Learning happens only when we feel respected as a whole human being. Top priority in our classroom is to cultivate relationships of trust and respect and a sense that we see each other as whole, complex human beings. That you experience this in our classroom is important for the sake of your learning and for the sake of your future students’ learning. To that end, I want you to know that all of you are welcome in our classroom space—all the parts of you as a person are welcome in our discussions, our activities, our assignments, and in our assessments. We are all complex people with a variety of perspectives, experiences, challenges, assets, and resources—our gender identities, our sexual orientations, our religions, our races, our ethnicities, our economic statuses, our immigration statuses, our parenthoods, our veteran statuses, our ages, our languages, our abilities and disabilities. All the parts of you are welcome in our learning community to the extent that you feel comfortable bringing them in. I strive to show respect for the variety and wholeness in each of you, and I expect that each of you shows respect for each other as well. If you feel marginalized in our class, and you feel comfortable discussing it, as a class we will discuss it to support you, protect you, and make changes that feel more inclusive and equitable. If you need to, you can report a complaint of discrimination to the University’s Equal Opportunity Office, Kelly Hall, Third Floor, 915-747-5662 or eoaa@utep.

COURSE DESCRIPTION
This course studies applied critical pedagogy in the sociopolitical context of community and state, equity issues associated with race, class and gender, as well as the multiple roles of the 21st century teacher and the moral dimensions of teaching. It includes field-based application of socio-cultural foundations in education within local schools and communities and emphasizes cultural, structural and institutional dynamics of schooling in multicultural and multilingual communities. Prerequisites: Department approval.

COURSE OBJECTIVES AND STUDENT OUTCOMES:
Schools tend to reproduce the society at large, thus while this course enables educators to be classroom facilitators and agents of social change with special focus in schools and communities, it challenges them to identify and deconstruct problematic hegemonic social structures, to recreate democratic possibilities and to rethink schooling. It empowers pre-service students to construct and generate knowledge on becoming social transformative intellectual leaders.

At the end of the course students will be able to:

- Understand the school as an institution that belongs to a social, political, economic and cultural context;
- Analyze how schools are in connection to other organizations, institutions in order to provide a pertinent education for their students;
- Reflect on how class, race, and gender are related to learning at school and outside the school;
- Design lessons/projects that help students to think critically about inequities based on gender, class and ethnicity;
• Reflect on their own beliefs and values and how these could affect attitudes towards students, families, and the community, as well as, the organization of instruction in the classroom.

SBEC Pedagogy and Professional Responsibilities (PPR) Domains and Competencies

Technology Requirements:

Course content is delivered via the Internet through the Blackboard learning management system. Ensure your UTEP e-mail account is working and that you have access to the Web and a stable web browser. Google Chrome and Mozilla Firefox are the best browsers for Blackboard; other browsers may cause complications. When having technical difficulties, update your browser, clear your cache, or try switching to another browser.
You will need to have access to a computer/laptop, scanner, a webcam, and a microphone. You will need to download or update the following software: Microsoft Office, Adobe Acrobat Reader, Windows Media Player, QuickTime, and Java. If you encounter technical difficulties beyond your scope of troubleshooting, please contact the UTEP Help Desk.

Netiquette:

As we know, sometimes communication online can be challenging. It's possible to miscommunicate what we mean or to misunderstand what our classmates mean given the lack of body language and immediate feedback. Therefore, please keep these netiquette (network etiquette) guidelines in mind. Failure to observe them may result in disciplinary action.

- Always consider audience. This is a college-level course; therefore, all communication should reflect polite consideration of others’ ideas.
- Respect and courtesy must be provided to classmates and to the instructor at all times. No harassment or inappropriate postings will be tolerated.
- When reacting to someone else’s message, address the ideas, not the person. Post only what anyone would comfortably state in a face-to-face situation.
- Blackboard is not a public internet venue; all postings to it should be considered private and confidential. Whatever is posted on these online spaces is intended for classmates and professor only. Please do not copy documents and paste them to a publicly accessible website, blog, or other space.

COVID-19 Accommodations

- Students are not permitted on campus when they have a positive COVID-19 test, exposure or symptoms. If you are not permitted on campus, you should contact me as soon as possible so we can arrange necessary and appropriate accommodations.
- (classes with on-campus meetings) Students who are considered high risk according to CDC guidelines and/or those who live with individuals who are considered high risk may contact Center for Accommodations and Support Services (CASS) to discuss temporary accommodations for on-campus courses and activities.

