Course Purpose and Design: Students will study about the lives of important female thinkers from the Medieval period in western culture as well as the historical and social contexts in which they lived. Along with the introduction to the lives of these singular women, students will also learn about the social institutions and social norms against which these women often struggled.

TEXTS (REQUIRED):

All of the texts for this course are free and available online. Links to the texts are provided within Blackboard and on the syllabus.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS AND GRADING:

Two (2) exams worth 100 points each (200 points total) Exams will consist of essay questions.

9 Quizzes worth 10 points each (90 points total)

9 Assignments worth 10 points each (90 points total) Assignments are based on weekly readings and on articles from internet (links posted in Units).

Group Presentation Outline worth 25 points Each group will submit an outline by midterm to the professor for evaluation and feedback. Outline should specify the group's topic, the main ideas, and who will be doing what.

Group Presentations worth 100 points Students are randomly assigned to groups for the entire course. Your group has two functions: weekly discussions and a group presentation due during the last week of class. Your group presentation will take a medieval problem and compare it to a contemporary issue relating to gender.

Group Discussions worth 100 points. You must start the discussion early in the week by posting an individual thread to the group question. Your post should be at least 100 words, and you should post at least three times each week in order to receive full credit. You are welcome to discuss asynchronously, which means at your convenience. Group members will be graded only on their own posts – if members of your group fail to post, you will not be penalized.

In order to receive full credit for your weekly discussion, your group should submit TWO (2) group reports by 11:30 PM Saturday night. There are two group reports: 1) attendance report and 2) discussion summary.

Attendance Report: Each week, a member of your group will post a report listing the names of group members who participated in group discussion and how often each group member posted.

Discussion Summary: Each week, a member of your group will post a summary of your discussion.

Group Selection: Early in the semester groups of 3-4 students each will be determined by the professor's random selection. Group duties will be rotated each week; group members will determine the rotation.

There are 3 positions: a group leader, a group recorder, and a group messenger. If there is a fourth or fifth member to any group, those members get the week off.

Duties of Group Members: Group leaders shall act as group organizers, directing group activities, keeping the group on task, and checking that all group work is properly recorded and reported and returned. Group recorder takes notes for the group and submits the Discussion Summary on the group discussion board. The group messenger takes "virtual" attendance each week and posts that information on the group discussion board as well.
