Course Description:

Portuguese 2301 is a beginning Portuguese language course which assumes no prior knowledge or experience with Portuguese. The course uses a variety of language teaching approaches to help the students achieve the mastery of all four basic language skills: listening, speaking, reading and writing. At the same time students will become familiar with some of the most important cultural traits of Brazil. At the beginning emphasis will be given to listening comprehension and oral skills. As the semester moves on all skills will be completed.

Course Objectives:

By the end of Portuguese 2301 students will be able to:

- Understand the main idea of spoken Portuguese intended for the non-native student on topics related to the daily life such as the classroom, weather, clothes, and time, the family, daily activities, work, etc.
- Speak in complete sentences on the above-mentioned topics with sufficient accuracy in pronunciation and the use of vocabulary and grammar (specially use of present and past tense) so as to be understood by persons who are used to dealing with students of Portuguese.
- Read edited materials on familiar topics with an understanding of the main idea and some supporting details.
- Write coherent paragraphs on a familiar topic, such as those listed above, with a logical organization and sufficient accuracy in grammar and spelling so as to be understood by persons who are used to dealing with students of Portuguese.
- Understand significant traits (lifestyles, attitudes, customs, etc) of the Portuguese-speaking world, and function appropriately in frequently encountered social situations.

Course Requirements

Please note that credit will only be given in this class to work done by the actual student requesting credit and registered for this class.

Please keep in mind when working with tutors, requesting outside assistance, etc that any class work (quizzes and/or exams, compositions and/or homework assignments) done outside of class with other people' help will not be given credit. Outside assistance is not allowed in these cases. Talk to your instructor if you have any questions about these policies and read the link posted above.

Students who earn a grade lower than 70 a must repeat the course and earn a 70 or better before they will be permitted to continue to the next level.

Students have to be on time in class with the required materials and homework for the day.

Attendance / Participation

Students are required to show proper classroom behavior, attend all classes, and to have an active participation in class, and in all activities assigned for the course. In order to participate in class and use new Portuguese forms with the benefit of receiving feedback from your instructor and classmates, you need to attend classes regularly. Using Portuguese to interact with your instructor and your classmates is an important aspect of learning the language and cannot be measured in written exams. Therefore a portion of your final grade will depend on class participation.

More than four (4) unexcused absences will result in the loss of participation points in the final grade. Three tardies are equivalent to one absence, and therefore excessive tardiness may cause your final grade to be lowered due to absences. The instructor has the right to drop you from the class if the student misses more than 7 days of class or if he/she is constantly late.

There is NO MAKE-UP of missed class work, quizzes or oral presentations without valid documentation justifying the student's absence. Talk to your instructor about any attendance problem.

Homework

The main goal when learning a foreign language is the actual use of the language for communication purposes. This involves a great deal of practice. Therefore, students must prepare and complete on time all work assigned in class. This includes readings, oral presentations, compositions and other written assignments, quizzes, activities manual exercises. Plan at least two (2) hours daily outside of class and several hours on the weekend to study.

Exams

There will be two fifty-minute written exams, each with listening comprehension, grammar, reading, and composition, including questions about class presentations.

MISSED EXAMS: in general, there are no make-up exams. If, however, for reasons beyond your control, you know that you will not be able to take an exam, talk to your instructor to arrange an alternate day or time before the day of the test. A student who misses an exam without previously arranging for an alternate day or time must present appropriate documentation of a personal reason or medical emergency in order to avoid a zero (0) in the exam.

Oral Exams

There will be also two (2) oral exams; the first one will be a dialogue with one or two classmate/s, presented in class. The second one will be a presentation (prepared and presented in pairs) to your instructor and to the rest of the class, where you will talk about some pre-selected topics. Students who miss the oral exams will automatically receive a grade of zero (0).

Compositions

Students will write three (3) compositions. Topics will be assigned by the instructor. All compositions have to be TYPED (DOUBLED-SPACED, font 12). Late compositions or compositions that are not typed (doubled-spaced) will automatically receive a grade of ZERO (0). Deadlines have to be followed. Compositions will not be accepted by email or after deadlines.

Oral Presentations

Students will do one (1) oral presentation IN CLASS. These presentations will be prepared and presented in pairs. Topics will be assigned by the instructor. Missed presentations will receive a grade of ZERO.

Students have to take notes during the presentation. Questions about the presentations will appear on the exams and / or quizzes.