UTEP provides a variety of student services and support:

- Help Desk: Students experiencing technological challenges (email, Blackboard, software, etc.) can submit a ticket to the UTEP Helpdesk for assistance. Contact the Helpdesk via phone, email, chat, website, or in person if on campus.
- UTEP Library: Access a wide range of resources including online, full-text access to thousands of journals and eBooks plus reference service and librarian assistance for enrolled students.
- University Writing Center (UWC): Submit papers here for assistance with writing style and formatting, ask a tutor for help and explore other writing resources.
- Math Tutoring Center (MaRCS): Ask a tutor for help and explore other available math resources.
- History Tutoring Center (HTC): Receive assistance with writing history papers, get help from a tutor and explore other history resources.
- RefWorks: A bibliographic citation tool; check out the RefWorks tutorial and Fact Sheet and Quick-Start Guide. Individual Resources
- Military Student Success Center: Assists personnel in any branch of service to reach their educational goals.
- Center for Accommodations and Support Services: Assists students with ADA-related accommodations for coursework, housing, and internships.
- Counseling and Psychological Services: Provides a variety of counseling services including individual, couples, and group sessions as well as career and disability assessments.

Course policies

1. Full attendance & participation is required. Absences exceeding 2 class meetings may result in a loss of 5 credit points. With 3 absences, the professor reserves the right to drop a student from the class. Please, notify me if you have an emergency. Students who are late to the class will be counted as absent for the first half of the class. It is the student’s responsibility to call attention to their presence in the class if they come in after the attendance is taken.
2. You are responsible to make up any work missed.
3. I expect active participation in class discussions and activities. I expect you to read every reading assigned.
4. Assignments should be turned in on time.
5. Please, turn off your cell phones.
6. Confidentiality: The privacy and identity of children and their families should be protected in all written materials. Therefore, in the written reports, please change the name of the participants.

Students are expected to uphold the highest standards of academic integrity. Any form of scholastic dishonesty is an affront to the pursuit of knowledge and jeopardizes the quality of the degree awarded to all graduates of UTEP. Any student who commits an act of scholastic dishonesty is subject to discipline. Scholastic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to cheating, plagiarism, collusion, the submission for credit of any work or materials that are not attributable in whole or in part to another person, taking an examination for another person, any act designed to give unfair advantage to a student or the attempt to commit such acts. Proven violations of the detailed regulations, as printed in the Handbook of Operating Procedures (HOP) and available in the Office of the Dean of Students, may result in sanctions ranging from disciplinary probation, to failing grades on the work in question, to failing grades in the course, to suspension or dismissal among others.

Students with Disabilities:
If you have or believe you have a disability, you may wish to self-identify. You can do so by providing documentation to the Office of disabled Student Services located in Union E Room 203. Students who have been designated as disabled must reactivate their standing with the Office of Disabled Student Services on a yearly basis. Failure to report to this office will place a student on the inactive list and nullify benefits received. If you have a condition which may affect your ability to exit safely from the premises in an emergency or which may cause an emergency during class, you are encouraged to discuss this in confidence with the instructor and/or the director of Disabled Student Services. You may call 747-5148 for general information about the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

Learning Activity 1 (Appendix A)
Voice -Over Introduction (5 pts.)

VOICE OVER INTRODUCTIONS

Building communities of learners requires humanizing the education process. In this assignment you will continue to introduce yourself personally and professionally. You will create a voice over PowerPoint presentation, or video, that talks about you and includes one professional photo of yourself and your family. You will continue by answering the following questions:

a. What do you mean when you say you want to be a teacher? Why?
b. What does education mean to you? Share an experience—good or bad.
c. What are your hopes and expectations for this course?

Your voice over introduction should be 2 to 3 minutes and have 1-3 slides. You will submit your assignment in the designated area of Blackboard by Week 2. You will also respond to peers as part of building a community of learners. You will:

1. View the videos of your classmates.
2. Respond to at least two classmates by
   a. Asking questions.
   b. What connections do we share?
   c. What are your hopes and expectations for this course?

Included below are web links that guide you in the development of Voice Over. This can be done for any power point. For more information about how to include narrative in presentations, use the following resources.

