Course Description

This course is the first of a three-semester track. All piano majors are required to take the first two courses, Piano Pedagogy I and II. In addition, Piano Pedagogy Majors are required to take Piano Pedagogy III (Intensive/Advanced Practicum). It is designed to study the different areas of piano teaching, learning theories, repertoire, and methods, as well as the incorporation of technology in teaching. This first semester will focus on learning and reviewing piano methods for beginner students, introduction to learning techniques, the use of technology, observation, and practice teaching for beginners. This course is also available for graduate credits.

FALL2020: due to COVID 19, the Digital Keyboard Lab capacity has been reduced to 11. This class has low enrollment, and given the Department's sanitization plan, I feel comfortable teaching F2F. This may change, and I am flexible to switch to remote teaching.

Course Goal

To provide the students with the knowledge of keyboard pedagogy, methods, and learning theories. Students will be exposed to traditional and new approaches in teaching piano privately and/or in group settings, as well as the latest technology applied in music teaching. Surveys of various teaching materials will be examined with an emphasis on the analysis of musical and technical elements and musicianship. There will be visits to local piano teacher studios to observe teaching situations and to talk about the business of teaching privately. Practice of teaching will follow.

Attendance

- Attendance is required and will be taken at the beginning of each class meeting.
- Absences: you are allowed to have 3 unexcused absences during the semester. Your grade will be dropped 3% for every unexcused absence beyond the 3 allowed.
- Each tardy will be considered ½ absence
- Excused absences should be notified to the instructor in advance, if possible at all, and followed by a note from the Music Department's Chair, Dean of the college, or doctor.
- Attendance is required for all examinations. No make-ups will be given unless the instructor is notified in advance or provided with a note from the Music Department's Chair, Dean of the college, or doctor. Attendance to Final Examination is mandatory. An absence in final examination will result in failing the class.

Grades:

Your grade will be based on your attendance, required readings, assignments, and examinations calculated as follow:

Assignments (Lab): 50 points total

Tests (2): 40 points, 20 points each

Final Portfolio: 10 points

Points: 100 - 90 %=A; 89.9 - 80 %=B; 79.9 - 70 %=C; 69.9 - 60 %=D; 59.9 - 50%= F

The Texas Department of Public Safety defines a concealed handgun as a handgun, the presence of which is not openly discernible to the ordinary observation of a reasonable person. This same definition is utilized at UTEP. At all times, the handgun must be on or about the license holder's body or secured and concealed safely. An individual's right to carry a concealed handgun is governed by specific legislative and institutional requirements. If you see any individual on campus with a handgun or other type of weapon, call the University Police at 747-5611 or dial 911 University Police will respond and resolve the situation appropriately. Violations of the concealed carry policy will be adjudicated through the campus conduct process and/or the legal system. What is concealed carry?
