

- Have a developed understanding of how scholarly research about the judicial process can inform and advance the goals of public policy formation.
- Be adroit in understanding the importance of popular culture in shaping/capturing orientations towards judges and the law.

UTEP EDGE ADVANTAGE

You can learn about UTEP Edge, here: <https://www.utep.edu/edge/about/index.html>

This class fulfills the following targeted UTEP Edge Advantage skills:

- Communication: Discussion boards, essay profiling a Supreme Court Justice's role in a case, a book review, and responses to films and/or music.
- Confidence: Multiple choice tests to give you a deeper understanding of the textbook.
- Critical thinking: Relationship of judges to society, partly based on understanding how the Supreme Court has become the ultimate arbiter of Constitutional law.
- Problem solving: Multiple choice tests, profile essay and book review.
- Social responsibility: examining the social forces that influence who judges are, how they are educated and trained, and the processes they govern.

Required readings

The required texts for this course are:

Corley, Pamela A., Artemus Ward & Wendy L. Martinek. 2016. American Judicial Process: Myth and Reality in Law and Courts. Routledge, New York.

ISBN: 9780415532983

Includes access to online student resources at companion website:

<http://www.routledgetextbooks.com/textbooks/9780415532983/student.php> (no access code required)

*Please note that the companion website is managed by Routledge and neither the professor nor UTEP can take any responsibility for broken or outdated links.

Grisham, John. The Appeal. ISBN: 9780385342926

Grading Scheme

Note well: Failure to submit any assignment, including submitting an incomplete assignment, may jeopardize your final grade in this class. I do not issue passing grades for students who have failed to hand in work.

Tests (30 points each)

Seven, due weekly. 210 points

Discussion board (50 points each)

Four, due periodically. 200 points

Midterm 150 points

Final 150 points

Essay: Role of Judge in Specific Case 150 points.

Book Review 140 points

Grisham, The Appeal.

Total: 1,000 points

The total point score is then divided by 10 to provide a percentage. The letter grades break down in the following way:

% Letter

≥ 89.50 A

79.50-89.49 B

69.50-79.49 C

59.50-69.49 D

≤ 59.49 F

Descriptions of graded work

Late work is unacceptable. You are advised to contact the instructor before the due date if, for any reason, you are going to submit late work.

WEEKLY TESTS

After you do the assigned readings for a given week, you will take the test (which will have about 30 questions per week). The tests are based on the materials you read, consult, or view each week. You shall submit your answers to the tests by Sunday, 11:00pm (MT) each week.

EXAMS

There are two exams for the course: a midterm and a final. Questions for the midterm are based on materials used in the weeks up to the midterm, and for the final from the midterm on.

The exams will be “open book” so that you will be able to have all support materials you think are necessary to answer the exam questions.

The exams will be administered via Blackboard.

The dates and times of the exams are established in the calendar (see below) and also in Blackboard.

The exams are to be taken individually—it is not allowed to discuss the exam questions with the classmates or anyone else.

Please refer to the section on “Academic Integrity” below to review the University and instructor policies on cheating, collusion, and plagiarism.

MAKE-UP EXAMS

Make-up exams will be given only in the case of a documented emergency (see “excused absences” below). Note that make-up exams may be in a different format than the original exam and may require more intensive preparation. If you miss a test and your absence is not considered excused, you will receive a zero on the test. This policy will be strictly enforced.

ESSAY PROFILING ROLE OF A US JUDGE IN A CASE

One of the key purposes of this course is to introduce you to how judges are shaped, (s)elected, and the role they play as arbiters of legal disputes.

An important part of this goal is to help you develop the analytical skills necessary to grasp the dynamics of systematically studying the significance of judges in U.S. policy formation and implementation.

Given these objectives, you will write an essay that profiles the role of a judge in a case (to be chosen by professor).

While the professor may choose a case at any level of the federal judiciary, it is more than likely the professor will ask you to profile the role of late Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg in a specific Supreme Court case.

The instructions for this essay task will be provided on the course website on Blackboard.

BOOK REVIEW

You will write a review of John Grisham's The Appeal.

