Course Description

The primary goal of FYC1302 is to develop students’ critical thinking skills in order to facilitate effective communication in all educational, professional, and social contexts. This effective communication is based on an awareness of and appreciation for discourse communities as well as knowledge specific to subject matter, genre, rhetorical strategy, and writing process.

The class presents an approach to communication that helps students determine the most effective strategies, arrangements, and media to use in different rhetorical contexts. It teaches students a systematic approach for analyzing rhetorical situations and then producing a variety of documents and presentations while gaining more confidence and fluency in visual, oral, and written communication. In addition, because communication is central to being an active and engaged member of society, the course also provides a space for informed advocacy.

This course is taught as a hybrid class--with one face-to-face meeting for lecture and discussion, and the rest of the course utilizing a management system such as Blackboard, a Wiki, or a class website depending on the instructor. Instructors will provide students with permanent access to the syllabus, supplemental reading materials, e-mail, and discussion groups. It is vital that students check and participate in the online environment consistently as it is an integral part of the course. On occasion, students will be asked to meet on the hybrid day to participate in library research, technology workshops, presentations, or other activities their instructor might need them to be physically present for. Please keep this time available for this class. Otherwise, students may miss out on important information.

Learning Outcomes

At the end of this course, students will be able to:

- Understand a theory of discourse communities;
- Engage as a community of writers who dialogue across texts, argue, and build on each other’s work;
- Draw on existing knowledge bases to create “new” or “transformed” knowledge;
- Develop a knowledge of genres as they are defined and within discourse communities;
- Address the specific, immediate rhetorical situations of individual communicative acts;
- Develop procedural knowledge of the writing task in its various phases.
- Engage reflection about their own learning.

Students will also have the opportunity to strengthen skills sets in the following areas:
• Think, read, and write critically;
• Formulate research questions and perform primary and secondary research to answer those questions;
• Become familiar with the contents of the UTEP Library, in a variety of forms and areas of professional study (e.g. the arts, humanities, sciences, nursing, social sciences, business, engineering, and education);
• Analyze and synthesize material from outside sources;
• Develop a sensitivity to the significance of data and how it can be rhetorically applied to various genres; and,
• As part of a research process, apply research to various genres; receive instruction in the logic and form of documentation within a discipline (APA); learn writing strategies for integrating source material into your own prose (quoted, paraphrased, and summarized material); write analytical and argumentative papers appropriate to genres and larger discourse communities. Curriculum

Necessary Texts & Materials

An e-book available through the UTEP Bookstore.

Additional readings will be posted on Blackboard or instructions will be provided for accessing them. In the next section, I provide an overview of the assignments we’ll cover in this course. Specific assignment guidelines can be found in the Handbook. I’ll also post further instructions on our Blackboard course content.

The Undergraduate Rhetoric and Writing Studies Program at UTEP uses Blackboard. Projects will be submitted as MS WORD .doc to and graded through Blackboard.

MAJOR ASSIGNMENTS AND MODULE BREAKDOWN

Discussion Board Posts/ Participation: 400 pts (20%)
In lieu of in-class meetings/discussion, we will engage one another in on-line discussion (DB) with focused forums. For each discussion prompt, submit one original discussion that is thoroughly developed and well edited (3-5x, weekly). There are +20 total DPs; only 16 must be completed. Plan wisely. There is an always accessible Q&A forum where you may ask questions you might have about a reading or assignments. Your instructor will check this forum daily and will respond as necessary. You are encouraged not just to ask questions here, but to answer those posed by others. Asking a question is worth +1 extra credit. Answering a question is worth +1 extra credit. You may earn up to 50 extra credit pts. 25 pts each

Genre Analysis: 100 pts (10%)
The Genre Analysis presentation will be completed electronically, using the MS Sway App that is available from the top-left corner of your Miner Mail/Outlook. You will compare and contrast the same message, as it is delivered by two different genres: 1 typographic, or written, and the other, iconographic, or visual, OR oral, something that is only heard/spoken. You are tasked with analyzing how effectively (or not) each genre used 3 categories of rhetorical devices.

Literature Review / Primary Research Report: 400 pts (40%)
Students will conduct primary and secondary research on a social, political, or ethical issue to become well-informed experts on the issue. Students will then write a literature review of these sources to summarize and synthesize the arguments and ideas of the research sources.

