Course Description

This course is the first of a two-semester track (Piano Pedagogy Majors are required to take Piano Pedagogy III (Intensive/Advance Practicum)). It is designed to study the different areas of piano teaching, learning theories, repertoire, and methods; as well as the incorporation of technology in teaching. This first semester will focus on learning and reviewing piano methods for beginner students, the introduction to learning techniques, and the use of technology. Observation and practice teaching for beginners. This course is also available for graduate credits.

Course Goal

To provide the students with the knowledge of keyboard pedagogy, methods, and learning theories. Students will be exposed to traditional and new approaches in teaching piano privately and/or in group settings, as well as the latest technology applied in music teaching. Surveys of various teaching materials will be examined with an emphasis in the analysis of musical and technical elements and musicianship. There will be visits to local piano teacher studios to observe teaching situations and to talk about the business of teaching privately. Practice of teaching will follow.

Attendance

- Attendance is required and will be taken at the beginning of each class meeting.
- Absences: you are allowed to have 3 unexcused absences during the semester. Your grade will be dropped 3% for every unexcused absence beyond the 3 allowed.
- Each tardy will be considered ½ absence
- Excused absences should be notified to the instructor in advance, if possible at all, and followed by a note from the Music Department's Chair, Dean of the college, or doctor.

- Attendance is required for all examinations. No make-ups will be given unless the instructor is notified in advance or provided with a note from the Music Department's Chair, Dean of the college, or doctor. Attendance to Final Examination is mandatory. An absence in final examination will result in failing the class.

Grades:

Your grade will be based on your attendance, required readings, midterm, assignments, and examinations calculated as follow:

Points: 100 - 90 %=A; 89.9 - 80 %=B; 79.9 - 70 %=C; 69.9 - 60 %=D; 59.9 - 50%= F
