FALL 2016

COMM 1301- Public Speaking

CRNS: 11479, 11481

TEXT: The textbook for this course is The Art of Public Speaking, by Stephen E. Lucas, 11e. There will be an online component for this class, which will be introduced in class the first week.

Additionally, it is recommended that you purchase How To Say What To Say, Section One, online from Sentia Publishing. Here is the link: <http://www.sentiapublishing.com/buy-chapter/how-to-say-what-to-say-first-edition-bychapter>
The ISBN is: 978-0-9905993-6-4. This is recommended reading. It will guide you through the first two weeks of class.

MATERIALS: You should also purchase: either 3x5 or 4x6 index cards. You may use poster boards, markers, glue, and tape for use in making visual aids and most likely a thumb drive. You will NEED a LARGE Paper Clip! You are required to use PowerPoint or Prezi at least once this semester, but you are not limited to one use. The assistance rendered by the McGraw-Hill website is huge. I will be referencing the online component throughout the semester. Instructions for signing up will be given in class, the first or second day of class, so be there! You will need to buy the book, either paper or online.

There will be online testing through CONNECT, which is the name of the McGraw-Hill online speech component. Therefore, it is very important to you to sign up ASAP and get started. If you wait until the end of the semester to try to take all the exams at once, and run into trouble, I will be unable to help you. I will be busy myself, and not able to answer a string of emails individually. If you have trouble in February, I will make every effort to help you deal with the problem, so get busy now!

III. COURSE CONTENT

A. COURSE DESCRIPTION FROM THE CATALOG: COMM 1301. Public Speaking (C).

Public Speaking (3-0) (Common Course Number SPCH 1315) Introduction to the theory and practice of public speaking; the inventing, arranging, phrasing and presenting of ideas to an audience. The complementary skills of speaking and listening are developed through criticism of speeches presented in class.

B. COURSE OBJECTIVES:

This course seeks to develop eight factors in your understanding of Public Speaking:

- (1) Memorize key theories, methods, technical terms and principles.
- (2) Evaluate and analyze the work of others and themselves in terms of the verbal, nonverbal and paralingual standards that are set for this course.
- (3) Apply competing perspectives and approaches to speaking in public.
- (4) Practice skills as both a sender and receiver of feedback after presenting or viewing a speech.
- (5) Analyze and detect ethical factors in the presentation.
- (6) Select the appropriate pattern of organization for the audience, topic and occasion.
- (7) Identify a topic and construct a clear central idea statement.
- (8) Use and report required research.

C. LEARNING OUTCOMES:

The techniques you learn will help you become a better speaker, and will benefit the fearful speaker when coupled with the communication apprehension exercises offered in this course.

D. ASSIGNED READINGS: Carefully read all assigned chapters; lectures will provide connection between theories and practice. Using "How To Say What To Say" as a companion to the text book will strengthen your presentation strategies. Section One gives explicit directions and exercises to alleviate communication anxiety; Section Two will provide additional examples and instruction of the patterns of organization that are best suited to Informative and Persuasive speaking; Section Three provides additional support in delivery techniques.

IV. RULES, CLASSROOM POLICIES

ATTENDANCE: In this class, regular attendance provides the student with ample opportunities to observe other classmates' attempts, as well as suggestions and examples from the instructor. Therefore, repeated/excessive absences will result in a lower grade due to missing the life experiences provided. If a student anticipates an absence, report it to the instructor, so that they can coordinate speaking dates, etc.

LATE WORK: If a student misses an assigned speaking date, the grade for the assigned speech becomes a zero. If the student attends other speaking days, and is prepared to fill in for another student speaker who has missed class, or if there should be time available at the end of a class, and they make up the speech at that time, there will be no penalty assessed for that speech. HOWEVER, if a new day must be created to provide that student with an opportunity to speak, a FULL LETTER GRADE will be assessed on that speech grade.

OTHER RULES/POLICIES:

Outlines must be turned in on your speech day. A works cited page must be attached. Failure to turn in a proper outline or sources cited page will affect your grade.