Outline: 67 pts (6%)
Include APA formatting, a working thesis, generate 3-4 research questions, and begin to find sources for the Literature Review/Research Report

Peer Review (first draft): 67 pts (6%)
Once you have considered the feedback from your first-review, students should be on the path to revising and developing a second draft of the essay. Bring this draft with you to class on the assigned date. Peer reviews must be attended to submit final draft. Again, a completed essay is not necessarily expected this time around. The purpose of the second draft is to allow your peers to offer revisions and edits for your consideration.

Literature Review (second draft): 67 pts (6%)
After have your topic approved, and considering feedback on your outline and research, you should begin answering the research questions you asked. Draft submissions are required to turn in the final draft. A completed essay is not expected this time around. The purpose of the first draft is to mark your progress and offer suggestions.

Literature Review / Primary Research Report (final draft): 200 pts (20%)
Students will conduct primary and secondary research on a social, political, or ethical issue to become well-informed experts on the issue. Students will then write a literature review of these sources to summarize and synthesize the arguments and ideas of the research sources. Students will need to complete all parts of the writing process (assigned above), in order to submit a final draft.

Advanced Visual Argument: 100 pts (10%)
The Advanced Visual Argument (AVA) is a multimodal assignment in which you will utilize typographic evidence and digital design, rhetorically, to create a persuasive website.. This project helps you understand how your connection to the community begins in the classroom.

Grade Distribution (Students can earn a total of 1000 Module for the course):

<thead>
<tr>
<th>1000-900 = A</th>
<th>899-800 = B</th>
<th>799 -700 = C</th>
<th>699- 600 = D</th>
<th>599 and below = F</th>
</tr> </thead>
</table>

Course/Instructor Policies

Project Format: All projects must be word-processed and saved as a .doc file. (File types also accepted: DOCX, PDF, JPG/PNG. NO .PAGES or other inaccessible file types. Files submitted as anything other than a .doc/.docx, .pdf, or .jpg/png will not be graded.) They should be in 12 pt. font, have one-inch margins, and be double-spaced. Use a font style that is easily readable like Times New Roman, Arial, or Georgia. Follow APA formatting guidelines at all times Microsoft Word is available to students at all campus computers and can be downloaded, for free, by contacting the UTEP Technology Help Desk. Any document submitted as an inaccessible file type (especially a Google document or .PAGES) will not be graded and will receive a grade of zero (’0’).

Participation/Attendance: Students are expected to guide themselves through each Bb module and to participate in discussions, activities and assignments 100% online. Inaccessible modules/discussions/activities/assignments are not an excuse to disengage. Send an email or post to the Q&A and the modules/discussions/activities/assignments will be accessible within 12 hrs. Participation is worth 40 percent of the final grade. Unexcused absences for 3 course meetings will result in a 50% reduction of your participation grade. If you are missing 2 weeks worth of DB’s or, if you miss 2 or more major assignments, you will be dropped from the class.

According to The University of Texas at El Paso's catalog: “The student is expected to attend all classes and laboratory sessions and attendance is mandatory for all freshman-level courses (1XXX). It is the responsibility of the student to inform each instructor of extended absences. When, in the judgment of the instructor, a student has been absent to such a degree as to impair his or her status relative to credit for the course, the instructor can drop the student from the class with a grade of W before the course drop deadline and with a grade of F after the course drop deadline.” (For further information regarding excused absences for university-recognized activities, absences for religious holy days, and military leave refer to UTEP’s Catalog Curriculum and Classroom Policies: [http://catalog.utep.edu/undergrad/academic-

*If you foresee face-to-face attendance issues or difficulty in completing the assignments (i.e. a family/personal emergency, transportation complications, issues of health, etc.), please make me aware as soon as possible so that arrangements can be made. If early arrangements are not made, then the student is responsible for supplying written documentation to support the request for a "W." Acceptable reasons for a "W" include: personal or family medical emergencies, death of family member, military leave, or an exceptional work schedule that prevents you from completing the course. Please also be aware of the six-course drop limit. According to the Texas Education Code, "all first-year students enrolled for the first time at any Texas public college or university are limited to six drops during their academic career. This includes student and faculty initiated drops and courses dropped at other Texas public institutions. This policy does not apply to courses dropped prior to census day or to complete withdrawals."
So, be sure to start your college experience on the right track by attending class regularly.

University Writing Center: UTEP’s University Writing Center (UWC) offers free writing tutoring assistance for all UTEP students. The tutors are undergraduate and graduate students who can help with all parts of a writing assignment including prewriting, organizing, revising, and editing. They can also help to understand any writing assignment and help work on comprehending difficult textbook material. Note: To facilitate revision, UWC tutors will not hold a tutoring session fewer than 12 hours before the assignment is due.

