I. Course Description
This course focuses on the acquisition and application of ethnographic research methods used in the social sciences with a focus on ethnography as theory, method, and practice. This class will involve both intellectual and experiential learning; that is students will learn through course lectures, readings and discussions as well as hands-on ethnographic fieldwork or survey-based research. Topics covered in this class include the ethics of ethnographic research, as well as theoretical, methodological, and practical approaches to various ways of carrying out fieldwork. This course emphasizes taking systematic field notes, conducting participant-observation research, doing structured and unstructured interviews, data analysis, and transforming primary field data into written ethnographic documents. By utilizing various ethnographic methods, this course aims to link practical knowledge with disciplinary methodological and theoretical debates, as a way of applying ethnography as a social scientific methodology as a critical approach to learning about culture and society within the fields of Anthropology and Sociology.
II. Learning Goals and Objectives:

Knowledge:
* To learn how ethnographic research methods can be used in the study of culture;
* To understand cultural diversity by reflecting upon personal and external understandings of enculturation within their own social and historical contexts;
* To enhance research skills through participant observation, interviewing techniques, and reflexivity; and
* To understand how ethnography involves qualitative, quantitative, and comparative methods.

Values:
* To recognize that anthropology is built on the practice of fieldwork, data analysis and interpretation;
* To develop a respect for human beings, for their uniqueness, individuality, worth and dignity;
* To understand that many individuals are born and raised in culturally different settings with value systems that may not be the same as the prevailing value system in a given society; and
* To acknowledge the history of ethnographic research and to develop a commitment to confidentiality and other ethical research practices.

Skills:
* To demonstrate critical understanding of ethical considerations in ethnographic research;
* To conduct ethnographic research using a variety of qualitative and quantitative methods;
* To use ethnographic methods for social science research, community-based studies, and applied work;
* To systematic record fieldwork practices, organize and present ethnographic data;
* To demonstrate confidence in identifying and interviewing key informants, entering research sites, and conducting primary field-based research;
* To examine how fieldwork contributes to our understanding of culture and cultural variation;
* To assist in a literature review of Central American migrants and refugees in the U.S.; and
* To write and present quality ethnographic materials.

Student Support Services. The Center for Accommodation and Support Services is available to register for services and to make necessary accommodations for quizzes, exams, and note takers (visit the Student Union East, Room 106, 747-5148). Please speak to me early in the semester to make arrangements to accommodate your needs. The University Counseling Center is located at 202 Union West, 747-5302, for walk in appointments and career, study skills, and personal worth workshops. The Student Health Center is located in the Union Building East, Suite 100, 747-5624. The University Writing Center is located in the UTEP library Room 227 for drop in tutoring and assistance with your writing assignments and final paper. I strongly encourage you to seek help if and when you need it throughout the semester.

III. Required Course Texts and Materials:

Additional Course Readings (CR’s) will be made available on Blackboard as PDF files or as class handouts.

Research Supplies and Equipment:

To take your field notes, you will need small and medium sized bound composition notebooks and/or sketching paper. You will also need different colored pens and highlighters for the editing and revision process of your writing assignments. The class require the following work instruments: digital camera for the photographs during the fieldwork. A digital voice recorder or tape recorder for conducting and recording interviews (look for digital recorders with USB connections to facilitate downloading data to your computer). Free access (with UTEP ID) to a digital camera or digital video recording equipment is made possible at the UTEP library media center on the 3rd floor.

IV. Course Requirements:

A. Class Attendance and Participation Assignments (CAPA’s = 100 points). Attendance and participation in class are important. Courses will begin with writing prompts based on the course readings and topics in the first 5 minutes of class. While in class, you will be involved in the critical analysis of course readings and engaged participation in class lectures and discussions. There will also be short in-class or take-home assignments to practice particular ethnographic techniques such as interviewing, coding qualitative data, and writing mechanics known as CAPA’s. Students are encouraged to participate in class by discussing course readings as part of their course attendance and participation credit.

