Course Description

Study and performance of specific solo piano repertoire, with additional evaluation in piano pedagogical content and methodology, career promotion, philosophies of music, and assessment of personal achievements in the various fields of piano.

Goals

The goals of the course are to prepare pianists to:

- Perform music effectively with knowledge of historical and theoretical context
- Develop multiple approaches to learning, memorization, and musical thought
- Prepare for and secure future engagements as a pianist, accompanied by also securing the confidence of understanding the administrative structures, responsibilities and expectations involved in these engagements.

Objectives

At the completion of the course, the student will be able to:

1. Study and perform solo pieces (using both reading and memorization skills) through a variety of modes based on piano technique, music theory, music history and personal interpretation.
2. At the minimum, play all major and minor scales and understand key signatures.
3. Discuss particular piano works in regard to structure, harmony, melody, rhythmic content and other musical parameters.
4. Set short-term and long-term performance goals.
5. Learn to verbally articulate historical research regarding pieces, to improve critical listening and thinking skills, and to gain knowledge of the piano repertoire canon.

Texts (not required) Materials will be taken from the following textbooks, and although not required for the class, may be textbooks you'll want to add to your music library.

Performance Opportunities

We are fortunate to have many venues in which to try out new pieces, old pieces, or simply gain experience in performing the works you will study in class. Recital situations will be announced for those taking individual piano lessons. Attendance is required (and please invite your students, friends and families!).

Midterm

The week of October 30th - November 3rd will be midterm for the Jones piano studio. Two solo piano pieces to be offered at the final jury must be performed from memory during your regular lesson time. This grade will count as 20% of the final grade. If two jury pieces or all of pre-recital hearing pieces are not memorized, this will result in an "F" for the midterm grade. If an emergency arises and you cannot attend your lesson, you must notify the instructor immediately and a make-up midterm exam must be scheduled as quickly as possible. Failure to notify the instructor and reschedule the midterm within three days will result in an "F" for the midterm grade. The following criteria will be used in determining the midterm grade:

- "A": All pieces are memorized and a strong, musical interpretation is established in all works. Tempi are as marked by the composer, the form is discernable and phrasing coherent. All pieces are at a successful performance level.
- "B": As above, but reflecting less in regard to tempo, form, phrasing and facility from behind the piano. All pieces have major room for improvement.
- "C": Inconsistent work, poor performance with many memory slips, and there is serious lack of interpretation.
- "D": Only memorization has taken place. There are multiple mistakes in regard to notes, rhythm and finger numbers. The pieces do not have any "flow," musicianship, nor comprehensible phrasing. The pianist is not "saying" anything.
- "F": Any piece is not memorized. If the score needs to be used, an "F" will be assigned.

To assist with this goal, the instructor is requiring that after the first lesson on a piece, the student bring some part of the work MEMORIZED at all subsequent lessons. She advises that you work on all repertoire concurrently.

Double Jury

For those who are currently enrolled in his/her fourth semester of the lower level study (1195), you must complete a double jury. There is no postponing the double jury for subsequent semesters. The double jury will be twice as long (25-30 minutes) as the regular jury, show an advancement in the difficulty of repertoire performed, require the playing of all major and minor scales and arpeggios, and also call for the pianist to sight read. The double jury will be approved or denied by the Piano Faculty, who will be assessing your ability from the viewpoint of basic fundamentals (pieces in tempo, with correct finger numbers, correct notes, correct rhythms and solid memory) and musicianship (does the student show a comprehension of phrase structure, use of dynamics, pedaling, technique, contrasts and attempting to offer some sort of individual interpretation?). The student will have two attempts to pass the double jury. If the student can not pass after the second attempt, this is grounds for dismissal from the program.

Master Class is required. For every absence, (full or partial) you will receive a “0.”

Do not ask to miss master class.

FIMTE 1st Global Granados Marathon

The studio is honored to participate in the 1st Global Granados Festival, organized by FIMTE, the Festival Internacional de Música de Tecla de España (International Festival of Spanish Keyboard Music). On October 9, 2017, approximately 250 piano works by more than 100 performers on three continents will be "live streamed," providing over 16 hours of this great composer's piano works, celebrating the 150 anniversary of Granados' birth. Enrique Granados (1867-1916) was one of the nationalist Spanish composers of extreme importance. This is quite the exciting opportunity!

You will need to write a short bio (70-100 words) and provide a headshot to Dr. Jones by Friday, September 8th, 5:00 p.m. This assignment will be worth 5% of your total grade.

The live streaming concert will take place on Monday, October 9th, 7:30 p.m. in Room 340 of the Fox Fine Arts Music Building. It is free and open to the public, so please invite your family and friends! You will need to be at UTEP by 6:30 p.m., in order to do a quick warm up and sound check with the technology being used. The dress code is as formal as you would like, as this will be an international event. No jeans or tennis shoes are allowed.

Various Assignments and Sight Reading

In an attempt to better our skills in regard to communication of musical and critical thoughts, there will be various assignments given throughout the semester. These may be worksheets, assigned reading, assigned listening and/or written assignments. It is important to complete all assignments on time. Averaged together, all assignments will represent 10% of your final grade. Expect weekly grades on weekly sight-reading with the instructor at the end of every lesson.

Expectations and Grading

Grades are based on

- Attendance and punctuality for lessons and Master Class; and if absence is necessary, the amount of effort shown toward notifying me if unable to attend lesson and/or Master Class.
- Quality and quantity of practice as evidenced by progress from lesson to lesson.
- Completing all assigned pieces and technical studies by the end of the semester.
- Completing all assigned homework as required by class instructor.

