COURSE DESCRIPTION

This (CEL)* course focuses on the development of composition skills and strategies in problem-based discourse and the development of students' understanding of their role as socially-responsible members of society. The main goal is to build the knowledge and competencies that will enable students to be participating community leaders, while at the same time helping them recognize various rhetorical patterns relevant to problem discovery, description, and definition, as well as those relevant to analytical and evaluative writing in both printed and multimodal texts. Students will engage in service and reflect on these activities in writing to further develop their critical thinking abilities and continue developing their academic and language skills. These skills will be developed further through class discussions, planning techniques, guided and timed writing practices, and purposeful feedback and revisions. The concept of genre is also introduced through various readings and writing activities as well as in-class discussions.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT & LEADERSHIP (CEL) DESIGNATION

*The "CEL" designation for this course stands for "Community Engagement & Leadership" and is part of a new certificate program in the College of Liberal Arts (full details to be provided at the start of the course). The purpose of this CEL course is to strengthen students' understanding of their role in society as engaged citizens and to build the knowledge and competencies that will enable them to be socially responsible and participating community leaders. Accordingly, course assignments and assessments are developed in line with the CEL program mission in Liberal Arts.

Throughout the syllabus, students will find several CEL tasks and assignments. Students are expected to contribute at least 20 hours to our school partnerships to effect positive change in our community. There will be a digital option for any student unable to carry out face-to-face service. This engagement is not an "extra" 20 hours. Instead, it is the groundwork for several of the writing and speaking assignments to be carried out in the course. Because this engagement will be integral to several of your assigned essays, oral reports, and homework assignments, approximately 35-40% of your final grade will be CEL-related.

HYFLEX (Hybrid Flexible) COURSE DELIVERY

This course is delivered in the Hybrid-Flexible "HyFlex" format. Students can choose to take the class online, in the classroom, or both. (This is the Flexibility part of HyFlex.) However, if students decide to take the class online synchronously, they must secure an excellent internet connection to participate in all class activities and follow through. Equally important, they are required to have their microphone and a camera on when taking the class synchronously online. Thus, no matter which mode they choose, they are responsible to follow through with each weekly learning module.

However, if students decide to take the class online synchronously on Zoom, they must secure an excellent internet connection to participate in all class activities and follow through.

If for some reason they decide to join the class via Zoom Live Synchronous Class Meeting, they need to go to Blackboard and click on the Zoom link but they need to make sure to log in with their official UTEP name and not any nickname or they will miss attendance. Equally important, they are required to have their microphone and a camera on.

HyFlex classes demand that students develop good organizational and time-management skills, that they interact with instructors and classmates via computer-mediated communication as needed or required, and that students develop the ability to work independently. As with any other class, it is important to attend all sessions and it is crucial to devote the necessary computer time to the class (see attendance policy below).

OBJECTIVES

At the end of the course, students will be able to:

- Understand the concept of genre and discourse communities as a conceptual framework to evaluate and compose texts.

NETIQUETTE

As we know, sometimes communication online can be challenging. It’s possible to miscommunicate what we mean or to misunderstand what our classmates mean given the lack of body language and immediate feedback. Therefore, please keep network etiquette) guidelines in mind. Failure to observe them may result in disciplinary action.

- Always consider the audience. This is a college-level course; therefore, all communication should reflect polite consideration of others’ ideas.
- Respect and courtesy must be provided to classmates and the instructor at all times. No harassment or inappropriate postings will be tolerated.
- Blackboard is not a public internet venue; all postings to it should be considered private and confidential. Whatever is posted on these online spaces is intended for classmates and professors only. Please do not copy documents and paste them to a publicly accessible website, blog, or other space.

DIRECT SERVICE (CEL): Students will select an organization from this class list provided by UTEP’s Center for Community Engagement to provide service. Students must complete 20 hours of direct service with the organization over the semester.

MAJOR COURSE ASSIGNMENTS AND EXAMS

The following is an overview of assignments for this course. Specific guidelines, instructions, and recommendations for each assignment will be provided in class and/or through Blackboard by the instructor. The focus of this course will be on all stages involved in the writing process.

