COURSE DESCRIPTION

This (CEL)* course focuses on the development of composition skills and strategies in problem-based discourse and the development of students' understanding of their role as socially-responsible members of society. The main goal is to build the knowledge and competencies that will enable students to be participating community leaders, while at the same time helping them recognize various rhetorical patterns relevant to problem discovery, description, and definition, as well as those relevant to analytical and evaluative writing in both printed and multimodal texts. Students will engage in service and reflect on these activities in writing to further develop their critical thinking abilities and continue developing their academic and language skills. These skills will be developed further through class discussions, planning techniques, guided and timed writing practices, and purposeful feedback and revisions. The concept of genre is also introduced through various readings and writing activities as well as in-class discussions.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT & LEADERSHIP (CEL) DESIGNATION

*The "CEL" designation for this course stands for "Community Engagement & Leadership" and is part of a new certificate program in the College of Liberal Arts (full details to be provided at the start of the course). The purpose of this CEL course is to strengthen students' understanding of their role in society as engaged citizens and to build the knowledge and competencies that will enable them to be socially responsible and participating community leaders. Accordingly, course assignments and assessments are developed in line with the CEL program mission in Liberal Arts.

Throughout the syllabus, students will find several CEL tasks and assignments. Students are expected to contribute at least 20 hours to our school partnerships to effect positive change in our community. There will be a digital option for any student unable to carry out face-to-face service. This engagement is not an "extra" 20 hours. Instead, it is the groundwork for several of the writing and speaking assignments to be carried out in the course. Because this engagement will be integral to several of your assigned essays, and oral reports and homework assignments, approximately 35-40% of your final grade will be CEL-related.

HYFLEX (Hybrid Flexible) COURSE DELIVERY

This course is delivered in the Hybrid-Flexible "HyFlex" format. Students can choose to take the class online, in the classroom, or both. (This is the Flexibility part of HyFlex.) However, if students decide to take the class online synchronous, they must secure excellent internet connection to participate in all class activities and follow-through.

Equally important, they are required to have their microphone and a camera on when taking the class synchronous online. Thus, no matter which mode they choose, they are responsible to follow through with each weekly learning module.

However, if students decide to take the class online synchronously on Zoom, they must secure an excellent internet connection to participate in all class activities and follow through.

If for some reason they decide to join the class via Zoom Live Synchronous Class Meeting, they need to go to Blackboard and click on the Zoom link but they need to make sure to login with their official UTEP name and not any nickname or they will miss attendance. Equally important, they are required to have their microphone and a camera on.

HyFlex classes demand that students develop good organizational and time-management skills, that they interact with instructors and classmates via computer-mediated communication as needed or required, and that students develop the ability to work independently. As with any other class, it is important to attend all sessions and it is crucial to devote the necessary computer time to the class (see attendance policy below).

OBJECTIVES

At the end of the course, students will be able to:

- Understand the concept of genre and discourse communities as a conceptual framework to evaluate and compose texts.
- Conduct a rhetorical analysis of a community-focused multimedia text (e.g., website) and identify (con)textual variables related to purpose, audience, messages, style/register, and language usage.
- Identify and describe community problems presented in texts (causes, effects, intervening factors) as well as strategies for a solution.
- Analyze and evaluate claims and arguments related to specific problems or situations and adopt a position regarding such problems or situations.
- Collect and synthesize information from multiple sources including personal experience arising from community engagement to compose well-argued proposals, describing possible alternatives or solutions to specific problems or situations.
- Employ effective strategies to develop well-organized, logical, and coherent problem-solution texts.
- Identify the importance of community engagement as a form of civic engagement, participation, and a way to strengthen social responsibility
- Build communication skills
- Develop critical thinking skills
- Teamwork interpersonal skills
- Increase social justice and social responsibility awareness

Optional materials:

- Hacker, D., & Sommers, N. (2015). A writer's reference (with resources for multilingual writers and ESL), 8th Edition. Bedford/St. Martins.
- Any current monolingual collegiate dictionary such as Merriam-Webster's, Oxford, or Longman.

