Course Description:

This course focuses on the early historical developments and cultural traditions from all parts of the world from human origins to 1500 CE. Lectures, readings, assignments, and discussions are designed to offer insights into the cultural, economic, political, religious, and social aspects of human experiences; special attention will be given to cross-cultural interactions and exchanges.

Course Objectives:

Students will emerge from this course with a greater appreciation and understanding of the world's culture traditions and the process in which these traditions have changed and interacted over time. Students will have the necessary background for more specialized and advanced history courses on various areas and periods in the world. Students will gain an enhanced ability to analyze and evaluate primary and secondary materials, in order to view history not as a single and fixed narrative but as diverse and shifting narratives based on different perspectives and sources.

Required Texts:

Bentley, Traditions & Encounters: a Brief Global History, Vol. 1, 3rd ed. (978-0077412050) ($60 rent)

Fan ed., Primary Source Reader, for purchase at University Print Shop [at the Carl Hertzog Building, to the right of the library; (915) 747-5135] ($15)

Assignments:

Response Papers are based on “Questions for Response Paper” in the Primary Source Reader, and there are a total of EIGHT response papers (here after just RPs). Each RP should be about one page in length and must be in standard format (Times New Roman, 12 point font, double space, & 1 inch margin). All RPs will be graded as either pass or fail, meaning you will get 20 points or 0 point.

The main purposes of the RPs are 1) to ensure that you do the assigned readings, 2) to introduce primary sources, 3) to enhance your analytical skills, and 4) to promote in-class discussion.

FOUR of the RPs are the Scheduled RPs and must be turned in on assigned dates (see schedule on page 4–6), if you do not turn in a RP on each of these four particular days, you will receive 0 point for that paper. The other four are the Unscheduled RPs and may be turned in during any class date throughout the semester, provided that there are eligible readings from Primary Source Reader assigned for that particular class. There are NO extra credit assignments; however, you can submit an additional RP for any one that was turned in on time but received a 0. This Replacement RP is not a rewrite, but a new RP based on new readings.

Before you ask any questions, here is a bullet list of dos and don'ts:

- Each RP should be about one page in length and must be in standard format of Times New Roman, 12 point font, double space, & 1 inch margin.
- Electronic submissions and hand-written copies will NOT be accepted! You must turn in a computer-generated printed copy in person to get credit.
- NO LATE RPs! You must submit your RP to your AI/TA at the very beginning of the class. 15 minutes after the start of the class, your RP is considered LATE and will NOT be accepted!
- You can only submit ONE RP per class, so you do not want to wait until the end of the semester to do all of the Unscheduled RPs.
- The last day to turn in Unscheduled RP is Apr. 27, you can only turn in eligible Replacement RPs during the final two classes.
- On Blackboard Grade, Scheduled RPs will be listed as RP1 to RP4, and Unscheduled RPs will be listed as RP5 to RP8.
 - If you turn in a RP on time and got a 20, then Great Job!
 - If you failed to turn in a Scheduled RP, you will get a 0, and end of story.
 - If you turn in a RP on time but got a 0 (due bad quality or wrong reading for example), you will see a 1 on the Blackboard Grade, and you can submit a Replacement RP to get 20.

For example, on Jan. 24 (T), your first Scheduled RP (RP1) is due. According to your “Lecture and Reading Schedule,” there are two assigned readings from Primary Source Reader: 1. Epic of Gilgamesh & 2. The Law Code of Hammurabi, each with its own set of “Questions for Response Paper” on page 7 & 11 respectively. Your RP1 will be the answers to one set of these questions. If you do not turn in a RP that day, you will receive a 0 with no chance for replacement. However, if you do turn in a RP on Jan. 24, but your poor quality of work earned you a 0, you are eligible to turn in a Replacement PR on a future date based on new reading for that particular class. Your first chance to turn in an Unscheduled or a Replacement RP is on Jan. 31 based on Primary Source Reader: 3. Creation story from Ancient India. If you still have question about RPs, don't hesitate to ask.

Geography Quiz: this is an easy quiz. I will provide study maps and a list of places to make sure that you know where in the world we are studying.

Exams: There will be a total of three exams and they are not cumulative. Exam II only covers lectures and reading material after Exam I, and Exam III (or the Final) only covers material after Exam II. All three exams will consist of matching, identification, and essay questions.

Attendance: you are expected to attend all classes, but you are allowed three absences per semester; no excuse needed! However, each additional absence will lower your grade by 5 points, up to a total of 20 points. Students who will be absent while representing the University in officially recognized University activities (sports, band, professional conferences, etc.) must provide the letter of excuse for the professor. University excused absences will not count towards the three absences per semester.

General Responsibilities: It is your responsibility to attend each class and be on time, to pay attention and take notes during lectures, to read ALL of the assigned material BEFORE class, and to participate in discussions. If you miss an exam, you must provide documentation for your absence in order to be eligible for a makeup exam. There is no makeup for a quiz.

Blackboard: This is a technology enhanced course (TEC). You will be able to download lecture outlines for all lectures; study guides for the geography quiz and all three exams; and gain access to additional resources via Blackboard.

Grading:

There will be 8 response papers, 1 geography quiz, 3 exams, and points awarded for attendance:

Response Papers	20 points each	160 points total
Geography Quiz	20 point	20 points total
Exams	100 points each	300 points total
Attendance	20 points	20 points total
TOTAL		500 points

Final grade is determined by the overall accumulation of points, according to the following scale:

450–500 pts = A 400–449 pts = B 350–399 pts = C 300–349 pts = D ≤ 299 pts = F

It is your responsibility to check regularly that your assignments and exams have been graded and recorded correctly via Blackboard. You will lose the right to challenge any grade without undisputed evidence one week after the grade has been posted on Blackboard.

Plagiarism:

Plagiarism is using information or original wording in a paper without giving credit to the source of that information or wording. Plagiarism is NOT acceptable. Do not submit work under your name that you did not do yourself. You may not submit work for this class that you did for another class. If you are found to be cheating or plagiarizing, you will be subject to disciplinary action, per UTEP catalog policy. Refer to <http://www.utep.edu/dos/acadintg.htm> for further information.