Criteria Points Earned

Content and Communication: Voice -over power point or video provides information of participant’s personal self and profession by responding to guiding questions with depth and critical reflection. Oral communication was fluent, appropriate and academic and demonstrates that student was not reading the power point. 2

Coherence and Organization: PowerPoint Presentation consisted of slides (1-3)and time required (2-3 min.) Information presented follows a chronological order and sequence; flows well; has good transitions; succinct and very well organized. 2

Creativity and Participation: Presentation and PowerPoint provide points in creative ways to maintain audience’s attention throughout; includes the use of different materials and responded to more than 2 classmates. 1

Learning Activity 2
Quick Writes, Closure Reflections and class online discussion (14 pts.)
(Appendix B)

A Quick Write is a versatile strategy used to develop writing fluency, to build the habit of reflection into a learning experience, and to informally assess student thinking. The strategy asks learners to respond in 2–10 minutes to an open-ended question or prompt posed by the teacher before, during, or after reading or [viewing]. Its purpose is to activate prior knowledge, help students make personal connections, promote reflection about key content concepts, encourage critical thinking, organize ideas for better comprehension, and synthesize learning and demonstrate understanding of key concepts.

Note: Typically, a Quick Write is graded only for completion, not for quality or accuracy.

© 2006 PCG’s Center for Resource Management rev. 3/07

You will be writing quick writes on articles, activities and viewings of documentaries presented in class, as well as, closure reflections at the end class. As stated previously grading will focus on completion and not being in class that day will hinder your grade for this assignment.

Learning Activity 3 & 4
Group Discussions and Journals (16 pts)
(Appendix C)

You will be participating with your peers online via computer generated group discussions. You will post chapter or articles’ reflections assigned and will respond to two or more peers in your group. Grading will focus on completion and you responding to two or more of your peers.

Learning Activity 5
Every Day Anti-Racism Team Chapter Presentations-(10pts)
(Appendix D)

Goal of Presentations: Theory to practice and practice to theory is the goal of your presentations. As a team you will present a chapter from the book Everyday anti-racism: Getting real about race in schools. You will present the chapter via a 5-12 slide voice over power point presentation. Include guiding questions to elicit dialogue with and among your peers via online. (see rubric below)

Learning Activity 6
Diversity Interviews (10pts)
(Appendix E)

In collaboration with a peer from class, you will interview 2 members of an ethnic group of which you are NOT a member. As a class we will develop interview questions to be asked of the people you selected to be interviewed. Possible interview questions could be those that will ask about participants’ perspective of U.S. schooling, their personal experiences in schooling, or of their personal views of students in U.S. schools if they themselves did not attend school here in the U.S. More about these interviews will be discussed in class to ensure that there is consensus and a clear focus of the interview and writing process to that is ethnically-sensitive and dignity to those being interviewed. Final Interviews should follow APA 6th edition to include a cover page, be doubled spaced, 12 fonts, Times New Roman Format and should include the following components:

I. A Profile of participants: Use pseudonyms names for student / s instead of their given name- Provide age (if given to you or just take a guess), country of origin, or ethnicity, years in U.S. and years in the U.S. educational system and other educational system if applicable.

II. Reading Interview Questions: Include the questions asked with specific answers with comments on how you are interpreting, and/ or analyzing such remarks.

III. Conclusion: Summarize how the interview went, what you learned, (based on the answers to your questions) and how it applies to your understanding of culture and how this understanding will impact your teaching

Local School Board Virtual Meetings (5pts)
(Appendix F)

You will submit a two-page paper of a local School Board Meeting that you observed. More will be discussed in class to determine, as a class, what would be important to observe as future teachers.

Learning Activity 8
Literature-Based Lesson Plan (20 pts)
(Appendix G)

You will design a lesson plan from the website Teaching Tolerance. Your lesson plan will be two parts.

Part I is about your planning of the lesson that will include a narrative about the overview / rationale of the lesson selected; a section on know the learner; materials chosen and about the learning environment. Also, elaborate on the learning experience for example the growth and learning objectives the authentic assessment you selected for this lesson plan and a post activity reflection, if you had a chance to implement it.

Part II will be the lesson plan template with the chosen activity and the following elements; grade level, content subject and objectives, TEKS, PPR Domains, Materials, Procedure (well detailed), assessment and how you would differentiate the instruction.