Technology and FYC 1302: This course makes heavy use of technology and multimedia. It is strongly recommended that students have access to the Internet from home and are comfortable using a computer. If home access is not possible, arrangements can be made to use a computer regularly on campus in order to complete the work. Student computer labs such as ATLAS are often available until midnight, but schedules do vary. A great deal of work will be done online, and not having access to a computer will not be an excuse for incomplete or late assignments.

Technology problems are also not an excuse for work that is late or missing. Students need to get into the habit of completing assignments for this course well before the due date to allow time for dealing with technology problems.
Expect that at some time, the network will be down, computers will go on the fritz, or some other small catastrophe will occur. If students are prepared ahead of time, they can go to plan B.

Instructions for Accessing Your Course Online: Students must have a UTEP email ID and password before they can access Blackboard. UTEP automatically generates an e-mail ID for students when they are officially admitted to the university. Any questions or problems can be directed to the Helpdesk at 747-5257.

Course Delivery of Course: All the course content will be delivered via Blackboard.
Instructor Policies

Classroom Etiquette:
*If you foresee face-to-face attendance issues early on, please make me aware as soon as possible. Otherwise, tardiness, absences, unexcused late work or missing assignments will begin to add up and will negatively affect your grade, GPA and/or drop count.

- You may use smart phones, iPads, e-readers and laptops to access course material in class, but there will be absolutely no texting, checking email, typing assignments, or surfing the web during class.
- Turn off cell phone ringers, and please do not text or listen to iPods/MP3 players during class. If you are anticipating an important phone call or have an emergency, if possible, you may make me aware before class begins, so arrangements can be made.
- Do not disrupt class to charge your electronic devices.
- Debate, critical inquiry, and intellectual diversity are essential elements to higher education and a process of learning. There is the potential during this course for controversial and sensitive topics to be discussed during small group or whole class interaction, and to surface through our social media activity. You are expected to demonstrate the utmost respect and courtesy for your peers with differing arguments, viewModule, and/or experiences. Sexist, racist, homophobic, or other hateful speech will not be tolerated.
- If you chose to attend class, make sure you are on time, prepared and ready to participate. If you are habitually tardy, regularly leave class early, fall asleep, do not read and bring materials, cause disruptions, or do not engage in class discussion and activities, then you will be asked to leave the classroom and will not be welcomed back until the issue is discussed and resolved during a face-to-face meeting during office hours. This will affect your attendance and participation Module.
- Though punctuality is appreciated, if you must be late, please enter the room courteously and quietly. If you can see/here that someone is presenting, please wait outside until the presentation has concluded so you do not disrupt the class and affect the presenter. Try to be on-time to all class meetings.
- You may let me know about leaving class early or upcoming absences before class begins, but do not make this a habit. If you are absent for part or all of more than three class meetings in a month, your participation grade will be reduced by 50%. Any absence after your fourth will result in NO in-class participation Module.
- If you schedule a meeting outside of office hours, make every effort to attend. If you cannot attend this meeting and/or do not cancel and/or reschedule at least an hour before the set meeting time, then this will be considered an unexcused absence and it will become the student’s responsibility to meet with me during regularly scheduled office hours.
- If necessary, you must discuss ways to improve final grade before Week 13
- You must attend draft submissions and peer reviews in order to turn in final drafts

Online “Netiquette”:

- Always consider audience. Remember that members of the class and the instructor will be reading any response postings.
- Respect and courtesy must be provided to classmates and to instructor at all times. No harassment or inappropriate postings will be tolerated.
- When reacting to someone else’s message, address the ideas, not the person. Post only what anyone would comfortably state in an f2f situation.
- Blackboard is not a public internet venue; all postings to it should be considered private and confidential. Whatever is posted on in these online spaces is intended for classmates and professor only. Please do not copy documents and paste them to a publicly accessible website, blog, or other space. If students wish to do so, they have the ethical obligation to first request the permission of the writer(s).

Email Etiquette:
Email is a useful tool if you have questions for me, and emailing me is generally the easiest and most efficient way to make contact outside class. Given that this is a university setting, you should recognize that your emails are documents that represent you professionally, and therefore should rise to certain standards of professional decorum.
There are some basic guidelines that you should follow, both in my class and in your other classes:
1. All emails should have a clear subject heading.
2. All emails should have a clear, courteous salutation. “Dear Miss. Grado” would be appropriate in the case of this class.