This novel (it is fiction but loosely based on a true story) raises questions about how an elected judiciary means it should best be seen as a struggle over the social and political significance of law's role in governing disputes over power.

The book review is not a summary.

The book review will be two pages in length, double-spaced, Times New Roman, 12 points.

DISCUSSION POSTS/CLASS PARTICIPATION

This is the central activity of the class and you will need to log into Blackboard several times during the week to participate effectively in the discussion board. Unlike the tests, the discussion boards are not weekly. There are four.

You will submit (on Sundays indicated in the calendar in this syllabus):

(1) a discussion post in response to a guided question (minimum of 250 words and maximum of 500 words); and,

(2) respond to at least one of your classmates' post (minimum of 100 words and maximum of 500 words).

Be sure to submit your discussion post and response to your peers for a given week by Sunday, 11:00pm (MT) of that week to receive credit for your participation.

Class participation via discussion posts makes up a significant portion of your grade in this class and is a key indicator of attendance.

Some suggestions for successful posts:

Please write with the curiosity of university students.

The instructor is more interested in doubts and the questions you raise about evidence you have consulted rather than providing concrete answers. The expression of doubt and uncertainty is a skill and something to be practiced and developed.

You are strongly encouraged to use the UTEP Writing Center for assistance in drafting all written work, including discussion boards, the SCOTUS justice profile essay, and reviews.

I expect everyone to actively participate in class and do so in a positive and appropriate way (see the "Online Etiquette and Effective Communication" section below). Keep in mind that class participation is more than just completing the scheduled assignments and taking exams—you should be willing to ask and answer questions, and contribute intellectually to class debates via online discussion posts.

Before posting a discussion, you should complete the assigned readings or viewings. Exams will cover material from the readings, possible mini lectures, and our online discussions, so doing just one or the other will leave you at a disadvantage.

Full credit for a discussion post is reserved only for those that follow the online etiquette and effective communication rules below.

Course/Instructor Policies

E-Mail Protocol

UTEP e-mail is the best way to contact the instructor: ptimmons2@utep.edu¹.

Please do not try to contact the instructor via the Blackboard messaging function.

Please only email the instructor from your UTEP email account. The instructor cannot respond to emails from non-UTEP accounts.

When e-mailing the instructor from your UTEP account, please put the course number in the subject line.

In the body of your e-mail, clearly state your question. At the end of your e-mail, be sure to put your first and last name, and your university identification number.

The instructor will make every attempt to respond to e-mails within 24-48 hours of receipt during weekdays. The instructor will respond to weekend messages by Monday at the latest.

Online Etiquette and Effective Communication

It is essential that the utmost respect and professionalism be adhered in all exchanges between class members. This is a political science course and we will be discussing at times sensitive and controversial topics. Avoid any unnecessary arguments with other class members, such as political polemical arguments (e.g., negative partisan talking points targeting those of opposing ideological perspectives or particular political figures) or, even worse, personal attacks on others for having different views.

No inappropriate behavior will be tolerated.

Unprofessional conduct will be dealt with swiftly through the university and it is at the professor's full discretion to have a student dropped from the course for any inappropriate behavior.

Online Etiquette and Effective Communication Policy

Please carefully read the following rules for online etiquette and effective communication:

Language: Given the absence of face-to-face clues, written text can easily be misinterpreted. Avoid the use of strong or offensive language, all capital letters, and the excessive use of exclamation points. If you feel particularly strongly about a point, it may be best to write it first as a draft and then to review it, before posting it, in order to remove any strong language.

Respect: A web-based classroom is still a classroom, and comments that would be inappropriate in a regular classroom are likely to be inappropriate in a Web-based course as well. Treat your professor and your fellow students with respect. Remember that members of the class and the instructor will be reading any postings.

Be Forgiving: If someone states something that you find offensive, mention this directly to the professor in an email. Remember that the person contributing to the discussion is also new to this form of communication. What you find offensive may quite possibly have been unintended and can best be cleared up by the professor.

