Course Description

This course focuses on the themes of social and political change in the mid-twentieth century as a result of protest movements such as the Civil Rights, Women’s Liberation, Chicano/a, Student, American Indian and Anti-Vietnam War. We will explore how historians gather, organize, and analyze information in order to understand how past events have shaped our world today. The class will explore how national, social, and political changes affected El Paso, UTEP, and/or surrounding area. Or were they affected?

Goals of the Course:

1. To strengthen academic performance and facilitate student’s transition to college. This will be achieved by studying the mid-twentieth century American protest movements. Students will complete exercises in note taking, study skills, writing assignments, and test taking.
2. To enhance academic skills. Students will practice critical analysis of texts, videos, music, and oral reports. Students will present their work in written and oral formats by preparing four short papers, a class presentation, and a formal project report.
3. To increase student interaction with both faculty and peers. This will be achieved through group work outside of class, in-class discussion and group work, and meeting throughout the semester with the teaching team.
4. To encourage student’s self-assessment and goal clarification. This will be achieved by students listing short- and long-term goals at the beginning of the semester, and attending a presentation by Career Services.
5. To increase student’s involvement at UTEP. Students must attend one university activity outside of class and submit a one-page summary describing the event and its relevance to student life. At least one class period will be devoted to information on university resources.

Required Materials:

Two folders with brads, one for the notes you will turn in, the other for your portfolio.

Class Policies:

1. Attendance: Attendance and participation in class are required. Students may be absent two (2) times without penalty. Each additional unexcused absence will result in a three (3)-point deduction from the final grade. Unavoidable absences that are properly documented may be excused at the discretion of the instructor. There are no makeups for in-class assignments or homework.
2. Conduct: All students are expected to behave as responsible adults. If your cell phone rings during class you may be asked to leave for the remainder of that class session. NO TEXTING or other electronics. We will have frequent discussions and students are expected to tolerate and respect the opinions of others.
3. Dropping the Class: Students may drop the class and receive a W any time prior to Oct. 30.
4. Meeting with the Instructor and the Peer Leader: Students must meet with the Peer Leader early in the semester, and again as necessary throughout the semester. All students will meet with the Instructor at least once to plan their project.
5. Intellectual Honesty: Students are encouraged to work together on our class assignments. However, all written assignments must be entirely the work of the individual student. Plagiarism (copying from written sources, the Internet, or other students) is a serious violation of university policy and will not be tolerated. All cases of plagiarism will be reported to the Dean of Students for further review.
6. Format of Written Work: All written assignments done outside of class must be typed using black ink, 12 pt. font, 1-inch margins, double-spaced, on white paper. Notes and in-class work must be legible.

7. Deadlines: Assignments are due at the beginning of class on the due date. Work handed in after class on the due date will be penalized ½ letter grade (5pts.). Late work will have an additional full letter grade deducted for every day late thereafter (10 pts.). Late homework will not be accepted. Do not turn in late work to the Peer Leader or put it under the door of her office. Any assignment may be handed in early.
8. Feedback: We want to hear from you about how you are doing in this class as well as your other classes. THERE ARE NO STUPID QUESTIONS!!! Please let us know if you don't understand something or need help. You will be asked to provide the teaching team with an email address so that we may contact you; we will explain in class how to set up your UTEP email account, if that has not been done already.

General Format of Assignments:

1. Notes: You will take brief notes on the readings and write a short summary (2-3 sentences) for each reading assignment. You must take notes during each class (lectures and discussions, films and documentaries, if presented) and add these to the reading notes. These will be placed in a folder and turned in every Friday to the Peer Leader who will grade your organization and content.
2. Portfolio: All of your papers, homework, and class handouts. Keep in a folder to turn in on the last day of class.
3. Reflection papers will consist of a summary and analysis of each of the required readings (books) and additional choice article, 2-3 pages in length. A handout with detailed instructions will be provided for each. Total of four (4) Reflection papers.
4. Projects: Students will research UTEP's student organizations and groups. The class will then be divided into groups that will present a brief history of the selected organization or group. All projects must be completed before the end of the semester. The project may be political, academic, or service oriented. A handout with detailed instructions will be provided.
5. Group Presentations: Each group will prepare a presentation for the end of the semester that showcases the project. Each student will be graded on his or her individual participation, and the entire group will also receive a common grade based on the effectiveness of the presentation.
6. Project Report: Each individual student will turn in a 4-5 page report that explains the research conducted by the group to find an appropriate project, the steps taken to design the project, the steps taken to carry out the project, and the successes and/or failures of the endeavor.
7. Extra-curricular activity: All students will attend a UTEP event not associated with your other classes or school activities (for example, if you are a football player, a football game doesn't count). The event may be of any type, such as a sporting event, a theatrical production, a movie, a seminar or talk sponsored by any department, or any social event, but it must be sponsored by UTEP. A 1-page, typed and double spaced paper is due after the event describing and explaining how it added to your transition to college life. Information on events will be provided throughout the semester.

Schedule of Classes: The following is subject to change. Any changes will be announced in class. If you are absent you are still responsible for finding out about any changes.