Speeches should include the original thoughts of the speaker. The speaker should fuse his or her own ideas and background knowledge with research materials. PLAGIARISM is defined for this course as, "a speech in which the speaker depends on a source other than him or herself for the structure of the speech, or where he or she uses the structure or the wording of a speech, or where he or she uses the phrasing or research without acknowledgement." When plagiarism is detected, I will prosecute to the full extent of the law.

You have free choice of topic; it must meet the requirements as to type of speech, time limit, and the appropriate language. I will help any student with topic selection: just ask!

Ask questions!

That being said, we also believe that students should have diverse learning experiences and be adaptable to different styles of learning and notetaking.

Students are expected to follow the rules and guidelines established by instructors for each class that they are taking, and to make a conscious effort to adapt to learning environments that may vary across instructors, classrooms, and disciplines.

HAVE A GREAT SEMESTER!

Check out the Checklist below!!

Speech Checklist

Sherry Lewis
COMM 1301

For all “big” speeches, these are the things you must turn in:

(Note: A “big” speech is one that occurs in front of the entire class; unless otherwise noted, these require both types of outlines.)

Before the Speech: A full-sentence, complete outline, bibliography or sources cited page and a large paper clip.

This is an example of the beginning of the body portion of a full-sentence outline:

I. Shari Lewis got started as a professional ventriloquist at the age of 18 in Brooklyn, New York. (Ref: My Life, by Shari Lewis)

- a. She first performed at the Bar Mitzvah’s of her families’ friends in the neighborhood.
- b. She quickly earned a good reputation as being funny but clean in her form of puppetdriven humor.

II. However, her parents were not supportive of her efforts. (Ref: Sister, Florence; Interview, Parade, 1962)

- a. They felt there was no future for a female ventriloquist.
- b. They urged her to get married and start a family for whom she could exercise her gift.

III. On October 19, 1951, talent agent Sid Beering saw her perform at a friend’s wedding party in Brooklyn. (Ref. Life Magazine, June 1960)

- a. He was so impressed he signed her on the spot.
- b. Sid was very fair and signed her with a good contract.
- c. Their partnership continued for the next 30 years, until Sid’s death.

...And so on...

After the Speech: Give me whatever you used at the podium, no matter how similar to the formal outline it is. Be warned, it should be a key-word outline. This means you keep the subordination notations (I., A., 1, 2, B., 1, 2, etc.) with coordination (indenting to keep the format in place).

The reason I ask this of you is to show you how much easier you have access to your information than if you design your notes with dashes (-) or dots (●).

KEEP READING!!

Hence, rather than this—

- How she started

- What they thought

- Who was there

(Special side-note: The habit of asking “who, how, what and where” are negative elements because they ask questions of the speaker in the notes; but the notes should be supplying the answers. Avoid this behavior.)

Prepare your Key-word outline like this---

I. Started at 18. (My Life, 1992)

A. Performed at Bar Mitzvah's

B. Earned good rep.

II. Parents unsupportive (re: Int. w/sister Alice, Parade magazine April 1962) A.

No future

B. No life

III. Talent agent Sid Beering attended Brooklyn party (Life mag. June 1960)

A. Signed immediately

B. Good 1st contract

C. Kept him for 40 yrs.

*Notice how the information is still there, and the outline format of indentations and marks are there. These provide clarity and ease of information retrieval. Also, please note that this is only an example; this is not the full outline. It is missing the introduction and conclusion, which we will discuss in class at length.

☺ It is best if these key-word notes are recorded on 3x5 or 4x7 note cards, because paper is noisy.

☺ Works cited notations on notecards are assessed liberally; do whatever you need to do to remember to say them!

☺ You should practice your speech sufficiently to be able to speak easily and move through the points smoothly, without memorizing.

☹ Do not memorize your speech, as it will sound stilted and rushed. This will have a negative effect on your grade.

☹ Do not read your speech, or I will stop you, give you the appropriate grade (D or F), and we will move on to other, better prepared students.

◇ Use these guidelines, plus class discussion, and you could have a successful semester!

That's it for now!

Have a great semester!
