Connections to Standards, Text and Self Response to Observation/Practice (RtOP)

To help you synthesize your observations during the semester you will be required to submit “Response to Observation/Practice” (RtOP) reflections. A calendar window will be provided to guide your observations as well as outline when to submit your RtOP reflections. There are 4 necessary components for each of your RtOP reflections.

1. First, OBSERVE

There are a series of observation lenses that you will be provided that assist you in looking at classroom practice in a purposeful way. When you observe, you will collect data by using each tool to help you make sense of what you are seeing, what it means and questions that may emerge for you. For each observation you will be looking at a dimension in Domain 2 from TTESS (see above chart). Additionally, this process will help you with the CONNECT to Standard, Text and Self portion of the RtOP written below.

2. Second, CONNECT to Standard

In a written response, you will synthesize all 5 of your observations by connecting the experience to one of the All Levels Professional Development Standards:

- Standard I: The teacher designs instruction appropriate for all students that reflects an understanding of relevant content and is based on continuous and appropriate assessment.
- Standard II: The teacher creates a classroom environment of respect and rapport that foster a positive climate for learning, equity and excellence.
- Standard III: The teacher promotes student learning by providing responsive instruction that makes use of effective communication techniques, instructional strategies that actively engage students in the learning process, and timely, high-quality feedback.
- Standard IV: The teacher fulfills professional roles and responsibilities and adheres to legal and ethical requirements of the profession.

For each RtOP, create the heading: “Connect to Standard,” and in this section you will need to examine the standards and select one to discuss in light of your observation/practice. How does the standard speak to what you observed, saw or did? Be specific and give a detailed discussion that thoroughly demonstrates your understanding of the standard you selected. Keep in mind that you are expected to use all 4 standards at least once over the course of the semester; however, there is not a particular order you must go in—just make sure you address each of them thoroughly.

3. Third, CONNECT to Text

Under the heading: “Connect to Text” and in this section you will connect your experience to one or more of the course readings. How do the readings speak to what you are observing or doing? What are the contradictions and/or challenges? How do the readings help you understand what you are observing, doing and/or thinking about? Make sure you properly cite your response in APA or MLA style. No excuses about APA or MLA formatting. See <http://owl.english.purdue.edu/> for an excellent resource.

4. Fourth, CONNECT to Self

Finally, for each RtOP, under the heading: “Connect to Self,” you are expected to connect what you have observed to yourself. What are you learning about yourself? What are you learning about teaching elementary school? How does this awareness inform your notion of teaching and learning at the elementary level—that is, what it appears to be and what it can be?

So, to recap, each RtOP should have the following components with appropriate section headings:

- Connection to TTESS (Observe)
- Connection to Standard
- Connection to Text
- Connection to Self

Name: _____

Field Experience: A B C D E

Observe - Based on the video you watched how would you rate the teacher? Analyze the rubric and describe the evidence you found in the video to place the teacher at Needs improvement, Developing, Proficient or Accomplished.

Connect to Standard- As you were analyzing the video which Professional Standard did you connect to? What specific evidence supports your choice?

Connection to Text - According to any chapter you have read in our course textbook or the article that was provided for each video you will answer the following question: How do the readings speak to what you are observing or doing? How do the readings help you understand what you are observing, doing and/or thinking about?

Connection to Self -What are you learning about yourself? What are you learning about teaching school? How does this awareness inform your notion of teaching and learning at the elementary level?
