Course Description

This course introduces students to the sociological perspective and thinking critically about society. This will be accomplished through studying sociological concepts based on social theory and research on groups and social processes, social inequalities, and social institutions. We will apply these concepts to understand the world around us. To best apply social theory, we will use a medical sociology lens on the issue of what influences reproduction in the United States. We will also take a hands-on approach to learning sociological research through quantitative research methods.

Sociological Objectives

- Students develop a sociological perspective to examine ourselves, others, groups, and society
- Students understand, compare, and contrast the three major sociological perspectives
- Students understand the sociological concepts and contemporary issues concerning the social construction of race, ethnicity, gender, social status, economic class, and reproduction.
- Students become familiar with multiple types of social institutions (economic systems, health, etc.) and their evolution over time
- Students develop a critical understanding of how large-scale social institutions shape our lives and the society in which we live

Content-specific Objectives

- Understand the medicalization of women’s bodies
- Understand the economic, political, and social forces that shape reproductive health decisions

Research-related Objectives
• Demonstrate critical thinking and in writing
• Identify strengths and limitations of qualitative and quantitative social science data
• Learn to code qualitative data

You can access this course’s Blackboard site through your my.utep.edu portal (use your email address and password to sign in). As a requirement of this class, you must regularly check your e-mail and our Blackboard site. Blackboard is where we will post class announcements and assignments. The syllabus and any supplementary course materials will be posted here, along with your grades after each assignment. If you have a question about the course that is not clearly stated in the syllabus, please e-mail your TA directly.

Assignments

Each week’s assignments and information about assignments will be in a folder, labelled for the week, on Blackboard. You will have the whole week to complete all assignments.

| Homework for this course will be taken in the form of short answer reading responses. To develop your critical thinking skills, and be an active reader, you are required to write a short answer reading response on each reading from the R&S reader. This will be a typed, one (1) page (double spaced) reflection (per reading) (see class schedule below).

Your short answer reading response needs to address:

• In 1-3 paragraphs describe what the main points of the reading were AND how the reading relates to the sociology topics from that week’s Sociology 3e chapter(s). |
| Final Paper (details on blackboard)   |               |

| In-class Presentation of Final Paper Topic | 10%   |
Reviews of classmates’ Presentations 10%

The course will be graded on a standard scale: 90+ = A, 80-89 = B, 70-79 = C, 60-69 = D, 59 and below is an F. “Satisfactory” is a 70% or above.

We aim to provide feedback on your submitted work within a week. You are responsible for checking your email and Blackboard course site regularly.

Online Etiquette: Unprofessional behavior or cyber-harassment will not be tolerated. This includes cyberbullying, cyberstalking, and flaming.

Drop Policy: We will NOT drop students from the course. If a student chooses to drop the course, it is the student's responsibility to do so. Failure to do so will result in a grade of "F" for the course.

Making up work: You may submit work late but you lose 5% off the grade every day that it is late.

Academic Integrity

This course is based on the principle of academic integrity. Students are responsible for their own academic behavior, and for making themselves fully aware of UTEP’s policies. Academic dishonesty is prohibited and is considered a violation of the UTEP Handbook of Operating Procedures. It includes, but is not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, and collusion. Cheating may involve copying from or providing information to another student and possessing unauthorized materials during a test. Plagiarism occurs when someone intentionally or knowingly represents the words or ideas of another person's as ones' own. And, collusion involves collaborating with another person to commit any academically dishonest act. Any act of academic dishonesty attempted by a UTEP student is unacceptable and will not be tolerated. Violations will be taken seriously and will be referred to the Dean of Students’ Office for disciplinary action. In addition to receiving a failing grade in the class, the student may be suspended or expelled from UTEP for such actions. Further information can be gained from the UTEP Dean of Students’ web page. Go to http://www.utep.edu/dos/, then click the Student Conduct tab on the top.

Disability

Any student with a disability that may prevent her/him/them from fully demonstrating her/his/their abilities should contact the instructors as soon as possible to discuss accommodations necessary to ensure full participation and facilitate educational opportunity. If you have a disability and need classroom accommodations, please contact The Center for Accommodations and Support Services (CASS) at 747-5148, or by email to cass@utep.edu, or visit their office located in UTEP Union East, Room 106. For additional information, please visit the CASS website at www.sa.utep.edu/cass. This should be done within the first 2 weeks of classes.

Title IX Statement

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (Title IX), prohibit discrimination on the basis of sex in education programs or activities operated by recipients of Federal financial assistance. Sexual harassment of students, which includes acts of sexual violence, is a form of sex discrimination prohibited by Title IX. Sexual violence refers to physical sexual acts perpetrated against a person's will or where a person is incapable of giving consent due to the victim's use of drugs or alcohol. An individual also may be unable to give consent due to an intellectual or other disability.

A number of different acts fall into the category of sexual violence, including rape, sexual assault, sexual battery, sexual coercion, stalking, and relationship violence. All such acts of sexual violence are forms of sexual harassment covered under Title IX.

In accordance with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, UTEP does not discriminate on the basis of sex in the operation of its educational programs and activities. This commitment to non-discrimination applies to both employment in and admission to such programs and activities. [Link to full text at http://admin.utep.edu/Default.aspx?tabid=68750]

Tips for Success

- If you are having a problem with the class, let the instructor know as soon as possible. It is difficult to fix a problem from week 4 when you let us know in week 14.
- Do all assignments. Even if you think it’s not your best work, a 5 out of 10 is still better than a 0 out of 10. Those little points add up and give you a better grade than if you do nothing. You will also get more from the class and understand more as a whole if you engage with the materials.
- Utilise the University Writing Center. Points are not deducted for poor writing on short answer assignments (but they are on the final paper), but if we cannot understand what you’re saying, we cannot give you a good grade. Even if you think you’re a good writer, it’s worth checking out as there is always more to learn.
- Take advantage of Extra Credit opportunities where possible. Those little points here and there make a big difference!
