This course syllabus and reading list may be subject to changes as circumstances warrant. Any such changes will be announced in advance to the class and will be updated.

Course Description: This course is an interdisciplinary examination of the social, political, and economic forces that characterize Chicana/o identities in American society. By comparing and contrasting historical and contemporary Chicana/o experiences, students will better understand how such issues as masculinity, whiteness, homophobia, nationalism, and globalization re-define, incorporate, or neglect Chicana/o identities in the United States. This course pays close attention to Chicana and third world feminism and the categories of gender and sexuality to better understand how Chicana/o identities challenge and negotiate American norms. Through texts, films, and discussion this class explores a variety of Chicana/o identities and how these identities are produced and conversely destabilized.

By the end of the class, students will

1. Develop the critical thinking and analytical skills necessary for effective communication both orally and written.
2. Identify, analyze, and articulate the central themes in Mexican American community and identity formation.
3. Develop their technology skills and learn to use software available for teaching and learning.
4. Understand theories of race, class, ethnicity, and gender in the shaping of both geo-political and metaphorical borders.
5. Connect the past to the present in an effort to better understand the world around them.
6. View themselves as global citizens.

Being Successful In an Online Course:

Online learning is not a spectator sport. It is everyone's responsibility to participate fully so everyone can get the most from the experience. Here are some simple rules to follow to ensure participation and engagement in the learning process:

- Ask Questions: If you do not know the answer, someone else will. There is a Discussion Forum entitled HELP BOARD that is for asking questions related to content OR any problems you are having. Make sure that you have clearly indicated the subject of your message. If you are having technical difficulties you should first contact tech support.
- Reach Out to Others: Offer a fact, article, link or other item that can help others learn something you can share.
- Be Appropriate: The online classroom is not the place for insulting or insensitive comments, attacks, or venting. Inappropriate behavior will BE subject to disciplinary action.
- Be Diplomatic: When sending messages on emotionally charged topics, make sure you write the message and then walk away for at least an hour before re-reading the message and then sending it. Re-reading emotionally charged messages ensures that they are constructive instead of destructive. Think of the person at the other end.
- Stay Focused: Stay on topic to increase the efficiency of your learning.

Communicating Effectively Online:

When we converse, we expect other people to observe certain rules of behavior. The same is true online. Here are a few pointers to help you communicate more effectively.

- Clearly summarize the contents of your message in the subject line of your e-mail AND your discussion board postings.
- Avoid using all capital letters. USING ALL CAPS MAKES IT LOOK LIKE YOU'RE SHOUTING! IT'S ALSO MORE DIFFICULT TO READ.
- Avoid using sarcasm in your postings and e-mail messages. Sarcasm does not translate well in the online world.
- The following is very important for maintaining a well-organized board. If you are going to reply to a posting, then click on the Reply button. If you are going to change the direction of the discussion, then click on the Create Thread button. DO NOT start a new thread every time you post! Either reply to an existing post or start a new topic of conversation.

Course Policies:

Academic Dishonesty:

Academic dishonesty is prohibited and is considered a violation of the UTEP Handbook of Operating Procedures. It includes, but is not limited to cheating, plagiarism, and collusion. Cheating may involve copying from or providing information to another student, processing unauthorized materials during a test, or falsifying research data on laboratory reports. Plagiarism occurs when someone intentionally or knowingly represents the words or ideas of another person's as ones' own. Collusion, involves collaborating with another person to commit any academically dishonest act. Any act of academic dishonesty attempted by a UTEP student is unacceptable and will not be tolerated. Violations will be taken seriously and will be referred to the Dean of Students Office for disciplinary action. Students may be suspended or expelled from the University for such actions.

Students with Disabilities:

I will make any reasonable accommodations for students with limitations due to disabilities, including learning disabilities. Please contact me immediately to discuss any special needs you might have. If you have a documented disability and require specific accommodations you will need to contact the Disabled Students Services Office in the East Union Bldg., Room 106 immediately. The Disabled Students Services Office can also be reached in the following ways: Web: <http://www.utep.edu/dsso>; Phone: 747-5148; Fax: 747-8712; Email: dss@utep.edu

Attendance Policy:

This is an online class so there is no real attendance policy. Attendance is taken by measuring your work online. You are responsible for doing all the work and reviewing the online lectures every week.

Deadline Policy:

Deadline for most assignments is 11:59 PM (MST) on the due date; CHECK COURSE CALENDAR for all due dates and deadlines as late submissions will not be graded. Please ensure that you carefully read all instructions. Reading the instructions is your responsibility and you should not assume due dates or times. Work can be submitted before the deadline time/date.

Exams:

There will be no formal exams, but there will be quizzes, individual assignments, discussion boards, and a final group project, the quality of which will determine your final grade.

Groups:

You will work in groups of five to six. Random groups will be generated after the first week of class. These are permanent groups and no changes will be permitted.

Learning Modules:

The class consists of five (5) Learning Modules. In each Learning Module you will find a Table of Contents on the left hand side of the module, the Lecture, your Readings and Videos, Quiz links, Assignment links, and any other pertinent information.

