COURSE DESCRIPTION

Welcome to Management 4300! This course focuses on the understanding of why some companies perform better than others. As advanced undergraduate students you already know that companies are complex entities that require many types of specialized knowledge such as accounting, finance, operations management, marketing and human resources management. In this class we will build on what you already know in these different areas while focusing on the behavior and performance of the entire organization.

More specifically, the course is designed to provide you with theoretical knowledge, frameworks and a business simulation experience to understand how companies develop a competitive advantage through the development and redeployment of firm resources and capabilities. The course can be described in two words: pragmatic and eclectic. It is pragmatic because I will be teaching about issues and concepts relevant for your future business career. It will contextualize key theoretical ideas through the use of a business simulation. It is eclectic because I draw upon a wide variety of theoretical ideas.

COURSE LEARNING OBJECTIVES

To overarching goal of the course is to understand the key elements of strategic management of a company: analysis of the firm and its competitive environment, analysis of strategic alternatives, and development of strategic recommendations. This will be achieved through the following learning objectives and corresponding activities and assessments:

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION GOALS AND OBJECTIVES OF BBA

The College of Business Administration has established goals and objectives to assess its BBA program. The goals and objectives assessed in MGMT 4300 are:

- 1.1 BBA students will assess an organizations strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats and will integrate these factors into a viable strategic plan.
- 1.2 BBA students will analyze a firm’s financial and accounting information identifying firm strengths and weaknesses and will develop suitable strategies to improve corporate performance.
- 1.3 BBA students will recognize, measure, and analyze market demand for a product or service and will integrate this analysis into an effective marketing strategy.
- 1.4 BBA students will understand the role of financial markets and institutions in our economy and will integrate these monetary factors into an effective decision-making process.
- 1.5 BBA students will employ information technology to collect and evaluate business data to support the formulation of organizational strategies based on the results of their analysis.
- 1.6 BBA students will employ production operation models to supply chain problems and will recommend the operating strategy that maximized shareholder value.
- 1.7 BBA students will integrate decision processes and models from management, marketing, economics, finance, and accounting into the value creation process
- 2.2 BBA students will apply quantitative methods and frameworks to business problems and will incorporate the results of analysis into operating strategies.
- 4.1 BBA students will write concise, clear business reports.
- 4.2 BBA students will prepare and make a persuasive, professional speech on a current business topic.

LEARNING METHOD

The course will involve some lecture and discussion of the key concepts and frameworks. This part is important to clarify your understanding of these ideas for their correct application. However, much of the learning will occur through the strategic management of a company in the Capstone business simulation. The Capstone business simulation is incorporated into all MGMT 4300 courses. It consists of a tournament competition involving six companies in the electronic sensor industry. Each company, comprised by a student team, develops and implements strategies that determine its performance.

My assumption going into class is that you have read or prepared the assigned material. I believe that learning occurs most effectively when you are actively engaged in the process. Therefore, if you want to learn and do well in the course you have to prepare and participate.

COMMUNICATION

I will use a course site on Blackboard to post all class materials and email communicate with you.

EVALUATION

See class schedule on page 9 for all dates and deadlines.

Individual assessment:

(1) Class participation	10%
(2) Exams (2)	15% each
(3) BBA assessment	10%
(4) Capstone rehearsal and quiz	1% (extra credit)
(5) Lessons learned paper	4% (extra credit)
(6) Comp-XM Basix	10%

Team assessment:

(7) Capstone performance - practice rounds	2.5%
(8) Capstone performance - competition rounds	15%
(9) Team presentation	5%
(10) Final report	10%
(11) Peer review	7.5%

(1) Class participation

Class participation is an important component of the course. Class participation will be assessed through the Top Hat response system. Top Hat requires the use of a laptop computer, tablet, smart phone or cell phone in class (standard texting fees apply to the latter). If you do not have access to one of these devices please let me know as soon as possible.

You are required to record attendance through this system at the beginning of a session in order to earn participation points in it. Earning at least 80 % of all participation points available in the semester is required to obtain the full share of participation in the final grade.

(2) Exams

There are two in-class closed-book exams. They will contain multiple choice questions. The questions can be based on the textbook, additional notes and class discussions.

(3) BBA assessment

An in-class closed book exam. It assesses the degree of fulfillment of the BBA program's learning goals listed above. I will provide further information in class.

(4) Capstone rehearsal and quiz

Completion of this assignment will accelerate your learning and ease the transition to the team-based competition. You are required to complete at least one round and the quiz.

(5) Lessons learned paper

This paper requires an individual assessment about strategic goals, external assessment, internal assessment, strategy choice, strategy implementation and strategy evaluation. I will provide further information in class.

(6) Comp-XM Basix

This computer-based assessment uses the business simulation to assess individual business judgment and analytical skills.

(7) Capstone performance in practice rounds

Your company will compete against five other companies in the electronic sensor industry. There are 2 practice rounds.

(8) Capstone performance in competition rounds

Your company will compete against five other companies in the electronic sensor industry. There are five official competition rounds.

(9) Team presentation

Each team is required to make a final presentation explaining their decisions and learning through each official round of Capstone. I will provide further information in class. See Appendix A for grading rubric. Each student needs to present to be graded in the last section of the BBA assessment.

(10) Final report

Each team is required to submit a final written report the day of their presentation detailing their decisions and learning through each official round of Capstone. See Appendices B and C for details.