Ethnographic Methods Field Assignments Menu:

Participant observation/Culture Plunge. Select a culturally distinctive place or event to conduct participant observation research in which you are not currently acquainted with or comfortable with. Take detailed field notes of the place, people and activities of the event, and specifically describe at least 3 distinct cultural scenes you observed. Pay attention to how this place/space is used, while also taking note of the people’s verbal and non-verbal forms of communication. Write a 2 to 3 page, double-spaced narrative essay that describes your personal observations and interaction(s) with others as well as your critical descriptions, reflections and interpretations of the social interactions you observed. Your goal is to describe and interpret the social events that took place in the space(s) you have observed. The place or event may be photographed or video-recorded if permission is acquired. Assignment may be done individually or as a team (2-3 people).

Participant Observation is due on Goals: To develop skills in participant observation, entering new field sites, taking field notes, and to develop detailed description and critical reflection skills.

Life and Labor Interview Midterm. Students are to contact a person to interview, gain a signed consent form, develop semi-structured open-ended interview questions, conduct and record the interview, transcribe at least 3-4 pages of the interview, code the interview to identify key themes in the person’s narrative, write a 2 paragraph abstract of the interview, and then write a 2-3 page synthesis of the interviewee’s life and labor history.  Goals: To develop skills in listening and interviewing, transcription, qualitative data analysis, coding, and the ability to synthesize, and write about critical events in a person’s life and labor history. Assignment may be done individually or as a team (2-3 people).

Autoethnography and Life Chart. This is a reflexive autobiographical assignment based on Leigh Berger & Carolyn Ellis “Composing Autoethnographic Stories,” in Angrosino’s book (161-176), and G.G. Núñez’s In Search of the Next Harvest. Write a 2-page autoethnographic narrative written in the first person. Students are to select a key social issue or topic of personal interest, identify one theoretical perspective to address this issue, provide a one-page literature review of how this topic is addressed in anthropology/sociology, and tie your personal experience to this topic. Life Charts should have at least three lines of reflection, academics, family, labor history, and significant others in your life. A reflection describing your life chart and analyzing key themes and patterns in your life chart should accompany your work.  Auto-ethnography and life chart.  Goals: To develop skills in writing, linking personal insights with social science theory, and critical reflection.

C. Quizzes and Debates in Class. Quizzes will consist of multiple choice and short essay questions and will cover your course readings, and lectures (Each quiz is worth 10 points for a total of 100 points). Class attendance, reading presentations, and discussions will help contribute questions and content for your quizzes.  Goals: To encourage reading, note-taking, critical analysis, and comprehension of course topics and materials.

D. Ethnographic Urban Photographs Portfolio.

E. Final Paper Ethnographic Research Proposal (Written and Oral Report) based on Independent Research Project (100 points). Students are to choose from: 1) doing an applied research practicum coordinated by the Center for Civic Engagement and writing a final paper based on their service learning experience; 2) develop a research question, designing research tools, and conducting a literature review of the topic (10 academic sources) and conduct their own ethnographic research project to write a “mini-ethnography” on a local sub-cultural group in the community; 3) students with media backgrounds can design, produce, and generate a video-ethnography (15-20 minutes in length.).  Goals: To develop critical research skills based on individual interests and future application of social science in career goals.

Final Paper Proposal Rubrics @4000-word (10-15 pages) research paper due with the following sections:
- abstract
- Introduction- Explain the main objective of the proposal. Describe the community, the informants, the relevance’s of the project. Remember is a proposal. A historical background.
- Theory- discuss at least of three theories related with your proposal.
- Methods- discuss the main methods, how long will be the fieldwork phase.
- Findings – how this ethnography will be able to contribute to the society.
- Significance of the research
- Challenges and ways, you would address them if you were to do the project again
- Future Research Goals
- Conclusion
Goals of Service Learning/Ethnographic Research: To encourage first hand fieldwork experiences, participant observation, systematic documentation and critical reflection via the systematic taking of field notes, data analysis via coding, writing and editing a final ethnography. Nothing will ever compare to having first-hand research experience.