With the exception of Week 1: Intro and Getting Started and Week 8: Final Group Project, all Learning Modules last a duration of TWO WEEKS. The first week you will do the readings and view the videos and then take a quiz at the end of the week. Quizzes are available on Thursdays at 5pm (MST) and are accessible through Fridays at 11:59pm (MST). The second week you will submit an individual assignment and post that same assignment to your Group Discussion Board, both are due Mondays by 11:59pm (MST). Once you post to your Group Discussion Board you must maintain ONGOING discussion with your group members through Friday of that week (see the explanations below so that you will know how to maximize your Quiz, Assignment, and Discussion Board grades). New Learning Modules will open on Saturdays at 8am (MST) to allow a head start on your reading and viewing. See Course Calendar for Learning Module dates.

Quizzes:

There will be quizzes every other week. Quizzes will be available Thursday at 5:00pm to Friday at 11:59pm (MST). Please check course calendar for scheduled quizzes.

Individual Response Assignment:

Every other week you will submit an individual critical analysis, (not a summary and not an opinion piece) at least 500 words in response to the readings and videos. You will need to do the readings, view the videos, and go over the lecture pieces to be effective in your responses.

See the Class Policies and Procedures for a detailed explanation on how to submit your response papers and for an explanation of how they will be graded.

Very Important!!!! After you write your critical response (which should be saved as a word document) you will copy and paste this same individual response assignment into your group discussion board as a new message every other Monday by 11:59 pm (MST). This constitutes your initial discussion post and the beginning of your ongoing participation in the Group Discussion Board.

DO NOT post your responses to the Group Discussion Board as an attachment!

This creates a problem for everyone who needs to read your responses. COPY AND PASTE THE TEXT INTO THE DISCUSSION BOARDS.

Group Discussion Boards:

Each week you will discuss each other's Individual Critical Response papers, based on the readings and videos, as a group in your discussion board. The Group Discussion Board Links are located under My Groups below the Course Content on the left hand side of the Home Page. Click on your group then on Group Discussion Boards and locate the appropriate Discussion Board, which are already created for you. All Group Discussion Boards will be located in a similar manner.

Group Discussion Boards begin once your Individual Response is posted. Boards run through Friday of that week, and close at midnight.

This process, though cumbersome, has been created to ensure that no one can just read posted responses and develop a response before reading.

You must submit your Individual Response Assignment under the Assignment Link provided BEFORE before you post to the Discussion Boards.

See the Class Policies and Procedures for a detailed explanation of how the Group Discussion Boards will be graded.

Final Group Project:

Each group will submit a final project that consists of a 10-page, double-spaced, paper based on a topic associated with past or present issues of race, class, gender, sexuality, and any other forms of identity that shape Chicana/o culture and society. Paper should cite and incorporate eight (8) secondary sources consisting of books and scholarly articles and a maximum of one website. I will provide a detailed assignment sheet in the Learning Module entitled Final Group Project

The Learning Module entitled: Final Group Project will be available on Monday November 10, 2014 at 8:00am (MST). In this module you will find the Final Group Project Assignment Sheet, the Assignment Link for submitting the project and the Peer Evaluation.

I will also provide a Final Group Project Discussion Board on Monday November 10, 2014 at 8:00am (MST) for you to collaborate with you fellow members on your final group project. Limit all discussion pertaining to your project to this specific Discussion Board! Part of your Final Group Project grade is based on the collaboration that takes place in the Final Group Project Discussion Board.

Along with the paper each group must submit a PowerPoint presentation that compliments the group paper project. You MUST have a Work Cited page in your paper and in your PowerPoint presentation. Final Group Project is due on Friday December 12, 2014 by 11:59pm (MST).

There will be no physical meeting of group members outside of the Blackboard classroom because some of our classmates are outside of the El Paso region and this puts them at a disadvantage.

Only one member of each group needs to submit the paper and the PowerPoint presentation.

Peer Evaluations:

Each team will evaluate the contributions of their team members for the Final Group Project. The Peer Evaluation will be available on Thursday December 11, 2014 at 8:00am (MST). You will find the link to the Peer Evaluation in the Table of Contents of the Learning Module entitled Final Group Project. Peer evaluations are due by Monday December 15, 2014 at 5:00pm (MST)

Note: The Peer Evaluation IS required and constitutes 10% (up to 10 points) of your Final Group Project Grade. Not submitting the evaluation can significantly lower your grade.

Grading:

To get an “A” you must participate throughout the semester in all the activities AND participate well in critical thought exercises. You must make sure that you double-check all your work for accuracy of content and language (spelling, grammar etc.).

The grades will be divided as follows:

Quizzes	25%
Individual Critical Response Assignments	25%
Discussion Board	25%
Final Group Project and Peer Evaluations	25%

Grading Scale:

A	100-90
B	89-80
C	79-70
D	69-60
F	59 and less

GRADUATE CREDIT FOR THIS COURSE: In order to obtain graduate credit for this course, you must satisfactorily complete a graduate level project with a topic and parameters approved beforehand by the course instructor.
