II. Texts and Materials:
- Other materials will be available on Blackboard.

III. Overview
This course examines the foundational forms, techniques, and ideas that provide the context for contemporary practices of creative writing, in both Fiction and Poetry. In addition, we will learn the most common terminology used in literary discussions.

Beginning with Fiction, we will analyze a variety of texts. We will discuss the many variations of the forms and techniques we find in the 20th century to examine its evolution. We will learn and practice some of the most useful techniques for crafting fiction.

Then, we will turn our attention to poetry where we will study the traditional forms and the ideas that shaped this genre in the past. We will also learn and practice techniques for poetry writing.

IV. Goals
The primary goals of this class are to:
1. Gain a perspective on the genres of poetry and fiction to see and understand how and why a writer chooses to employ different techniques and forms.
2. Through our intense study of significant texts, we will hone our reading skills, learning to read deeply and acknowledge the available forms and techniques for varying purposes.

A writer’s most valuable tool, after all, is his or her ability to read and learn from other writers.
V. Course Expectations
Reading and writing are the two main activities of the course, therefore the student must be committed to:

- Read and analyze the texts previously selected to work in class, available on the assigned book or on Blackboard.
- Prepare for discussion by annotating selected texts and be ready to participate.

VI. Evaluation: This course will evaluate the following components: terminology tests, practice exercises, and participation/attendance:

40% Terminology Tests (13% each): Students will take 3 tests on concepts learned through course readings, lessons, and discussions.

40% In-class practice exercises: Students will apply the concepts learned during class by completing a variety of collaborative and individual exercises during class.

20% Participation/Attendance: It is imperative that you read the assigned texts, and that you actively engage in all class discussions. Make sure that you have access to Blackboard to download any additional readings and participate in any online activities assigned to you. You may miss up to 3 classes without penalty. Arriving to class late or leaving early 3 times will equal one absence. Missing more than 3 classes will affect your participation grade and will put you at risk of being dropped from the class. Missing 6 classes will bring your overall semester grade down one letter. Please share contact information with a classmate to keep up with what was missed in an absence and check out the materials posted for the lesson on Blackboard. Late work is not accepted, nor make-up work is given.

GRADING SCALE:

- A 100-90%
- B 89-80%
- C 79-70%
- D 69-60%
- F 59% and below
- W This grade will only be assigned if you drop this course before the university’s drop deadline.

VII. Grading, Assignments, & Deadlines
It is the responsibility of each student to turn in all assignments by the due dates, regardless of any absence. Late work is not accepted.

- Preparing for Class: Students must come to class prepared. This means having read the required texts for the day, as well as having completed the homework. Students should bring materials to every class, and they are expected to be polite and respectful of others during workshops, discussions, and lessons.

- Blackboard and Email: You must check your UTEP-assigned email and Blackboard every day. The materials will mostly be on Blackboard, and I might post homework updates and clarifications there and send them through email. In addition, some classes might be held through a Discussion Forum; you will be notified in advance when this is the case. You may contact me with any questions or concerns at my UTEP email; avoid using your personal email or Blackboard messages. Please allow 24-48 hours for a response.

VIII. Extra credit: You will be given the opportunity to attend literary and academic events that will both enrich your knowledge and will hopefully boost your grade. Depending on the event, you might be asked to write and submit a one-page response.

IX. Plagiarism & Academic Dishonesty
Cheating is unethical and not acceptable. Plagiarism is using information or original wording in a paper without giving credit to the source of that information or wording, and it is also not acceptable. Do not submit work under your name that you did not do yourself. You may not submit work for this class that you did for another class. If you are found to be cheating or plagiarizing, you will be subject to disciplinary action, per UTEP catalog policy. Refer to http://www.utep.edu/dos/acadintg.html for further information.

X. Preferred Mode of Address
The Department of Creative Writing at UTEP supports students’ right to define their identity in terms of name, pronoun, and mode of address. This class will provide each student the opportunity to let their preference be known, and will support and respect that preference. Should you need to discuss this issue with your instructor in private, you are encouraged to make an appointment early in the semester.

XI. Disabilities Statement
I will make reasonable accommodations for students with limitations due to disabilities, including physical, emotional, and learning disabilities. Please, email me during the first two weeks or make an appointment to discuss any special needs you might have. If you have a documented disability and require special accommodations, you will need to contact the Center for Accommodations and Support Services located in the East Union Building, Room 106.
