Course Description

This course introduces you to major concepts, principles, and questions in the study of politics. Politics affects how society is organized. Politics affects why certain policies are adopted while many seemingly important issues are not even discussed by policymakers. In essence, politics affects every citizen; it affects your everyday life. In a globalized world, moreover, your decisions may affect people living in distant countries; conversely, politics in other countries also affect your life. In order to become an effective citizen of the global community, you therefore need to understand the basics of politics. This course provides an introduction to politics and political science, with an emphasis on learning how to understand political events, political institutions, and political discourse in the United States and around the world.

Course Objectives

Upon the successful completion of the course, you will be able to:

- 1) define key concepts and principles in political science;
- 2) apply these concepts and theories to real-world problems;
- 3) evaluate different perspectives in politics; and
- 4) describe and evaluate alternative political institutions.

Required Textbook

The following book is a required textbook for the course. Additional readings are available on the course's webpage (Blackboard).

Neal Riemer, Douglas W. Simon, and Joseph Romance. 2014. The Challenge of Politics: An Introduction to Political Science, 4th Edition. CQ Press.

Course Requirements

Reading Assignments and Class Attendance

You are required to come to every class having completed all readings assigned for the class. Assigned readings are listed on the course schedule at the end of this syllabus. Many studies have repeatedly demonstrated that students who regularly attend class and complete assigned readings are more likely to do well on the exams. Some of the questions on the exams will be from materials covered in class, which may not be covered in the textbook. Some questions will be from assigned readings, which may not be discussed in class. Therefore, both class participation and doing assigned readings are mandatory and essential for your success in this course.

You have signed up for a Maymester class, which covers 15-week materials in only two weeks. Do not miss a class, and do not get behind in readings. It will be very difficult to catch up.

Exams

There will be two exams. Exam 1 will be given on Friday, May 23 at 1:30-3:30 pm. Exam 2 will be given on Friday, May 30 at 3:00-5:00. The exams will be closed-book and closed-notes, and will consist of multiple-choice questions. You need to bring a scantron, pencils, and a picture ID to take the exams. Each exam is worth 50 percent of your final grade.

Throughout the term, you will have various opportunities to earn bonus points you for your exams. Points earned before Exam 1 will be added to Exam 1 only. Points earned after Exam 1 will be added to Exam 2. These points may be earned only during a class, and you must be present to take advantage of these opportunities.

- Arrive early on the exam days. No student will be allowed to enter the classroom after 10 minutes past the beginning of the scheduled exam time unless prior arrangements are made with me for valid documented reasons.
- Make-up exams are considered only with a timely presentation of proper documentation indicating the nature of the emergency, and the make-up exam, if granted, must be taken immediately. Valid emergencies include an unexpected emergency room visit due to illness, death in your immediate family, etc. Regular, scheduled appointments with your doctors are not considered emergencies. No make-up exams will be given for missing an exam due to tardiness.
