Expectations and Policies

What to Expect from the Instructor

I will log into our course at least once a day, and you can expect responses to e-mails within 24 hours. Please wait 24 hours to resend e-mails if you have not received a response. I will return graded assignments to you within a week of receiving them.

Participation

This course requires that you have at least 12-18 hours each week of access to a computer with a high-speed Internet connection. You are required to log into the course at least three days each week. Weekly discussions require students to interact with the instructor and classmates on at least two days each week. Timely and regular online participation with your peers is essential to being successful in this course. Participation in an online course can be challenging because it brings together different perspectives and attitudes without a face-to-face connection with one another. We understand that and ask that you work hard to achieve positive interaction with your peers. Students are expected to be respectful and supportive of other students. Many different ideas will be welcomed and encouraged. We will discuss some controversial topics, and students must feel that they are comfortable to express their thoughts. Your participation is vital for discussion and assignments, and it is very difficult to get a satisfactory grade in this course if you do not log into the course at least three times each week. Assignments will be evaluated not only for completion, but also your willingness to engage your classmates in discussion about communication theories and concepts.

Academic Dishonesty Statement

Academic dishonesty is prohibited and is considered a violation of the UTEP Handbook of Operating Procedures. It includes, but is not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, and collusion.

- Cheating may involve copying from or providing information to another student, possessing unauthorized materials during a test, or falsifying research data on laboratory reports.
- Plagiarism occurs when someone intentionally or knowingly represents another person's words or ideas as his or her own.
- Collusion involves the unauthorized collaboration with another person or group to commit any academically dishonest act.

Any act of academic dishonesty attempted by a UTEP student is unacceptable and will not be tolerated. Violations will be taken seriously and will be referred to the Office of Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution for possible disciplinary action. Students may be suspended or expelled from UTEP for such actions. More information can be found in the UTEP Handbook of Operating Procedures, under the heading "Alleged Student Scholastic Dishonesty" and the Regents' Rules and Regulations.

Late Policy

Late written assignments will receive a one point deduction for each twenty-four hour period (including weekends) the assignment is late. Generally, I find it unacceptable for students to turn in late assignments, unless there are extreme and extenuating circumstances. Late final papers will not be accepted and you will receive a zero for the assignment.

Effective Electronic Communication

It is important to share a word of caution, so we can become wiser about interpersonal distance learning communications. In an online environment, many of the feelings or impressions that are transmitted via body language in face-to-face communications are lost. Consequently, interpreting emotions and innuendos can be difficult. Only what is written, or drawn, carries the message. Often, excitement can be misinterpreted as anger or insult. It is important that we all keep this in mind as we communicate.

Words in print may seem harmless, but they could emotionally injure us when working at a distance. Hence, we must be conscious of how we communicate while working at a distance and use good netiquette, i.e., online communication etiquette. For example, your classmates may not know who is posting a comment, so clearly identify yourself when posting to a discussion board. Further, avoid using all capital letters in electronic communication as all caps come across as shouting.

The standard practice ("netiquette") for participation in networked discussion requires that all comments focus on the topic at hand, not become personalized, and be substantive in nature. In other words, you may certainly disagree with others, but you must do so respectfully; you may express strong beliefs or emotions, but you may not get so carried away that you lose all perspective on the course itself.

More information on netiquette, the etiquette of Internet communication, can be found at www.albion.com/netiquette.
