your legacy can guide us in fruitful partnerships and mutually fulfilling relationships.