This is Permanent: Think carefully about the content of your message before contributing it. Once sent, there is no taking it back. When reacting to someone else's message, address the ideas, not the person. Post only what anyone would comfortably state in a face-to-face situation.

Treat your professor and your fellow students with respect.

Edit Your Work: The grammar, spelling, and punctuation of a message are part of the grading criteria – you should not expect your professor and peers to decode misspelled words or poorly constructed sentences. It is a good practice to compose and check your comments in a word-processor before posting them.

Test for Clarity: Messages may often appear perfectly clear to you as you compose them, but turn out to be perfectly obtuse to your reader. One way to test for clarity is to read your message aloud to see if it flows smoothly and if you can read it to another person before posting it, even better.

Follow the Parameters/Stick to the Point: Follow the posting requirements and parameters set up by your professor. Contributions to a discussion should have a clear subject header, and you need to stick to the subject. Don't waste others' time by going off on irrelevant tangents. Also keep in mind that no credit will be received for yes/no answers. Posts should justify positions and provide specific examples. Students must demonstrate that they have read the assignment and their classmates' comments carefully and thoughtfully.

Read First, Write Later: Don't add your comments to a discussion before reading the comments of other students unless the assignment specifically asks you to. Doing so is tantamount to ignoring your fellow students and is rude. Comments related to the content of previous messages should be posted under them to keep related topics organized, and you should specify the person and the particular point you are following up on.

Use the sources, keep first person to a minimum: You should anchor all of your writing in an analysis of the course material. You are, with emphasis, not being asked to use yourself as a source. You should only use the first person (I or we) if you can connect the source material with your own experience or outlook.

Excused Absences and Excuse for Late Work

The instructor will excuse absences and late work only when a student participates in an official university-recognized activity, observes a recognized religious holiday of her/his faith that happens to coincide with a class session or due date for an assignment, is called to and participates in active military service for a reasonably brief period, or confronts a medical emergency.

To be excused, you must notify the instructor in writing prior to the date of absence.

That said, in cases where advance notification is not feasible (e.g. a medical emergency), you must provide notification as soon as possible following your absence. Such notification must include an explanation of why notice could not be sent in advance. You must also provide satisfactory documentation verifying the reason for the absence. In case of an illness, a doctor's note is the proper documentation required. For the instructor's records, you should e-mail me a scanned copy of the documentation that verifies the reason for your absence (if you don't have access to a scanner, you can take a photo of the documentation). Documentation that is not provided in a timely manner will not be accepted.

You must also provide satisfactory documentation verifying the reason for the absence.

Please do not ask the instructor to excuse absences for minor illnesses or scheduling conflicts (e.g. sports practices, play rehearsals, meetings, conferences, appointments with other professors or advisors, student teaching, having your cable installed, having a bad headache, etc.). The instructor is aware that students have other interests and obligations, but you should nevertheless make this class a priority. If you are likely to have recurring conflicts, please take another course that better fits your schedule.

See academic regulations in UTEP Undergraduate Catalogue for a list of excused absences:

<http://catalog.utep.edu/undergrad/academic-regulations/curriculum-and-classroom-policies/>.

According to UTEP Curriculum and Classroom Policies, "When, in the judgment of the instructor, a student has been absent to such a degree as to impair his or her status relative to credit for the course, the instructor may drop the student from the class with a grade of "W" before the course drop deadline and with a grade of "F" after the course drop deadline."

COVID-19 Accommodations

For those of us (I include myself in this comment) who might confront difficulties because of COVID-19, I want to reassure you that I will be flexible and understanding.

There are policies and procedures in place for the possibility that you might go to campus.

You are required to follow these policies and procedures for the safety of our UTEP community, and residents of Ciudad Juárez/El Paso/Las Cruces.

Students are not permitted on campus when they have a positive COVID-19 test, exposure or symptoms.

Even though this class is 100 percent online, you may decide to go to campus to use the library or other facilities.

If you visit campus, you must comply with campus safety procedures.

COVID-19 PRECAUTIONS

You must STAY AT HOME and REPORT if you (1) have been diagnosed with COVID-19, (2) are experiencing COVID-19 symptoms, or (3) have had recent contact with a person who has received a positive coronavirus test.