Tips for Succeeding in this Class:

1. Field notes: The systematic writing of field notes is important in doing ethnographic research. Write during or within 24 hours of your participant observation experiences. Add the dates, times, and locations of your interviews, and type up your notes as soon as possible. Your field notes are your raw data, your typed notes will help you code key themes, and identify great quotes and examples to incorporate in your papers and in your final ethnography. I will review the field note-taking process, but you can use a double-entry process using Word to make two columns. On the left column describe objective descriptions including what you see, hear, experience; and on the right column provide your own subjective interpretations, thoughts, and reflections on what you have experienced.

2. Reading and Note-taking: As you read, I suggest you use a double-entry log of your reading notes, and your thoughts/ reflections of the material. In your notes, remember to include page numbers, key definitions, “direct quotes,” examples, and visuals for later recall.

3. Writing: Pre-writing: Start early on your fieldwork assignments, work on a draft, and let it sit for a day, and then look at it with fresh eyes and revise. Brainstorming: When deciding what to study or who to interview, try a brainstorming exercise with lists or clusters to get your ideas going. Drafting: Write a rough draft in one sitting. Walk away. Rest. Do something else before returning to your work. Revising: Reread your draft and revise. Sharpen your key sentences and your paragraph structure. Look for evidence and examples of your key topics from your interview field notes/recordings. Editing: When satisfied with the content and structure of your paper, read it aloud, slowly, and improve language, typos, and grammatical errors. Ask another person to read and edit your work if necessary. Turn it in on time. Writing is an on-going process; your work does not have to be perfect, but it does need to get done. We will continue to work on improving our interviewing, listening, observing, note-taking, synthesizing, critical thinking, and writing skills throughout the semester. Avoid Procrastinating and get an early start on your reading and writing assignments.

4. Technology in the Classroom: Turn off your cell phones or place them on vibrate/silent mode while in class. No surfing the web, texting or text messaging during class or during exams. If you bring your laptop to class, you are expected to stay on task, take notes and actively participate. If you prefer to surf the web or text during class lectures or discussions, you will be asked to leave the class and will receive a zero for class-participation credit.

E. Grade Breakdown

| Class Attendance, Fieldwork Assignments, Quizzes and Debates in Class | 100 points |
| Midterm Interview/ Portfolio/Autoethnography | 100 points |
| Final Paper Ethnography Proposal Written and Oral Report | 100 points |
| Total | 300 points |

- attach to your paper typed field notes, evidence of hours completed for SL option, maps, or photographs. For ideas on mapping and documenting public spaces, see http://www.nytimes.com/2009/11/17/technology/internet/17maps.html?_r=2&hp&
Grading Scale
90 to 100% = A
80 to 89% = B
70 to 79% = C
60 to 69% = D
59% and below = F

F. Important Note about Academic Integrity and research ethics. Students must present their own efforts and contributions in all assignments and examinations. Cheating, plagiarism, and falsifying research data will not be tolerated. Plagiarism is taking someone else’s work and representing it as one’s own. Honesty and respect for your work and the work of others is essential to your success in this course and in your academic career.

Follow the Code of Ethics of the American Anthropological Association found at Principles of Professional Responsibility at: http://ethics.aaanet.org/ethics-statement-0-preamble/. Understand that as a UTEP student you represent the Department of Sociology and Anthropology, as well as the overall university at all times. Be respectful of yourself, your classmates, your professor, your scholarship, community, and research informants during the length of your research. In conducting fieldwork, practice safety and common sense in selecting your informants and conducting your fieldwork.

G. A Note on the use of Photography and Video. The use of photographs in ethnography is tricky and requires consideration particularly when working with minors, Native American, women of particular faiths, and with “hidden” populations in our society who do not wish to be photographed. Be respectful of people’s privacy, cultural and religious practices. Always seek consent and approval before taking pictures or video-tapping people’s activities. If people wish to have their faces concealed, you will need to make the appropriate modifications to respect their rights.

H. Writing Groups and Writing Center: Students will form small groups to create learning communities at the beginning of the semester to offer one another constructive feedback on your research and writing projects. For individualized support with your writing, I encourage you to visit the University Writing Center located on the second floor in the main entrance of the library.

Through the Ethnography Research will be able to problematizing and propose solutions to the main problems in the Border. Dr. Vázquez. International Bridge Américas (Puente Libre) By. Dr. Vázquez 2017.