“A”: Consistent work and continued progress throughout the semester

“B”: As above, but reflecting less than consistent work throughout the semester, poor preparation that has the potential for improvement

“C”: Inconsistent work, poor attendance or punctuality, and/or lack of participation.

“D”: Inability to produce any positive results regarding performance or homework assignments.

“F”: Failure to attend lessons and master class, or failure to show any work or preparation.

Grades will be earned through the completion of the following activities and assignments with the grade weighting designated:

Assignment	Grade Weighting
Lessons and Master Class	.40 (.30 for lessons and .10 for Master Class Attendance and Participation)
Midterm	.20
Various Assignments + S.R. (average)	.10
End of the Semester Jury (or recital)	.25 (plus consideration for Level Advancement)
Granados Marathon Bio	.05

Grade Scale

A=100-90 B=89-80 C=79-70 D=69-60 F=59-0

Grade Computation Example

Assignment	Grade		Weight	=	Component
Lessons	93	x	.30	=	27.9
Master Class	75	x	.10	=	7.5
Midterm	65	x	.20	=	13
Various Assignments	82 ave.	x	.10	=	8.2
Granados Bio	95	x	.05	=	4.75
Jury	88	x	.25	=	22
Total of weighted grades				=	83.4 B

Attendance Policy

Lessons will be held in Music 436, Fox Fine Arts Building. Please knock on the door at your lesson time. Master Classes are to be held each Tuesday of the week from 10 a.m. to 10:50 a.m. in Room 102. Master Class is required.

If you are ill, please notify me as early as possible by leaving a message at my email address, my office number, or at the Music Department Center Office (747-5606). If I am ill, I will have the office post a sign on my door in addition to contacting you as soon as possible.

Student-missed lessons will not be rescheduled unless otherwise noted by the instructor, however in the event that the instructor misses a lesson, be assured that she will offer a make-up schedule for your consideration. It will be determined individually if lessons that fall on University Holidays are to be made up or not.

Because of the nature of the studio master class, consistent attendance is a must for the successful student. Most aspects of the final grade result from in-class activity and lesson improvement throughout the semester. Therefore, students cannot get a good grade if they are not in lessons/class and contributing to class and group discussions. Nor can those students who miss out on class and group discussions or lectures expect to successfully complete assignments or exams. Therefore, the student who is flourishing in Applied Piano Studies is the student who attends regularly.

When a student has compiled a total of four instances of unsatisfactory attendance, whether it be a lesson or master class, he/she will be dropped with a “W” from the course prior to the drop deadline or fail the course after the drop deadline.

The only excused absences will be absences from university-sanctioned events (athletic events, concerts, etc.), emergency illness, a religious-affiliated absence, jury duty, or a funeral for a member of your family. Documentary proof of all five of these circumstances must be provided before or immediately after the fact. If you know that you will be absent from class, it is your responsibility to hand in assignments before your absence. The instructor will not accept late homework.

Students are expected to be in the classroom during the entire class period. Excessive tardiness (coming in 10 minutes after the beginning of class) or leaving the classroom early—unless approved ahead of time with the instructor—will result in an absence.

Students not meeting the above attendance requirements will be dropped from the course. Students dropped before the Course Drop Deadline will be dropped with a “W”; after the deadline, students will be dropped with an “F”. Remember that your instructor cannot drop you after the drop deadline date.

Your instructor may choose to make an exception to the above policies if she deems the circumstances warrant it.

Copyright Statement

Some of the materials in this course are copyrighted. Violation of US copyright law can result in civil damages up to $100,000 for each work copied. Copying of textbooks is not “fair use” under the Copyright Act. The “fair use doctrine” only permits non-commercial copying of part (in general, not more than 10%) of a copyrighted work. Do not bring a copied textbook to this class. Your cooperation is expected.

1.3 Student Conduct: [From the Handbook of Operating Procedures: Student Affairs]

Each student is responsible for notice of and compliance with the provisions of the Regents Rules and Regulations, which are available for inspection electronically at <http://www.utsystem.edu/bor/rules/homepage.htm>.

1.3.1 Scholastic Dishonesty: [From the Handbook of Operating Procedures: Student Affairs]

It is the official policy of the University that all suspected cases or acts of alleged scholastic dishonesty must be referred to the Dean of Students for investigation and appropriate disposition. It is contrary to University policy for a faculty member to assign a disciplinary grade such as an "F" or zero to an assignment, test, examination, or other course work as a sanction for admitted or suspected scholastic dishonesty in lieu of normally charging the student through the Dean of Students. Similarly, students are prohibited from proposing and/or entering into an arrangement with a faculty member to receive a grade of "F" or any reduced grade in lieu of being charged with scholastic dishonesty. Any student who commits an act of scholastic dishonesty is subject to discipline. Scholastic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to cheating, plagiarism, collusion, the submission for credit of any work or materials that are attributable in whole or in part to another person, taking an examination for another person, any act designed to give unfair advantage to a student or the attempt to commit such acts.

1.3.12 Plagiarism: [From the Handbook of Operating Procedures: Student Affairs]

"Plagiarism" means the appropriation, buying, receiving as a gift, or obtaining by any means another's work and the unacknowledged submission or incorporation of it in one's own academic work offered for credit, or using work in a paper or assignment for which the student had received credit in another course without direct permission of all involved instructors.

Students with Disabilities Policy

If you have or suspect a disability and need an accommodation you should contact the Center for Accommodations and Support Services Office (CASS) at 747-5148 or at cass@utep.edu or go to Room 106 Union East Building.

Piano Juries to be announced (there will be a sign-up sheet)