Reports should be made at screening.utep.edu.

If you know of anyone who should report any of these three criteria, you should encourage them to report. If the individual cannot report, you can report on their behalf by sending an email to COVIDaction@utep.edu².

For each day that you attend campus—for any reason—you must complete the questions on the UTEP screening website (screening.utep.edu) prior to arriving on campus.

The website will verify if you are permitted to come to campus.

Under no circumstances should anyone come to campus when feeling ill or exhibiting any of the known COVID-19 symptoms.

If you are feeling unwell, please let me know as soon as possible.

Students are advised to minimize the number of encounters with others to avoid infection.

Wear face coverings when in common areas of campus or when others are present.

Students who refuse to wear a face covering and follow preventive COVID-19 guidelines will be subject to disciplinary action according to Section 1.2.3 Health and Safety and Section 1.2.2.5 Disruptions in the UTEP Handbook of Operating Procedures.

Academic Integrity

Academic dishonesty is prohibited and is considered a violation of the UTEP Handbook of Operating Procedures. It includes, but is not limited to cheating, collusion, and plagiarism.

²<mailto:COVIDaction@utep.edu>

Cheating may involve copying from or providing information to another student and possessing unauthorized materials during a test.

Collusion involves collaborating with another person to commit any academically dishonest act. One example of collusion is preparing a discussion entry for another person or having someone prepare a discussion entry for you. The instructor encourages students to study together and work collectively; however, working together to write any part of a written assignment, research paper, and/or exam is collusion.

Plagiarism is commonly defined as passing off the ideas, works, writing, etc., of another person as your own. Accordingly, you are committing plagiarism if you copy the work of another person and turn it in as your own work, even if you have the permission of that person. Be aware, just as the internet has made it easier to find material, it has also made it easier to trace the source of any written work. If you are unsure whether a citation is required, err on the side of caution and provide one.

Any act of academic dishonesty attempted by a UTEP student is unacceptable and will not be tolerated. Violations will be taken seriously and will be referred to the Dean of Students' Office for possible disciplinary action. Students may be suspended or expelled from UTEP for such actions. Refer to the Office for Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution at <https://www.utep.edu/student-affairs/osccr/index.html>.

Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal anti-discrimination statute that provides comprehensive civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you require specific accommodations and support services, please contact the Center for Accommodations and Support Services (CASS). Please keep in mind that accommodations need to be requested at least two weeks (or a month if advance planning, such as the acquisition of books-on-tape, is required) prior to the beginning of the semester. Here is the contact information for CASS: web: <http://sa.utep.edu/cass/>; phone: (915) 747-5148; fax: (915) 747-8712; e-mail: ³cass@utep.edu;⁴ location: UTEP Union Building East Room 106.

SOFTWARE REQUIREMENTS

You may need some of the following software on your computer to efficiently work in this course (your computer may already have some of these programs installed):

☑ Adobe Acrobat Reader. To get this program, go

³<http://sa.utep.edu/cass/>

⁴<mailto:cass@utep.edu>

to <https://acrobat.adobe.com/us/en/products/pdf-reader.html>⁵ and follow the instructions.⁶

☒ QuickTime Player. To get this program, go to <http://www.apple.com/quicktime/download/> and follow the instructions.

☒ Microsoft Office. If you do not have a word-processing software, go to <https://my.apps.utep.edu>. Using My.Apps interface, UTEP students can access most⁷ software offered in student computer labs (including Microsoft Office) from their personal computing devices. Students can use any laptop, tablet, or smartphone with an Internet connection and use the software from anywhere at any time. For more information, go to <http://admin.utep.edu/Default.aspx?tabid=73740>⁸ and follow the instructions.⁹

UTEP TECHNICAL SUPPORT

The University of Texas at El Paso offers complete technical information and Help Desk support at: <http://issweb.utep.edu/techsupport/>.¹⁰

ALTERNATE MEANS OF SUBMITTING WORK IN CASE OF TECHNICAL ISSUES

The instructor strongly suggests that you save all your work (answers to discussion points, quizzes, exams, and essays) in a separate Word document as a back-up in case there is a technical issue with the course website, network, and/or your computer.