As we know, sometimes communication online can be challenging. It's possible to miscommunicate what we mean or to misunderstand what our classmates mean given the lack of body language and immediate feedback. Therefore, please keep network etiquette) guidelines in mind. Failure to observe them may result in disciplinary action.

- Always consider the audience. This is a college-level course; therefore, all communication should reflect polite consideration of others' ideas.
- Respect and courtesy must be provided to classmates and the instructor at all times. No harassment or inappropriate postings will be tolerated.
- Blackboard is not a public internet venue; all postings to it should be considered private and confidential. Whatever is posted on these online spaces is intended for classmates and professors only. Please do not copy documents and paste them to a publicly accessible website, blog, or other space.

HELP BOARD

If you have a question you believe other students may also have please post it in the Help Board of the Discussion Boards inside of Blackboard. Please respond to other students' questions if you have a helpful response.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Check the Blackboard announcements frequently for any updates, deadlines, or other important messages.

COMMUNICATION STATEMENT

I will be checking my Email around 8AM Mountain Standard Time every day but please allow me 7 hours to respond to you. If you send me a message prior to a quiz, discussion board, or assignment, I will not be able to respond or help you.

DIRECT SERVICE (CEL): Students will select an organization from the list provided by UTEP's Center for Community Engagement to provide service. Students must complete 20 hours of direct service with the organization over the semester.

MAJOR COURSE ASSIGNMENTS AND EXAMS

The following is an overview of assignments for this course. Specific guidelines, instructions, and recommendations for each assignment will be provided in class and/or through Blackboard by the instructor. The focus of this course will be on all stages involved in the writing process.

WEBSITE ANALYSIS REPORT (CEL): Once students have chosen the organization they would like to work with from the list provided by UTEP's Center for Community Engagement to provide service they will review the website of that organization and analyze it rhetorically (audience, goals, organization, message, format, etc.) This analysis will be presented as a written report according to the guidelines specified on Blackboard. Students will provide 20 hours of direct service to this organization, or if necessary, one of the other organizations approved by the instructor and available on the CUE website.

PROPOSAL ESSAY (CEL): Once students have completed at least 10 hours of service, Students will develop a proposal to help solve the problem related to the organization they have selected. Students will research various solutions that have been attempted and the results previously obtained (successful or not). Then, combining the information they have collected from research with their own observations and experiences working with the organization, students will propose and/or defend a specific solution that might be feasible to implement in the future, supporting their proposal with facts, and commenting on the necessary conditions for implementation. To carry out this assignment more effectively, students should try to complete as many hours as possible (ideally up to 10 hours) before completing this assignment.

ORAL REPORT ON SERVICE (CEL): Students will deliver an oral presentation on their experience with community engagement. They will reflect on their specific experience as well as the problem as a whole explored through the aforementioned assignments.

There will be some additional writing activities outside of the CEL project.

EVALUATION ESSAY: Students locate a relevant argumentative or opinion text about a social problem, evaluate the claims being made, and adopt a position about such claims. Alternative views from other sources may be included.

WRITING EXAMS (2): These timed writing exams (one before and one after the mid-term point) will focus on problem definition, a brief response to an essay-type question, and/or evaluative/argumentative writing (taking a position on a given statement). Students are required to take these exams with Respondus Monitor Lockdown browser. For this Hyflex course, both in-class writing exams will be available for a week but with 1 attempt only.

HOMEWORK, ORAL PRESENTATIONS, AND ASSIGNMENTS:

In addition to the assignments described above, the course May include a variety of homework assignments and other writing tasks such as journal writing, position/opinion papers, quick in-progress reports, etc. Some, not all, maybe CEL-related.

NOTE: Some modifications or adjustments may be made to the assignments described above according to the needs of students in each section.

FINAL EXAM

Departmental final writing exam is May 9 from 7AM to 9:45AM: Students are required to take a departmental final writing exam, which will take place during final exams week. Students will need to be ready with Respondus Monitor Lockdown Browser to take their exams online. The exam essay will focus on expository prose (argumentative or evaluative) and will be rated to organization and development, text and paragraph structure, academic language usage, and grammar and mechanics.

Students are required to take their final exam as UTEP's Final Examination schedule specifies it to avoid any conflict of schedule with another class. Also, this is a Departmental final.