- WEBSITE ANALYSIS REPORT (CEL): Once students have chosen the organization they would like to volunteer for from the list provided by UTEP’s CUE website, they will review the website of that organization and analyze it rhetorically (audience, goals, organization, message, format, etc.) This analysis will be presented as a written report according to the guidelines specified on Blackboard. Students will provide 20 hours of direct service to this organization, or if necessary, one of the other organizations approved by the instructor and available on the CUE website only.
- PROPOSAL ESSAY (CEL): Students will develop a proposal to help solve the problem related to the organization they have selected. Students will research various solutions that have been attempted and the results previously obtained (successful or not). Then, combining the information they have collected from research with their own observations and experiences working with the organization, students will propose and/or defend a specific solution that might be feasible to implement in the future, supporting their proposal with facts, and commenting on the necessary conditions for implementation. To carry out this assignment more effectively, students should complete at least 10 hours before completing this assignment.

- ORAL REPORT ON SERVICE (CEL): Students will deliver oral presentations on their experience with community engagement. They will reflect on their specific experience as well as the problem as a whole explored through the aforementioned assignments.

There will be some additional writing activities outside of the CEL project.

- EVALUATION ESSAY: Students locate a relevant argumentative or opinion text about a social problem, evaluate the claims being made, and adopt a position about such claims. Alternative views from other sources may be included.
- WRITING EXAMS (2): These timed writing exams (one before and one after the mid-term point) will focus on problem definition, a brief response to an essay-type question, and/or evaluative/argumentative writing (taking a position on a given statement). Students are required to take these exams with Respondus Monitor Lockdown browser.

HOMEWORK, ORAL PRESENTATIONS, ASSIGNMENTS, and LIBRARY SESSIONS/HANDOUTS

In addition to the assignments described above, the course May include a variety of homework assignments and other writing tasks such as journal writing, position/opinion papers, quick in-progress reports, library session handouts and quizzes, and etc. Some, not all, maybe CEL-related.

NOTE: Some modifications or adjustments may be made to the assignments described above according to the needs of students in each section.

FINAL EXAM

Students are required to take a departmental final writing exam, which will be during final exams week on Monday from 7-9:45 AM, MST. Students will need to be ready with Respondus Monitor Lockdown Browser to take their exams online. Students may not request to have this exam another day or time. If they miss it, they will miss their final exam grade. The exam essay will focus on expository prose (argumentative or evaluative) and will be rated in relation to organization and development, text and paragraph structure, academic language usage, and grammar and mechanics.

ESOL LANGUAGE LAB--OPTIONAL

You do not have a lab requirement for this section. However, you are welcome to go to the lab and join in any lab activities. The lab offers writing tutoring, computer-assisted language learning (CALL) activities, conversation practice, among other activities. You may also visit UTEP's online Writing Center for assistance with your writing assignments. Writing tutoring will be available both in-person and online.

ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION IN HYFLEX ESOL COURSES

Attendance in the course is determined by participation in the learning activities of the course. Your participation in the course is important not only for your learning and success but also to create a community of learners. Participation is determined by the completion of the following activities:

- Participating in engaging in discussion with your peers on the discussion boards (grading rubric provided in the “grading information” area of each forum)
- Accessing Blackboard and engaging with the posted materials weekly
- Other activities as indicated in the weekly modules

Because these activities are designed to contribute to your learning each week, they cannot be made up after their due date has passed. Since this is a Hybrid Flexible (Hyflex) course, students aren’t penalized for not attending class in person or not attending live class Zoom meetings. However, if they choose to take the class online asynchronously, students are required to watch the class meeting video recordings to get credit for their class participation. It’s highly recommended that they keep good time management skills and always stay attentive to our homepage on blackboard announcements.

I will not drop you from the course. However, if you feel that you are unable to complete the course successfully, please let me know and then contact the Registrar's Office to initiate the drop process. If you do not, you are at risk of receiving an "F" for the course.

NOTE: Students who are sick and may be contagious should NOT come to class. If you do not have medical documentation that you are too sick to come to class, your two allowable unexcused absences can be used without penalty, and you may make up the classwork. It is therefore important that you do not miss class unless absolutely necessary, so you have the allowable absences available in case of illness.