This way, you will have evidence that you completed the work and will not lose credit.

If you are experiencing difficulties submitting your work through the course website, you can always email the instructor (ptimmons2@utep.edu) your back-up¹¹ document.

However, this communication is only to prove you completed the assignment on time. The instructor will ask you to resolve your technology issues and submit the assignment via Blackboard once they are resolved.

COURSE SCHEDULE AND TASKS – WEEKS AT A GLANCE*

NB: You must start reading John Grisham's The Appeal as soon as possible.

¹¹<mailto:ptimmons2@utep.edu>

Please be aware that the Blackboard page for our class contains the specific week level readings or viewings (except for the Grisham -- which is something you should just read at your own pace, but completing it fairly early on in the class, likely by the end of week 2.)

Week 1: 07/06 to 07/11

Introduction; Myth and Reality in the Judicial Process; Thinking Like a Lawyer

Carefully read the syllabus:

- Review the posted materials in "Welcome and Course Introduction"
- Take the Syllabus Test by Thursday July 8 by 11pm MT – you must not proceed to the rest of the class without taking the syllabus test.
- Introduce yourself to the class via "Student introductions" with original contribution due on Friday, July 9 by 11pm MT, and comment to another student due by Saturday, July 10 by 11pm MT.

Week 1 module (this is a separate folder in Blackboard than the above):

Do the required readings and/or viewings/listenings; consult the publisher's companion website for the specific chapter or chapters; and:

- Take the weekly test

Week 2: 07/12 to 07/18

The Legal Profession; Organization of Courts

In Week 2 module: do the required readings and/or viewings/listenings; consult the publisher's companion website for the specific chapter or chapters; and:

- Take the weekly test
- Submit a post to the discussion board and comment on another student's post

Week 3: 07/19 to 07/25

Choosing Judges; Civil Law

In Week 3 module: do the required readings and/or viewings/listenings; consult the publisher's companion website for the specific chapter or chapters; and:

- Take the weekly test
- Essay Profiling the role of a U.S. Judge (federal bench or federal Supreme Court) due on Friday, July 23 @ 11:00pm (MT).

Week 4: 07/26 to 08/01

Criminal Law; Trials

In Week 4 module: do the required readings and/or viewings/listenings; consult the publisher's companion website for the specific chapter or chapters; and:

- Take the weekly test.
- Submit a post to the discussion board and comment on another student's post

Week 5: 08/02 to 08/08

Appeals

In Week 5 module: do the required readings and/or viewings/listenings; consult the publisher's companion website for the specific chapter or chapters; and:

- Take the weekly test (this is not the same as the midterm exam)
- Submit a post to the discussion board and comment on another student's post

Midterm Exam – will be activated on Monday, June 7 @ 11:00am and is due on Friday, August 6 @ 11:00pm (MT)

Week 6: 08/09 to 08/15

U.S. Supreme Court

In Week 6 module: do the required readings and/or viewings/listenings; consult the publisher's companion website for the specific chapter or chapters; and:

- Take the weekly test

Book review of Grisham, The Appeal, due on Friday, August 13 at 11pm MT.

Week 7: 08/16 to 08/22

Implementation and Impact

In Week 7 module: do the required readings and/or viewings/listenings; consult the publisher's companion website for the specific chapter or chapters; and:

- Take the weekly test

- Submit a post to the discussion board and comment on another student's post

Final Exam – will be activated on Monday, August 23 @ 11:00am and due on Friday, August 27 @ 11:00pm (MT).

PLEASE NOTE THAT THE FINAL EXAM IS DUE AFTER THE FALL 2021 SEMESTER HAS BEGUN! PLEASE DO NOT GET CAUGHT OUT BY THIS COINCIDENCE!

The designated time zone for the submission of all course assignments and tasks is Mountain Time (MT).

Please remember to evaluate the course. UTEP, Extended University, the Political Science Department and your professor value your assessment!