3. All emails written for professional purposes should adhere to standard grammar, punctuation, and capitalization.

4. All emails should be signed with your name (otherwise, your reader may not know who you are!).

5. Emails should be sent from your UTEP/Blackboard account. If you do use another account, be sure that the name on the account is appropriate for professional interactions.

6. If there are any attachments, you should explain your reason for sending them and indicate the program in which they were written.

7. You should consider your rhetorical context when emailing. What is the purpose of your email, and how can you most effectively accomplish that purpose? Three particularly important matters to keep in mind are brevity, clarity, and courtesy. If your email is not clear, specific, and to the point, you may not elicit the response you desire. If your email is discourteous, you diminish the professionalism of the persona you present to others. To cite just one example, some professors find emails that include calls for action “ASAP” to be discourteous or even presumptuous.

Emails that do not meet the standards of professionalism, clarity, and courtesy outlined above may be disregarded.

Emails will be disregarded if:
- There is no subject
- Your name/course (+ date & time) is not easily identifiable
- The email has not been properly written and/or proofread, and is thus incomprehensible
- The tone is rude or discourteous
- You are making me aware of an absence for an unexcused or non-emergency reason
- The issue has already been addressed (online or in class)
- The Federal Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) makes it illegal to provide information regarding your education to a parent or interested party

Late Work: I will not accept late work (or excuses). When appropriate, I do accept solutions. If necessary, you may turn in work early. In the event of a major emergency that causes you to fall behind in this class, I will accept make-up* work if you perform the following:
A) Communicate with me immediately if you know you will fall behind based on a family or personal emergency.
B) Receive permission to turn in make-up work w/ a grade penalty.
C) Communicate a reasonable time period in which you plan to be back on track with this class, as well as a reasonable grade penalty and make-up due date.
D) Continue to keep up with the assignments that we are currently working on.
*Being allowed to turn in make-up work is not an excuse to turn in every other assignment late as well.

Nature of and Time Spent on Course: FYC1302 intends to help students develop a wide variety of strategies for communicating in a variety of media. To succeed in this course requires dedication and focus.

Students should allocate sufficient time for the class projects and work. The general rule for all classes is that students spend two hours working outside of class for each class credit. Because this is a 3-hour class, expect to spend 6 hours doing researching and writing each week. However, remember that the class only meets with the instructor and classmates for 1.5 hours a week. Therefore, add the additional 1.5 hours to the 6 for a total of 7.5 hours. During some weeks students may work more; some weeks they may work less. However, keep this average in mind.

Academic Integrity: COME TO ME BEFORE YOU PLAGARIZE, that way we can arrange an academically legal solution. The University of Texas at El Paso prides itself on its standards of academic excellence. In all matters of intellectual pursuit, UTEP faculty and students must strive to achieve excellence based on the quality of work produced by the individual. In the classroom and in all other academic activities, students are expected to uphold the highest standards of academic integrity. Any form of academic dishonesty is an affront to the pursuit of knowledge and jeopardizes the quality of the degree awarded to all graduates of UTEP. It is imperative, therefore, that the members of this academic community understand the regulations pertaining to academic integrity and that all faculty insist on adherence to these standards.
Any student who commits an act of academic dishonesty is subject to discipline. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, collusion, the submission for credit of any work or materials that are attributable in whole or in part to another person, taking an examination for another person, and any act designed to give unfair advantage to a student or the attempt to commit such acts. Proven violations of the detailed regulations, as printed in the Handbook of Operating Procedures (HOP), and available in the Office of the Dean of Students and on the homepage of the Dean of Students at www.utep.edu/dos, may result in sanctions ranging from disciplinary probation, to a failing grade on the work in question, to a failing grade in the course, to suspension or dismissal, among others.

(http://academics.utep.edu/Default.aspx?tabid=54418)

Copyright and Fair Use: The University requires all members of its community to follow copyright and fair use requirements. You are individually and solely responsible for violations of copyright and fair use laws. The University will neither protect nor defend you nor assume any responsibility for student violations of fair use laws. Violations of copyright laws could subject you to federal and state civil penalties and criminal liability, as well as disciplinary action under University policies.

ADA: The Americans with Disabilities Act requires that reasonable accommodations be provided for students with physical, sensory, cognitive, systemic, learning, and psychiatric disabilities. If you suspect that you have a disability and need an accommodation, please contact the Center for Accommodations and Support Services (CASS) at 747-5148 or cass@utep.edu. The CASS is located in Room 106, Union East Bldg. Students are responsible for presenting the instructor any CASS accommodation letters and instructions.

Weekly Calendar
