COURSE MATERIALS

- Required Textbook: Adler, The Study of Orchestration, 4th edition (W.W. Norton & Company, 2016)
- Finale or Sibelius notation software. These programs are available in Prospect Lab 308, and Finale is also accessible at the Music Library.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

▪ This course involves the study of instrumentation and orchestration. Through intense study of scores and orchestration exercises, students will familiarize themselves with the individual instruments of the modern-day orchestra and band, and gain an understanding of how they are effectively employed in combination in the context of a musical composition. Projects will involve preparation of scores in a professional manner.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to

- understand and explain the capabilities of individual instruments, as well as the terminology related to their technique.
- set existing or original music for small and large ensembles in a stylistic manner.
- use notation software programs to prepare professional scores for these settings.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

▪ Class Participation. Active involvement is very important in this class, as class meetings will include a discussion and analysis of assigned readings and exercises. While there is not an explicit participation component in the calculation of the overall semester grade, students are expected to contribute in a meaningful manner to the discussion for every class period. More than two unexcused absences will result in the lowering of the overall semester grade by 2% for each unexcused absence.

Any devices that may cause a disturbance (pagers, cell phones, etc.) must be turned off prior to class.

▪ Homework. There will homework assigned regularly to prepare for and to supplement class discussions. Assignments are due at the beginning of class. Some of the homework assignments will serve as preliminary work for your final orchestration project. No credit will be awarded for late assignments due to an unexcused absence.

▪ Quizzes. Quizzes will be given occasionally to reinforce important concepts and information. Missed quizzes due to an unexcused absence cannot be made up.

- Final Orchestration Project. Each student will prepare an orchestration of a short piece or excerpt that demonstrates an effective use of large ensemble (band or orchestra).

GRADING

• Grades will be calculated based on homework & quizzes, and the final project. Each component will be calculated as a percentage score (for example, if you earn 310 out of a possible 340 points for the homework & quizzes throughout the semester, your percentage score for that component would be $310/340 * 100 = 91.2\%$). These scores will be weighted according to the following outline in determining your final grade. A sample semester grade calculation is provided below.

Component	% of Overall Grade	Grading Scale
Homework & Quizzes	50%	90% and above	A
Final Project	50%	80% up to 90%	B
		70% up to 80%	C
		60% up to 70%	D
		Below 60%	F

• For students with final grades within 1% of the next grade level (59%, 69%, 79%, 89%), the instructor may assign a higher grade if the student has (1) attended class regularly, (2) not missed homework or quizzes, (3) demonstrated consistent effort in mastering class material, and (4) shown improvement throughout the semester.

SAMPLE SEMESTER GRADE CALCULATION

Homework & Quizzes: 303 out of 360 total points earned = 84.2%

Final Project: 92 out of 100 points earned = 92.0%

Final Grade: $.50*84.2 + .50*92.0 = 88.1 = B$
