ONLINE COURSE INTERFACE

This course will use Blackboard as the primary online interface. In addition to postings and course communication, Blackboard will also serve as a private and secure space for students to access up-to-date grades. RWS 3355 consists of sixteen modules, each of which opens on Monday morning (12:00 AM) and closes the following Sunday (11:59 PM).

SYLLABUS

A current draft of this syllabus can always be accessed through Blackboard (See the folder titled "Course Documents"). Any modifications to the syllabus will be announced in the course modules.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

The primary goal of RWS 3355: Workplace Writing is to develop students' professional communication skills. Effective communication requires an awareness of and appreciation for discourse communities as well as an understanding of genre, rhetorical strategy, and the writing process.

This class helps students determine the most effective strategies, arrangements, and media to use in various situations within the workplace. Students will produce a variety of documents and acquire more confidence and fluency in written and visual communication.

A secondary goal of Workplace Writing is to strengthen students' self-learning skills. This means they will be required to work independently and manage their time responsibly.

REQUIRED TEXT

We will use the 12th Edition of Oliu, Brusaw, & Alred's Writing That Works.

ISBN: 978-1319019488

- It is your responsibility to manage your workload, complete all assignments, and stay on top of your grades. It is also your responsibility to arrange an office meeting with me to discuss questions and/or concerns. The earlier you contact me with questions and/or concerns, the better we can deal with them.
- UNIVERSITY WRITING CENTER (UWC): I encourage you to make use of the UWC during the planning, drafting, and/or revising phases of writing any assignment in this class. The trained writing consultants can help give you a fresh perspective on ideas and help you with things like correctness, formatting, etc. This semester the UWC is available for online sessions only. You can make an appointment here: <https://www.utep.edu/uwc/>

- RESOLVING ISSUES: It is your responsibility to manage your workload, complete all assignments and stay on top of your grades. It is also your responsibility to arrange an office meeting with me to discuss questions/concerns. The earlier you contact me with questions/concerns, the better we can deal with them.
- PLAGIARISM: An act of plagiarism (or other form of academic dishonesty) will result in an 'F' for the course, and may include other University disciplinary action, such as suspension or expulsion. You should become familiar with the ethical guidelines for conduct spelled out in the Student Affairs section of the Handbook for Operating Procedures. Additionally, please be aware that you may not submit work for this class that was produced for another class. You must produce your own original work in this class and appropriately identify and portion of your work which is collaborative with others, borrowed from others, or which is your own work from other contexts. Always cite your information. If you have doubts as to whether or not you are using your own or others' work legally and ethically, ask me or stop by the UTEP Writing Center. Follow this primary principle: Be upfront and honest.
- ADA: The Americans with Disabilities Act requires that reasonable accommodations be provided for students with physical, sensory, cognitive, systemic, learning, and psychiatric disabilities.
