Online Office Hrs: M 7:00 – 9:00 p.m. MST or by appointment

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Identification of principal problems and issues of primary and second language acquisition, specifically the relationship between the development of these languages to facilitate and promote biliteracy. Emphasis will be given to critical perspectives and social cultural, cognitive, and linguistic factors that influence in the biliteracy process. In addition traditional assumptions about bilingual students and biliteracy education will be challenged. Biliteracy instruction, matters of transfer, and holistic biliteracy assessment will also be explored.

COLLEGE'S CONCEPTUAL THEME

This course aligns with the University and College of Education's mission and vision in addressing the preparation of professionals and the investigation of issues and challenges in schooling with a special emphasis and support for student learning and development within linguistically and culturally diverse border region settings. Biliteracy educational research and the essential knowledge of its sound professional practice will be a focus.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

- Research and examine critical perspectives and definitions of biliteracy;
- Examine cultural, social, political, and linguistic issues that impact on biliteracy education;
- Define and discuss biliteracy development in the various programmatic contexts in the various models in schools;
- Research and analyze the concepts of simultaneous and successive biliteracy development;
- Research and analyze matters of transfer;
- Research and analyze the implications for policy and practice in biliteracy education.

COURSE STANDARDS AND LEARNING OUTCOMES

Teacher applies knowledge of primary and second language acquisition, including the relationship between the development of languages, to facilitate and promote literacy/biliteracy; plans instruction and assessment that is responsive to cultural diversity and the strengths and interests of individual students.
1. Examine how literacy development in the first language affects development in English.	a.. Early literacy readings; b. Course graded assignments, discussions, blogs
2. Examine, analyze and explain critical aspects of literacy/biliteracy for ELLs	a. Class readings, presentations and discussions of critical literacy/biliteracy
3. Examine and explain the role of parents in the education of their children	a. Class readings, presentations and discussions of critical literacy/biliteracy
4. Identify, contrast, and explain issues and concepts related to the transfer of literacy and simultaneous biliteracy development	a. Course graded readings and assignments; and b. Class discussions on transfer and biliteracy
5. Identify strategies for increasing the literacy of English Language Learners (ELL). 6. Identify best practices for literacy instruction for ELLs	a. Course graded readings and assignments; b. Class discussion of on critical literacy/biliteracy to include the domains/modalities of language and their direct application in biliteracy development
7. Examine and explain biliteracy and holistic assessment	a. Course graded readings and assignments; b. Class discussion of critical literacy/biliteracy
8. Identify issues and procedures in assessing ELLs - Emergent Bilingual, Dual Language Learners – and move towards a holistic biliteracy lens to teach to the potential	a. Course graded readings and assignments; b. Class discussion on critical literacy/biliteracy

Participation

All students are expected to be prepared and to be active participants and check their emails, assignments, discussions and blogs on a regular basis. Reading the assignments is essential for meaningful participation. Students are responsible for working with their groups. Group work is mandatory, and provides a forum for discussion that cannot be duplicated. No excuses for incomplete or late assignments will be accepted. All students are required to be prepared for each class session and maintain a high level of professionalism and respect for one another as we engage in discussions and group work.

Academic Dishonesty:

The University of Texas at El Paso prides itself on its standards of academic excellence. In all matters of intellectual pursuit, UTEP faculty and students must strive to achieve based on the quality of work produced by their individual. In the classroom and in all other academic activities, students are expected to uphold the highest standards of academic integrity. Any form of scholastic dishonesty is an affront to the pursuit of knowledge and jeopardizes the quality of the degree awarded to all graduates of UTEP. It is imperative, therefore, that all faculty insist on adherence to these standards.

Any student who commits an act of scholastic dishonesty is subject to discipline. Scholastic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to cheating, plagiarism, collusion, and submission for credit of any work or materials that are not attributable in whole or in part to another person, taking an examination for another person, any act designed to give unfair advantage to a student or the attempt to commit such acts. Proven violations of the detailed regulations, as printed in the Handbook of Operating Procedures (HOP) and available in the Office of the Dean of Students, may result in sanctions ranging from disciplinary probation, to failing grades on the work in question, to failing grades in the course, to suspension or dismissal among others. For further information, please refer to

<http://sa.utep.edu/osccr/academic-integrity/>

Students with Disabilities:

If you have or believe you have a disability, you may wish to self-identify. You can do so by providing documentation to the Office of Disabled Student Services. Students who have been designated as disabled must reactivate their standing with the Office of Disabled Student Services on a yearly basis. Failure to report to this office will place a student on the inactive list and nullify benefits received. If you have a problem with testing, studying or learning, including a handicapping condition, such as a learning disability, vision or hearing impairment, or physical disability, you must notify the instructor by the end of the third week of class if you wish to request accommodation. You are encouraged to discuss this in confidence with the instructor and/or the director of Disabled Student Services. The Center for Accommodations and Support Services can be reached at Web: <http://sa.utep.edu/cass/> Phone: (915) 747-5148 voice or FAX: (915) 747-8712 E-Mail: cass@utep.edu

Read, Process, Reflect: Dedicate some quality time in reading the attached article by Reyes (2012).

Think about all you have studied and every point made by Reyes (2012). Use what the author discusses about the difference between bilingualism and biliteracy; simultaneous and sequential biliteracy; and implications for schooling as you discuss your findings in your individual Biliteracy Project.

In Module 3, 6/14/2018, you selected a topic from one of the 3 below for your final project.

1. Analyze the language policy in your (a) school. Show how it fosters or deters the development of metalanguage and biliteracy development.
2. Gather assessment instruments used in two languages in literacy development. How might you use reading assessments in two languages as tools to look at biliteracy reading development of students.

- Use the rubric provided (pg. 15) to evaluate two of the individual final presentations. You do not evaluate your own.
- Provide the student name of the presentation you are evaluating.
- Provide the total number of points you are assigning to the presentation based on the rubric below.
- Provide thoughtful, specific and constructive comments to the project. No less than 100 words per project.
- In your comments, be sure to address how strong the data gathered and or interviews held support the goal of the project. For example, if they were trying to show that the policy did support biliteracy development, then all of the documentation, data gathered and narrative needs to reflect that.
- Your comments MUST support the score you provide. This is how you will be graded for this evaluation.

Voice Over Introductions: Creating a Community of Learners

Introductions are an effective way to meet your classmates and professor - a first impression! However, if the introduction is not created with care and some planning, it can easily turn into a first impression you want to take back. In 1-3 PowerPoint presentation slides that must include one picture of yourself and a voice over of 2-3 minutes only, introduce yourself to the class.

In your presentation, talk about yourself, what biliteracy is to you, and share an experience in anything related to literacy/biliteracy. You will be graded according to the rubrics below. Submit your assignment by creating a blog entry and attaching your presentation file in the designated area in Blackboard. Be sure to respond to 2 classmates as part of creating a community of learners.

Included below are web links that guide you in the development of Voice Over. This can be done for any power point. Check your entry and make sure the sound is loud enough to hear, and that there are no technology issues because of what you decided to use to post. This is your responsibility. Name your file by, your name and Introduction. For more information about how to include narrative in presentations, use the following resources:
