Course Description

This course is a survey of socioeconomic and cultural characteristics of ethnic groups in the U.S. and how they affect the participation of these groups in the American education system. In addition, this course also examines how ethnic groups have historically impacted the American educational system through the development of ethnic studies courses. It includes examination of specific policies and practices in American institutions that promote or inhibit participation.

In addition, this course is about resistance and revolution of a people and what this tells us about our own identity, worldviews, environment, and ways of understanding education. Given that Chicano Studies in the past has been presented as a political issues, this course has as much to do with cultural diversity issues in education, as it does with you, how education has informed your identity, and how you see the world. Essentially, this course is built around one central question, what is education? It seeks to uncover the politics behind the production of knowledge and examines how education, learning, and the retelling of history is deeply embedded in a politics of identity, a politics of production, and a politics of social control.

Being Successful In an Online Course:

Online learning is not a spectator sport. It is everyone's responsibility to participate fully so everyone can get the most from the experience. Here are some simple rules to follow to ensure participation and engagement in the learning process:

- Ask Questions: If you do not know the answer, someone else will. There is a Discussion Forum entitled HELP BOARD that is for asking questions related to content OR any problems you are having. Make sure that you have clearly indicated the subject of your message. If you are having technical difficulties you should first contact tech support at <http://issweb.utep.edu/techsupport/>
- Reach Out to Others: Offer a fact, article, link or other item that can help others learn something you can share.
- Be Appropriate: The online classroom is not the place for insulting or insensitive comments, attacks, or venting. Inappropriate behavior will BE subject to disciplinary action.
- Be Diplomatic: When sending messages on emotionally charged topics, make sure you write the message and then walk away for at least an hour before re-reading the message and then sending it. Re-reading emotionally charged messages ensures that they are constructive instead of destructive. Think of the person at the other end.
- Stay Focused: Stay on topic to increase the efficiency of your learning.

Communicating Effectively Online:

When we converse, we expect other people to observe certain rules of behavior. The same is true online. Here are a few pointers to help you communicate more effectively.

- Clearly summarize the contents of your message in the subject line of your e-mail AND your discussion board postings.
- Avoid using all capital letters. USING ALL CAPS MAKES IT LOOK LIKE YOU'RE SHOUTING! IT'S ALSO MORE DIFFICULT TO READ.
- Avoid using sarcasm in your postings and e-mail messages. Sarcasm does not translate well in the online world.
- The following is very important for maintaining a well-organized board. If you are going to reply to a posting, then click on the Reply button. If you are going to change the direction of the discussion, then click on the Create Message button. DO NOT start a new thread every time you post! Either reply to an existing post or start a new topic of conversation.

Course Policies:

Academic Dishonesty:

Academic dishonesty is prohibited and is considered a violation of the UTEP Handbook of Operating Procedures. It includes, but is not limited to cheating, plagiarism, and collusion.

Cheating may involve copying from or providing information to another student, processing unauthorized materials during a test, or falsifying research data on laboratory reports.

Plagiarism occurs when someone intentionally or knowingly represents the words or ideas of another person's as ones' own. Collusion, involves collaborating with another person to commit any academically dishonest act. Any act of academic dishonesty attempted by a UTEP student is unacceptable and will not be tolerated. Violations will be taken seriously and will be referred to the Dean of Students Office for disciplinary action. Students may be suspended or expelled from the University for such Actions.

Students with Disabilities:

I will make any reasonable accommodations for students with limitations due to disabilities, including learning disabilities. Please contact the Center for Accommodations and Support Services (CASS) in the first week to discuss any special needs you might have. If you have a documented disability and require specific accommodations you will need to contact the Center for Accommodations and Support Services (CASS) in the East Union Bldg., Room 106 within the first week of class.

The Center for Accommodations and Support Services can also be reached in the following ways: Web: <http://www.sa.utep.edu/cass>; Phone: 915-747-5148; Fax: 915-747-8712; Email: cass@utep.edu

Attendance Policy:

This is an online class so there is no real attendance policy. Attendance is taken by measuring your work online. You are responsible for doing all the work and reviewing the online lectures every week.

Deadline Policy:

Deadline for most assignments is 11:59 PM (MST) on the due date; CHECK COURSE CALENDAR for all due dates and deadlines as late submissions will not be graded.

Please ensure that you carefully read all instructions. Reading the instructions is your responsibility and you should not assume due dates or times. Work can be submitted before the deadline time/date.

Exams:

There will be no formal exams, but there will be individual projects, group projects, and group discussion boards, the quality of which will determine your grade.

Groups:

You will work in groups of five to six. Random groups will be generated after the first week of class. These are permanent groups and no changes will be permitted.

Learning Modules:

The class consists of eight (8) Learning Modules (One per Week). ### 1. Quizzes (30%):

There will be a total of three quizzes, one every other week. The quizzes are located in a folder for the corresponding week. The quizzes will consist of 15 to 25 multiple-choice questions each. They are designed to test your knowledge on the reading materials AND film/documentaries. Every other week a quiz will be available to you beginning at 8 am Thursday through Friday at 11:55 pm. You will have a 1-hour limit on each of the quizzes. The quiz schedule is as follows:

- Quiz 1: Available Week 1
- Quiz 2: Available Week 3
- Quiz 3: Available Week 6

2. Critical Thinking Discussion Videos (20%):

You will be required to create two Critical Thinking Discussion Videos of 45 to 60 seconds after the screening of documentaries and the review of course material assigned for the week. The videos will be posted to your group for viewing in an effort to spark discussion. Please use your cell phones or tablets to create the videos. Please note that the videos do not have to be professional; rather, I want to engage in a conversation with students that mirrors the interactions that we would naturally have in a classroom. You will have several Films/Documentaries to watch throughout the semester. There will be two Discussion Videos assigned for this course (Week 2 and Week 4). You are required to respond to the videos posted by your group members. A discussion forum will be created where the videos will be posted. Each student will screen all the videos by their group and respond (in writing) to two of the videos posted. You can agree or respectfully disagree with the viewpoints posed by your groupmates. You are also required to incorporate the readings for the week in your responses. The Films/Documentaries/Readings will be viewed/reviewed on your own time during the week assigned. The discussion videos schedule is as follows:

Discussion Board 1: Available Week 2

Discussion Board 2: Available Week 4

3. Group Research Project (50%)

A UTEP librarian is embedded in this course to help students develop their research project, which will culminate in final research project for the course. You will be placed in teams of 5 to 6 team members. Each team will select a topic that relates to themes discussed in the Mexican American Education Study reports published by The United States Commission on Civil Rights between 1969 and 1974. The topic selection may be drawn from the following themes:

- Investigate complaints alleging denial of the right to vote by reason of race, color, religion, sex or national origin, or by reason of fraudulent practices;
- Study and collect information concerning legal developments constituting a denial of equal protection of the laws under the Constitution because of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin, or in the administration of justice;
- Appraise Federal laws and policies with respect to the denial of equal protection of the laws because of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin, or in the administration of justice; and
- Serve as a national clearinghouse for information concerning denials of equal protection of the laws because of race, color, religion, sex or national origin.

The research project will consist of developing a website (using Weebly as the platform) for the topic selected. The website needs to be organized in a chronological order. Further, each group member will be responsible for two decades (each team member will have their own webpage in the team website) and will describe the social culture of the decade, important events and the political context of the decade. It is important that you incorporate news clippings, videos, photos, court cases etc. The timeline for this project is 1930 through 2010. Additional information for developing the group project will be available Week 2.

NOTE: As a team, you will select a research topic. Once the research topic has been selected and approved by me you will each work independently of the team. Moreover, each team member will be responsible for their own work and submit their own research project assignments.

- Week 2: Each group will select a topic for their research paper. Their topic selection needs to be submitted by the Friday at Midnight of Week 2. The submission should include a summary of the topic selected and the centuries assigned to each group member. (5%)

- Week 3: Each group member will submit a RefWorks for the centuries they propose to research. (10%)
- Week 5: Each group will submit a draft of their webpage by week 5 due Friday at midnight. (10%)
- Week 6: Each team member will evaluate their webpage draft. An evaluation matrix will be provided by professor. Each team member will have to complete a self-evaluation and will have one-week to evaluate their work and provide feedback. The self-evaluation will be due the Friday of Week 6 by midnight. (5%)
- Week 7: The evaluation matrix feedback forms will be distributed back to each group week 7. Each group will use the feedback to make modifications to their webpage as necessary.
- Week 8: The final website/webpage will be submitted Week 8 (Final Due December 9, 2016 no later than 11:55 pm). (20%)
