Welcome to the undergraduate Project Management Course. Official information for OSCM 3335, including grades, will be posted on Blackboard. You are responsible for reading and responding to Blackboard “Announcements”, “Assignments”, “Assessments”, and any other information concerning this course - check your Blackboard account daily!

Course description (From Goldmine)

Project Management will examine various aspects of project management from conception and planning to project control and termination. Topics include: project scheduling, precedence diagramming, PERT, CPM, budgeting, and project management information systems. Organizational and conceptual issues such as project team development and management structure will be addressed.

Prerequisites: OSCM 3321 and QMB 3301.

Objectives:

At the completion of this course students will be able to:

1. Understand organizational structures, staffing and management functions associated with project management.
2. Engage communications and conflict management methods conducive to successful project management.
3. Describe expectations of, identifiable elements of, and best practices associated with successful projects.
4. Engage planning, scheduling and cost estimation and control techniques critical to successful project management.
5. Understand the role and value of key metrics in determining project status.
6. Engage risk and quality management regimens that facilitate project success.
7. Relate the above objectives to specific topics/sections in the Project Management Institute’s Project Management Body of Knowledge (PMBOK).
8. Relate the above objectives to the Certified Associate in Project Management (CAPM) examination outline, as a CAPM exam preparation aid.
9. Understand the basic functionality of Microsoft Project 2016 as a project management automation platform.

Lectures

Important material from the textbook, reference books, and case studies will be covered in class. You should plan to read a lot and take careful notes. Discussion is strongly encouraged about the topics being covered.

Regular Exams

There will be 3 regular, non-comprehensive exams that cover class materials and chapters in the textbook and reference books, taught up to the date of the last class before the exam. A regular exam must be completed within 60 minutes. On examination class days, you MUST come to class prepared with SCANTRON forms, an electronic calculator, and writing materials for taking an exam. These materials will not be provided to you, cannot be shared, and you cannot leave and reenter the classroom, once an exam has begun. There are no make-up exams. In a specific, pre-coordinated and extraordinary case, an all-essay make-up exam may be arranged at the discretion of the Professor.

Grading Policy:

10 %	First Regular Exam	A =	numerical grade ≥ 90
15 %	Second Regular Exam	B =	$80 \leq$ numerical grade < 90
15 %	Third Regular Exam	C =	$70 \leq$ numerical grade < 80
15 %	Final Presentation	D =	$60 \leq$ numerical grade < 70
5 %	Attendance and Punctuality	F =	numerical grade < 60
20 %	Software Projects
20 %	Homework and Quizzes

Project Activity

Approximately 60% of our class days will be devoted to examining the Project Management Institute's (PMI) Project Management Body of Knowledge (PMBOK) and the associated Certified Associate in Project Management (CAPM) examination outline. This activity will serve as significant CAPM exam preparation guidance, for those students wishing to pursue CAPM certification upon completion of this class. For those students interested in early achievement of this key professional certification, it will of significant value to become a student member of PMI. Student membership is just $32 and provides instant digital access to the PMBOK guide, which is the required text for this course. You can get your PMI student membership and instant PMBOK access here:

<https://marketplace.pmi.org/Pages/ProductDetail.aspx?GMProduct=00101041900>

Approximately 40% of our class days will be devoted to learning the basics of Microsoft Project 2016, a computer-aided software engineering tool that offers excellent automated project management capabilities. On these days it will be very advantageous to bring a laptop computer to class running Microsoft Project 2016, so that you can follow along with the class activity. You can get a full copy of Microsoft Project 2016, absolutely free, here:

<https://www.utep.edu/business/student-resources/windows-software-downloads.html>

Microsoft Project 2016 is installed on all COBA CALC lab computers, so you can complete requisite activities and assignments there as well.

COURSE POLICIES

1. Electronic Devices

All electronic devices (cell phones, laptops, tablets, camera containing devices, etc.) should be completely turned off in class and should not be in the hands of students at any time during class lectures, except as noted in the Project Activities section above. The Professor reserves the right to temporarily confiscate electronic devices owned by students when electronic devices create distractions or disruptions. There will be absolutely no texting, phone calls, or social media interaction during class. All students are expected and required to comply. Keep in mind that adherence to this policy is part of your participation grade, and will be worth 5% of your overall grade.

2. Academic Integrity

Cheating is unethical and unacceptable. Using information or original wording in a paper or assignment without giving credit to the source of that information or wording is plagiarism, and is absolutely unacceptable. Do not submit work under your name that you did not do yourself. You may not submit work for this class that you did for another class. If you are found to be cheating or plagiarizing, you will be subject to disciplinary action, per UTEP catalog policy. Refer to <https://www.utep.edu/student-affairs/osccr/student-conduct/academic-integrity.html> for further information.

3. Attendance and Punctuality

Attendance is valued in this class, just as it is in the workplace. Being absent or late to class sends a negative message to the Professor, just like it does to an employer, manager, or customer. You cannot make a contribution to class discussion when you are not present. Please keep in mind that missing 1 class is equivalent to missing 5 days of work.

Class attendance is required and expected. Exam and quiz material will be partially based on lectures, therefore you are responsible for all material covered in class. Please arrive on time and take your seat quickly and quietly. Arriving late hinders all students and is considered disruptive to everyone in class.

Please keep in mind this University policy on attendance (Class Attendance): “When in the judgment of the instructor, a student has been absent to such a degree as to impair his or her status relative to credit for the course, the instructor can drop the student from the class with a W before the course drop deadline or with a grade of F after the course drop deadline.” The instructor reserves the right to raise or lower student’s grade based on the quality and quantity of the student’s participation.

4. Homework

There will generally be one homework assignment given each week for the entire semester, taken from material previously covered in class. Please note that you should complete and turn in homework exclusively through Blackboard. Homework will not be accepted via hardcopy, email, or text messages and cannot be turned in after its due date. If you expect to miss class, make sure you will be able to do the homework before its due date. No late assignments will be accepted. Unless specifically stated otherwise in a homework assignment, all homework is a strictly individual and non-collaborative task.

5. Quizzes

There will generally be one reading quiz due each week, taken from textbook material that will be covered in the week to follow. These reading quizzes are structured to compel and reward you for reading ahead in the text in preparation for upcoming lectures. Reading quizzes will be administered through Blackboard and generally be due each Tuesday for the entire semester. Reading quizzes will usually cover one chapter, except in cases where two chapters are being covered in a subsequent week’s lecture.

8. Campus Carry:

Persons who hold a Concealed Handgun License can lawfully carry their gun into a UTEP classroom as long as it remains concealed. Open carry remains prohibited on campus. Should you feel someone is intentionally displaying a gun (or any other weapon for that matter), do not hesitate to call Campus Police (ext. 5611) or 911. For information on campus concealed carry, see <https://www.utep.edu/campuscarry/>.

For more information on campus safety and emergency response, see:

<https://www.utep.edu/student-affairs/dean-of-students-office/student-safety/emergency-response/index.html>.

Please note that the GBC is a designated Campus Carry Exclusion Zone – a property leased by the University which has existing tenant leases prohibiting weapons. For more on Exclusion Zones see: <https://www.utep.edu/campuscarry/exclusion-zones/index.html>

9. Student Responsibility

Individual students must operate with integrity in their dealings with faculty and other students; engage learning materials with appropriate attention and dedication; maintain engagement when challenged by difficult learning activities; contribute to the learning of others; and perform to standards set by the faculty.

Note: This is a tentative syllabus and the Professor reserves the right to make changes at any time.