(11) Peer review

This component will be based on your peers' evaluation of your overall contribution to your team during the semester.

Course Grading Policy:

A: Represents achievement that is outstanding relative to the level necessary to meet course requirements.

B: Represents achievement that is significantly above the level necessary to meet course requirements.

C: Represents achievement that meets the course requirements in every respect.

D: Represents achievement that is worthy of credit even though it fails to meet fully the course requirements.

F: Represents failure (or no credit) and signifies that the work was either (1) completed but at a level of achievement that is not worthy of credit or (2) was not completed and there was no agreement between the instructor and the student that the student would be awarded an I (see also I).

I: (Incomplete) Assigned at the discretion of the instructor only under extraordinary circumstances, (e.g. hospitalization). It requires a written agreement between instructor and student.

Scale:	A 90-100%
	B 80-89.9%
	C 70-79.9%
	D 60-69.9%
	F 59.9% and below

Re-grading Policy:

- All requests must be submitted in writing to me. You must identify:
 - The question or point you believe was incorrectly graded
 - The amount of credit you request
 - The reasons why
- All requests must be handed to me within a week of receiving your grade.
- This policy applies to exams and final project.

Make-up Exams:

I will provide make-ups for exams to students under truly unavoidable or legitimate circumstances. Such circumstances include, but are not necessarily limited to, documented illness, documented participation in athletic events or other group activities sponsored by the University, serious family emergencies, subpoenas, jury duty, military service, and religious observances.

Disabilities:

If you have a disability and need classroom accommodations, please contact The Center for Accommodations and Support Services (CASS) at 747-5148, or by email to cass@utep.edu, or visit their office located in UTEP Union East, Room 106. For additional information, please visit the CASS website at www.sa.utep.edu/cass.

Academic Honesty:

"The University of Texas at El Paso prides itself on its standards of academic excellence. In all matters of intellectual pursuit, UTEP faculty and students must strive to achieve excellence based on the quality of work produced by the individual. In the classroom and in all other academic activities, students are expected to uphold the highest standards of academic integrity. Any form of academic dishonesty is an affront to the pursuit of knowledge and jeopardizes the quality of the degree awarded to all graduates of UTEP. It is imperative, therefore, that the members of this academic community understand the regulations pertaining to academic integrity and that all faculty insist on adherence to these standards. Any student who commits an act of academic dishonesty is subject to discipline. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, collusion, the submission for credit of any work or materials that are attributable in whole or in part to another person, taking an examination for another person, and any act designed to give unfair advantage to a student or the attempt to commit such acts. Proven violations of the detailed regulations, as printed in the Handbook of Operating Procedures (HOP), and available in the Office of the Dean of Students and on the homepage of the Dean of Students at: <http://www.utep.edu/dos> may result in sanctions ranging from disciplinary probation, to a failing grade on the work in question, to a failing grade in the course, to suspension or dismissal, among others." (UTEP's Handbook of Operating Procedures)

Suspected cases of academic misconduct will be reported to the Office of the Dean of Students.

CLASS POLICIES:

- You are expected to arrive to the class on time and stay until the end. Please notify me in advance if you need to arrive late or leave early in extraordinary cases.
- You must carry your University-issued ID during class. If you do not show your ID when asked I reserve the right to prevent you from taking an exam or participating in classroom activities.
- Do not be disruptive to the instructor or other students. I reserve the right to ask any students disrupting the normal flow of class to leave the room. If this occurs, you will need to meet with me before you further attend class.
- No audio or video recording of the class is allowed without my written consent.
- Be brief and to the point when speaking in class.
- Respect other people's ideas.
- Use technology responsibly.

COURSE DROP:

Course drop deadline is October 31. You must meet with an advisor to complete a course drop. If you do not drop the class and you stop coming to it, you will get an "F" grade.

OTHER POINTS:

It will often occur that I do not directly discuss some of the assigned reading material. In these cases, I believe that this material is important but is easily understood from your reading of it. If you have questions on this material please let me know.

Strategic management is an evolving discipline. I will let you know when I believe the book has limitations on explaining some concepts.

If you have any questions or concerns about the class, please contact me.

ABOUT ME:

I have a Ph.D. in Business Administration with a focus on Strategy and International Management from the University of Minnesota (Carlson School of Management). I also have a M. Sc. in International Economics and Business with a concentration on Business and Economics of South East Asia from the Stockholm School of Economics in Sweden, and a B. Sc. in Industrial and Systems Engineering from ITESM (Monterrey Tech) Querétaro Campus in Mexico. I have primarily taught in the areas of strategic management and international business at upper undergraduate and graduate levels (MBA and Ph.D.). Before joining UTEP I was Assistant Professor of Management at the University of Massachusetts Dartmouth. I was also Full-Time Lecturer at ITESM Campus Guadalajara prior to pursuing my doctoral degree. Prior to my academic career I worked for Coca-Cola bottling groups in Mexico in marketing and distribution.

My research interests revolve around corporate strategy, international expansion, institutions, and economic geography. My work has been published in Innovating Strategy Process (a Strategic Management Society Series book), Advances in Strategic Management, Strategic Organization, Journal of International Management, and European Journal of Political Economy. I have presented my research at major international conferences organized by the Academy of International Business, the Academy of Management, the European International Business Academy, and the Strategic Management Society. I am also a member of the Editorial Review Board at Global Strategy Journal.
